ESTABLISHMENT OF COLLEGES BY THE OXFORD MISSION IN CONNEXION WITH THE DACCA UNIVERSITY.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.

EDUCATION.

CALCUTTA, THE 11TH AUGUST 1914.

RESOLUTION No. 3017.

THE Governor in Council has under consideration a proposal made by the Oxford Mission, to include in the Dacca University two colleges—one for Christian men and one for Christian women. The aim of the Mission is to establish purely residential colleges in which the professors and under-graduates shall be in constant touch with one another, and thereby develop a strong corporate life.

This proposal was referred to a Special Committee with the Hon'ble Mr. Nathan as President. This Committee sat after the report of the Dacca University had been published and had been dealt with by this Government. The Special Committee has supported the proposal of the Oxford Mission and has drawn up a detailed scheme which it commends to Government for adoption. The main features of this scheme are as follows :—

Admission to the colleges shall be restricted to Indian Christians, but Christians may be admitted from any part of India, subject to the regulations of the Dacca University which shall be generally applicable.

The men's college shall provide residential accommodation for 40 students and the whole staff; but the class-rooms, dining-hall and library shall be large enough to hold 150 students, the limit to which the college will be allowed to expand. The subjects taught shall be English, History, Philosophy, Mathematics, Bengali, Syriac, and possibly also Economics, Latin and Greek.

The staff at the outset shall comprise the Principal and Vice-principal members of the Oxford Mission; three European professors, graduates of some university in Great Britain; and three Indian Christians.

The management shall be vested in a governing body consisting of the Superior of the Oxford Mission as president, the Principal of the College as Secretary, the Vice-principal, one of the staff chosen by the other members of the staff, and one member appointed by the Chancellor of the University. Its functions shall be the same as those of the Governing Body of a Government College, except that it shall have power to appoint the staff subject to the sanction of the Council, and shall be responsible for the finances of the college. The accounts shall be subject to audit by the University.

The buildings are estimated to cost Rs. 2,25,000 exclusive of the site which, it is proposed, shall be leased by Government to the Oxford Mission. The Oxford Mission will erect the buildings, aided by the Government building grant of Rs. 75,000. The recurring cost is estimated at about Rs. 16,500 a year and the income from all sources at Rs. 2,500. The fees proposed are Rs. 5 a month in the junior classes and Rs. 6 in the senior. Towards the annual deficit Government are asked to contribute Rs. 5,000, the Oxford Mission paying the balance.

The Women's College, it is proposed, shall provide accommodation for 30 students and the whole staff, viz., a Principal and Vice-principal, both members of the Oxford Mission Sisterhood; and three Englishwomen with English University qualifications.

The management shall, as in the case of the men's college, be entrusted to a Governing Body consisting of the Superior of the Oxford Mission (President), the Principal of the Christian Men's College, and the Principal and Vice-principal and one professor of the Women's College to be selected by the staff.

The Special Committee, while recommending that the Men's College shall be self-contained, has suggested that the Women's College shall be built alongside the Government College for women, and that the two shall have in common a lecture-hall and a recreation pavilion; that the Government College shall specialise in Arts and the Christian College in Science, and that the members of both colleges shall attend joint lectures in all common subjects except English. The teaching in the Christian College would then be confined to English, Mathematics and Science. Students would be prepared for the Preliminary Scientific Examination, and if the anatomical laboratory of the University could be reserved for women students at certain hours, instruction might be carried up to the M.B. standard.

On the above basis the initial cost of the Christian Women's College is estimated at about Rs. 1,60,000, the whole of which Government are asked to pay. The annual recurring cost is estimated at Rs. 9,700, and the income at Rs. 1,200; the fees proposed are the same as in the Government College for women. The Oxford Mission will meet the deficit, if Government will contribute Rs. 4,500 a year.

The College Chapel is to be erected by the Oxford Mission and at its expense; the Committee has recommended that it be not consecrated.

Before finally considering the recommendations of the Committee the Governor in Council has decided to publish the main features of the scheme and now invites comments and criticisms, which will be received by the Secretary to Government in the General (Education) Department up to the 15th September 1914.

In the case of the proposed college for Christian women His Excellency in Council doubts the advisability of amalgamating the Government College and the Christian College and is at present inclined to think that, even at a small sacrifice of economy, it would be better both for the Government College and the Christian College that the Christian College should be distinct and self-contained. On this point opinions from the public are specially invited.

Both as regards the college for Christian men and as regards the college for Christian women it is essential that two points should be clearly understood. The first point is that the colleges will be purely educational institutions. The colleges will have their chapels at which their students, who will all be Christians, will attend Anglican religious services. Outsiders will be welcome to attend these services, but nothing in the nature of proselytism among non-Christian students of other colleges will be allowed, nor is it the desire of the Oxford Mission that any such proselytism should be undertaken. The other point is that there is no intention on the part of Government to place the Oxford Mission, or the Anglican Church, in a privileged position compared with any other Christian body which may now be contemplating, or may contemplate hereafter, the establishment of a college in connection with the Dacca University.

By order of the Governor in Council,

H. F. SAMMAN,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

EXEMPTION OF PROVIDENT FUNDS ESTABLISHED BY GOVERNMENT OR LOCAL BODIES OR PRIVATE EMPLOYERS FOR THE BENEFIT OF THEIR EMPLOYES FROM THE PROVISIONS OF THE PROVIDENT INSURANCE SOCIETIES ACT, 1912.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT.

COMMERCE.

RESOLUTION—No. 2549Com.

THE Provident Insurance Societies Act (V of 1912) defines a Provident Insurance Society as a person who, or body of persons whether corporate or unincorporate which, receives premiums or contributions for insuring money to be paid on the birth, marriage or death of any person or on the happening of such other contingency or class of contingency as may be prescribed and in Notification No. 2372Com., dated 1st August 1914, unemployment or retirement from business has been prescribed as one of such contingencies. Government are advised that all Provident Funds which are established for the benefit of employés and to which the employer contributes in proportion to the contribution from the employé, receive contributions for insuring money to be paid on death, unemployment or retirement from business and are therefore Provident Insurance Societies and subject to the provisions of the Provident Insurance Societies Act. If such a Provident Fund carries on a life assurance business, that is to say, the issue or the undertaking of liability under policies of assurance on human life or the granting of annuities upon human life, and if the contracts so undertaken exceed the limits prescribed in section 3 of the aforesaid Act, the Provident Fund will then cease to be subject to the provisions of that Act and will come under the provisions of the Indian Life Assurance Companies Act (VI of 1912). His Excellency in Council is satisfied that it is unnecessary to subject to the rules and provisions of the Provident Societies Act Provident Funds established by Government or local bodies or private employers for the benefit of their employés provided that the benefits of such fund are restricted to the employés of such local body or private employer, and that the local body or private employer is responsible for the proper working and control of the fund. His Excellency in Council has therefore decided to issue the following notification exempting such Provident Funds, under section 26 of Act V of 1912, from all the provisions of that Act :—

NOTIFICATION.

No. 2550Com.—The 11th August 1914.—In exercise of the power conferred by section 26 of the Provident Insurance Societies Act, 1912 (V of 1912), the Governor in Council is pleased to exempt from all the provisions of the said Act every Provident Insurance Society (to which the said Act applies) which has been established for the benefit of their employés either by—

(a) the Local Government, or
(b) any local authority or private employer :

Provided that this exemption shall not apply in the case of any such society established by a local authority or private employer, unless—

(i) participation in the benefits of the society is restricted to bona fide employés of such local authority or private employer, as the case may be, and (ii) the management of the society is directly controlled by such local authority or private employer.

By order of the Governor in Council,

H. L STEPHENSON,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

First Forecast of the Cotton Crops of Bengal, 1914-15.

[Note.—On the average of the five years ending 1911-12, the area under the Cotton Crop in Bengal represents some 0·2 per cent. of the total area under Cotton in India.]

Character of the Season.—Cotton is cultivated only in the districts of Bankura, Midnapore, Chittagong Hill Tracts and in the State of Hill Tippera. The condition of the early crop in all these districts is reported to be fairly good. Late cotton is grown in Bankura and Midnapore only. In Bankura the late crop has not been sown yet and in Midnapore, where the crop has been sown, it is reported to be doing well.

Area sown.—The area sown with early cotton is reported to be 89,460 acres against the estimate of 84,873 acres last year (now revised) and against the unrevised estimate of 39,098 acres reported at the corresponding date of last year.

Of the late crop only 500 acres have been sown up to date against the same estimate reported at the corresponding date of last year.

DISTRICT REPORTS ON WEATHER AND CROPS

For the week ending on the 10th August 1914.

Summary.—During the week under review seasonable rain fell in the Chittagong Division; also in the Jalpaiguri and Darjeeling districts. Light to moderate rain fell in the rest of the province. More rain is wanted in most of the East Bengal districts for steeping and washing of jute and for transplantation of winter paddy. Harvesting of aus paddy and jute are in progress everywhere. The condition and prospects of the standing crops is fairly good. Cattle-disease is reported from fourteen districts. The average price of common rice has risen by about 1·2 per cent. as compared with that of the previous week.

Simla, the 10th August 1914.

His Excellency the Governor-General in Council has been pleased to direct the publication of the following telegram from the War Office, dated 7th August 1914 :—

Pardon for deserters. His Majesty the King has been graciously pleased to approve of pardons being granted to soldiers who were in a state of desertion from the Regular Forces on the 5th August 1914 and who surrender themselves in the United Kingdom on or before the 4th September 1914, or at any station abroad where there are Regular Forces, on or before the 4th October 1914. They will forfeit all service prior to the date of surrender, but such service may subsequently be restored under the conditions laid down in the King's Regulations for restoration of service forfeited under Section 79 of the Army Act. Deserters who enlist between the 5th August 1914 and 4th October 1914, both days inclusive, in any Colonial Corps which may have been or may be placed at the disposal of the Imperial Government for the War, will be granted a free pardon, and, at the expiration of their service in such Corps, will not be claimed for further service in the Regular Army of the United Kingdom. They will, however, forfeit all service rendered in the Regular Army of the United Kingdom prior to the date of such enlistment. The provisions of this order will not be applied to men who have fraudulently or improperly enlisted.

COMMERCE AND TRADE.

No. 7138.

Simla, the 10th August 1914.

THE following Royal Proclamation setting forth the Law and Policy with regard to Trading with the Enemy, is published for general information in supersession of that published in this Department Notification, No. 6883, dated the 7th August 1914.

By the King.
A PROCLAMATION.

GEORGE R. I.

WHEREAS a state of war exists between US and the German Emperor; and whereas it is contrary to law for any person resident, carrying on business, or being in OUR Dominions to trade or have any commercial intercourse with any person resident, carrying on business, or being in the German Empire without OUR permission:

AND whereas it is therefore expedient and necessary to warn all persons resident, carrying on business, or being in OUR Dominions of their duties and obligations towards US, OUR Crown, and Government:

Now, therefore, We have thought fit, by and with the advice of our Privy Council, to issue this Our Royal Proclamation, and We do hereby warn all persons resident, carrying on business, or being in Our Dominions :

Not to supply to or obtain from the said Empire, any goods, wares, or merchandise, or to supply to or obtain the same from any person resident, carrying on business, or being therein, nor to supply to or obtain from any person any goods, wares, or merchandise for or by way of transmission to or from the said Empire, or to or from any person resident, carrying on business, or being therein, nor to trade in or carry any goods, wares, or merchandise destined for or coming from the said Empire, or for or from any person resident, carrying on business, or being therein :

Nor to permit any British ship to leave for, enter, or communicate with any port or place of the said Empire :

Nor to make or enter into any new marine, life, fire, or other policy or contract of insurance with or for the benefit of any person resident, carrying on business, or being in the said Empire, nor under any existing policy or contract of insurance to make any payment to or for the benefit of any such person in respect of any loss due to the belligerent action of His Majesty's forces or of those of any Ally of His Majesty :

Nor to enter into any new commercial, financial, or other contract or obligation with or for the benefit of any person resident, carrying on business, or being in the said Empire :

And We do hereby further warn all persons that whoever in contravention of the law shall commit, aid, or abet any of the aforesaid acts will be liable to such penalties as the law provides :

And We hereby declare that any transactions to, with, or for the benefit of any person resident, carrying on business, or being in the said Empire, which are not treasonable and are not for the time being expressly prohibited by Us either by virtue of this Proclamation or otherwise, and which but for the existence of the state of war aforesaid would be lawful, are hereby permitted :

And We hereby declare that the expression "person" in this Proclamation shall include any body of persons corporate or unincorporate, and that where any person has or had an interest in houses or branches of business in some other country as well as in Our Dominions or in the said Empire (as the case may be), this Proclamation shall not apply to the trading or commercial intercourse carried on by such person solely from or by such houses or branches of business in such other country.

Given at Our Court at Buckingham Palace this fifth day of August in the year of Our Lord one thousand nine hundred and fourteen, and in the fifth year of Our Reign.

GOD SAVE THE KING.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 6675P.—The 15th August, 1914.—Whereas a state of war exists between His Majesty and the German Emperor and the Emperor of Austria-Hungary;

And whereas the Governor General in Council has, by Notification No. 1424, dated the 12th August, 1914 (published in the Gazette of India, Extraordinary of the same date), been pleased to direct that the exemptions made by entry (13) in Schedule I to the Indian Arms Rules, 1909, in favour of Europeans who are not natural born or naturalized subjects of His Majesty shall not extend to any subjects of the German or Austrian Empires;

Now therefore, in exercise of the powers severally conferred by sections 18 and 26 of the Indian Arms Act, 1878 (XI of 1878), the Governor in Council is pleased to order—

(a) that every license under the said Act held by any subject of either of the said Empires being or residing in any portion of the Presidency of Bengal shall forthwith be deemed to be cancelled, and

(b) that all arms, ammunition or military stores in the possession of any such subject in any portion of the said Presidency shall, notwithstanding that such subject may be licensed to possess the same, be seized by such officer as the Governor in Council may authorise in this behalf, and be detained until further orders.

No. 6676P.—The 15th August 1914.—The following Order in Council is published for general information.

J. G. CUMMING,
Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

ORDER IN COUNCIL.

At the Court at Buckingham Palace; the 12th day of August 1914.

PRESENT:

THE KING'S MOST EXCELLENT MAJESTY IN COUNCIL.

HIS MAJESTY being mindful now that a state of war exists between this country and Austria-Hungary of the recognition accorded to the practice of granting "days of grace" to enemy merchant ships by the Convention relative to the Status of Enemy Merchant Ships at the Outbreak of Hostilities, signed at the Hague on the 18th October, 1907, and being desirous of lessening, so far as may be practicable, the injury caused by war to peaceful and unsuspecting commerce, is pleased, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, to order, and it is hereby ordered, as follows :—

1. From and after the publication of this Order no enemy merchant ship shall be allowed to depart, except in accordance with the provisions of this Order, from any British port or from any ports in any Native State in India, or in any of His Majesty's Protectorates, or in any State under His Majesty's protection or in Cyprus.

2. In the event of one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State being satisfied by information reaching him not later than midnight on Saturday, the fifteenth day of August 1914, that the treatment accorded to British merchant ships and their cargoes which at the date of the outbreak of hostilities were in the ports of the enemy or which subsequently entered them is not less favourable than the treatment accorded to enemy merchant ships by Articles 3 to 7 of this Order, he shall notify the Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury and the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty accordingly, and public notice thereof shall forthwith be given in the "London Gazette," and Articles 3 to 8 of this Order shall thereupon come into full force and effect.

3. Subject to the provisions of this Order, enemy merchant ships which—

(i) at the date of the outbreak of hostilities were in any port in which this Order applies; or shall be allowed up till midnight (Greenwich Mean Time), on Saturday, the twenty-second day of August 1914 for loading or unloading their cargoes and for departing from such port:

(ii) cleared from their last port before the declaration of war, and, after the outbreak of hostilities, enter a port to which this Order applies, with no knowledge of the war:

Provided that such vessels shall not be allowed to ship any contraband of war, and any contraband of war already shipped on such vessels must be discharged.

4. Enemy merchant ships which cleared from their last port before the declaration of war, and which with no knowledge of the war arrive at a port to which this Order applies after the expiry of the time allowed by Article 3 for loading or unloading cargo and for departing, and are permitted to enter, may be required to depart either immediately, or within such time as may be considered necessary by the Customs Officer of the port for the unloading of such cargo as they may be required or specially permitted to discharge:

Provided that such vessels may, as a condition of being allowed to discharge cargo, be required to proceed to any other specified British port, and shall there be allowed such time for discharge as the Customs Officer of that port may consider to be necessary:

Provided also that, if any cargo on board such vessel is contraband of war or is requisitioned under Article 5 of this Order, she may be required before departure to discharge such cargo within such time as the Customs Officer of the port may consider to be necessary; or she may be required to proceed, if necessary under escort, to any other of the ports specified in Article 1 of this Order, and shall there discharge the contraband under the like conditions.

5. His Majesty reserves the right recognised by the said Convention to requisition at any time subject to payment of compensation enemy cargo on board any vessel to which Articles 3 and 4 of this Order apply.

6. The privileges accorded by Articles 3 and 4 are not to extend to cable ships, or to sea-going ships designed to carry oil fuel, or to ships whose tonnage exceeds 5,000 tons gross, or whose speed is 14 knots or over, regarding which the entries in Lloyd's Register shall be conclusive for the purposes of this article. Such vessels will remain liable on adjudication by the Prize Court to detention during the period of the war, or to requisition, in accordance, in either case, with the Convention aforesaid. The said privileges will also not extend to merchant ships which show by their build that they are intended for conversion into warships, as such vessels are outside the scope of the said Convention, and are liable on adjudication by the Prize Court to condemnation as prize.

7. Enemy merchant ships allowed to depart under Articles 3 and 4 will be provided with a pass indicating the port to which they are to proceed, and the route they are to follow.

8. A merchant ship which, after receipt of such a pass, does not follow the course indicated therein will be liable to capture.

9. If no information reaches one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State by the day and hour aforementioned to the effect that the treatment accorded to British merchant ships and their cargoes which were in the ports of the enemy at the date of the outbreak of hostilities, or which subsequently entered them, is, in his opinion, not less favourable than that accorded to enemy merchant ships by Articles 3 to 8 of this Order, every enemy merchant ship which, on the outbreak of hostilities, was in any port to which this Order applies, and also every enemy merchant ship which cleared from its last port before the declaration of war, but which, with no knowledge of the war, enters a port to which this Order applies, shall, together with the cargo on board thereof, be liable to capture, and shall be brought before the Prize Court forthwith for adjudication.

10. In the event of information reaching one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State that British merchant ships which cleared from their last port before the declaration of war, but are met with by the enemy at sea after the outbreak of hostilities, are allowed to continue their voyage without interference with either the ship or the cargo, or after capture are released with or without proceedings for adjudication in the Prize Court, or are to be detained during the war or requisitioned in lieu of condemnation as prize, he shall notify the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty accordingly, and shall publish a notification thereof in the "London Gazette," and in that event, but not otherwise, enemy merchant ships which cleared from their last port before the declaration of war, and are captured after the outbreak of hostilities and brought before the Prize Courts for adjudication, shall be released or detained or requisitioned in such cases and upon such terms as may be directed in the said notification in the "London Gazette."

11. Neutral cargo, other than contraband of war, on board an enemy merchant ship which is not allowed to depart from a port to which this Order applies, shall be released.

12. In accordance with the provisions of Chapter III of the Convention relative to certain Restrictions on the Exercise of the Right of Capture in Maritime War, signed at the Hague on the 18th October, 1907, an undertaking must, whether the merchant ship is allowed to depart or not, be given in writing by each of the officers and members of the crew of such vessel, who is of enemy nationality, that he will not, after the conclusion of the voyage for which the pass is issued, engage while hostilities last in any service connected with the operation of the war. If any such officer is of neutral nationality, an undertaking must be given in writing that he will not serve, after the conclusion of the voyage for which the pass is issued, on any enemy ship while hostilities last. No undertaking is to be required from members of the crew who are of neutral nationality.

Officers or members of the crew declining to give the undertakings required by this Article will be detained as prisoners of war.

And the Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury, the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, and each of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, and all Governors, Officers, and Authorities whom it may concern are to give the necessary directions herein as to them may respectively appertain.

ALMERIC FITZROY.

NOTE TO ARTICLE 3.—Railway Standard time for all Ports in India and Burma will be adopted, viz.,—

India.—5-30 A.M. succeeding the midnight referred to in Article 3 of the Order in Council.

Burma.—6-30 A.M. succeeding the midnight referred to in Article 3 of the Order in Council.

No. 6781P.—The 17th August 1914.—The following Proclamation, is republished for general information.

J. G. CUMMING,
Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

PROCLAMATION.

A Proclamation extending the scope of certain existing Proclamations and a certain Order in Council connected with the war.

Whereas on the fourth day of August one thousand nine hundred and fourteen a state of war came into existence between us on the one hand and the German Empire on the other; And whereas we did on the same date and on the fifth day of August one thousand nine hundred and fourteen issue certain Proclamations and Orders in Council connected with such state of war; And whereas a state of war now exists between us on the one hand and the Dual Monarchy of Austria-Hungary on the other; And whereas it is therefore desirable to extend the scope of certain of the Proclamations and Orders in Council aforesaid: Now therefore we have thought fit by and with the advice of our Privy Council to issue this our Royal Proclamation declaring and it is hereby declared as follows:—

1. The Proclamation warning all our subjects and all persons resident or being in our dominions from contributing to or participating in or assisting in the floating of any loan raised on behalf of the German Government or from advancing money to or entering into any contract or dealings whatsoever with the said Government or otherwise aiding, abetting or assisting the said Government shall be deemed as from this date to apply to all loans raised on behalf of or contracts or dealings entered into with or to aiding, abetting or assisting the Austro-Hungarian Government.

2. The Proclamation on trading with the enemy shall be deemed as from this date to prohibit with the Dual Monarchy of Austria-Hungary all commercial intercourse which under the said Proclamation is prohibited with the German Empire and for this purpose such proclamation shall be read as if throughout the operative portion thereof the words "either the German Empire or the Dual Monarchy of Austria-Hungary" were substituted for the words "the German Empire."

3. (1) In the Order in Council issued with reference to the departure from our ports of enemy's vessels which at the outbreak of hostilities were in any such port or which subsequently entered the same the word "enemy" as applied to either ships or cargo shall be deemed as from this date to include Austro-Hungarian ships or cargo.

(2) In the application of this article to Austro-Hungarian ships the date Saturday, the 15th day of August, shall be substituted for the date mentioned in article 2 of the said Order in Council and the date Saturday, the 22nd day of August, shall be substituted for the date mentioned in article 3 of the said Order in Council.

4. The Proclamation specifying the articles which it is our intention to treat as contraband of war during the war with Germany shall be deemed to specify the Articles which it is our intention to treat as contraband of war during the war with Austria-Hungary.

5. In the Proclamation forbidding the carriage in British vessels from any foreign port to any other foreign port of any article comprised in the list of contraband of war issued by us unless the shipowner shall have first satisfied himself that the articles are not intended ultimately for use in the enemy country, the words "Enemy country" shall be deemed as from this date to include the Dual Monarchy of Austria-Hungary.

Given at our Court of Buckingham Palace this twelfth day of August in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and fourteen and in the fifth year of our Reign.

GOD SAVE THE KING.

Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

NOTIFICATION.

Simla, the 14th August, 1914

An Ordinance to provide for the impressment of vessels for the service of His Majesty.

ORDINANCE No. II OF 1914.

WHEREAS an emergency has arisen which makes it necessary to provide for the impressment of vessels for the service of His Majesty;

Now, therefore, in exercise of the power conferred by section 23 of the Indian Councils Act, 1861, the Governor General is pleased to make and promulgate the following Ordinance:— (24 & 25 Vict., c 67)

Short title and extent.

1. (1) This Ordinance may be called the Impressment of Vessels Ordinance, 1914.

(2) It extends to the Provinces of Madras, Bombay, Bengal and Burma.

Definitions.

2. In this Ordinance unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context—

(a) the expression "gazetted officer" has the same meaning as in the Indian Marine Act, 1887; (XIV of 1887)

(b) "owner of a vessel" includes the agent of any such owner in any port in which such vessel may be; and

(c) "vessel" means any ship or boat or any other description of vessel used for navigation, and includes all tackle, appliances, coal. stores and other moveable property of any description on or appertaining to such vessel, except cargo and the personal effects of passengers or of the officers and crew of such vessel.

Power to impress vessels for His Majesty's Service.

3. The Governor General in Council may, by notification in the Gazette of India, empower the Director or any gazetted officer of the Indian Marine Service to impress temporarily for the service of His Majesty vessels in any specified port.

Requisition upon owners and masters of vessels required for such service.

4. (1) Any officer empowered under section 3 may issue a requisition in writing to the owner of any vessel in the port specified in the notification or in the absence of such owner from such port, or if the name and address of such owner cannot after reasonable inquiry be ascertained, to the master of any such vessel to furnish the same for the service of His Majesty.

(2) An officer making a requisition under sub-section (1) shall state therein, if possible, the approximate period for which the vessel will be required, and

(3) Any such officer may at the time of making the requisition, or subsequently, exempt therefrom any tackle, appliances, coal, stores or other moveable property on or appertaining to any vessel requisitioned.

Payment of compensation for vessels impressed and assessment thereof.

5. (1) Compensation shall be paid by the Government of India to the owner of any vessel impressed under this Ordinance.

(2) Such compensation shall be assessed by agreement between the officer making the requisition and the owner of the vessel impressed, or failing such agreement, in such manner as may be prescribed by the Governor General in Council by rules in this behalf.

Powers of requisitioning officer in case of failure of owner, etc., to furnish vessel.

6. If the owner, or master of any vessel requisitioned for the service of His Majesty under the provisions of section 4 fails to furnish such vessel in accordance with the terms of the requisition, the officer by whom the requisition was made may, whether the compensation payable in respect of the impressment of such vessel has been assessed or not, seize, retain and use such vessel for the service of His Majesty, using such force as may be required, and all magistrates and police-officers shall be bound to render such assistance as he may reasonably demand in seizing and retaining a vessel under this section.

Bar of jurisdiction of courts.

7. No requisition made under this Ordinance shall be called in question in any court, and save as herein provided no liability civil or criminal shall be incurred by any officer of Government by reason of anything done or purporting to be done in accordance with the provisions of this Ordinance.

Saving of powers conferred by Proclamations or Orders in Council of His Majesty.

8. Nothing in this Ordinance shall be deemed—

(a) to affect or derogate from any power of seizure or requisition exercised in pursuance of any Proclamation or Order in Council of His Majesty; or

(b) to authorise any seizure or requisition in contravention of any such Proclamation or Order in Council.

HARDINGE OF PENSHURST,
Viceroy and Governor General.

W. H. VINCENT,
Secretary to the Govt. of India.

[Fifth publication].

The 21st July 1914.

No. 6.—Notification.—The following draft of (1) rules and (2) Schedule of rates of tolls, which, in exercise of the powers conferred by sections 6 and 11 of the Canals Act, 1864 (Bengal Act V of 1864), and in supersession of all previous notifications on the subject, the Governor in Council intends to make and fix for the line of navigation known as the Madaripur Bhil channel, as defined in Notification No. 128, dated the 26th June 1900, is published, as required by section 12 of that Act, for the information of persons likely to be affected thereby.

II. The draft will be taken into consideration on or after the 15th September 1914, and any objection or suggestion which may be received by the undersigned before that date will be duly considered.

A. C. J. DE LOTBINIÈRE, LT.-COL., R.E.,

DRAFT RULES.

1. Every vessel passing through the line of navigation known as the Madaripur Bhil channel shall stop at the prescribed toll-stations as notified in the Schedule of tolls for the purpose of assessment or check of toll charges.

2. For the purposes of these rules, vessels other than rafts, timbers, bamboos or other floating material shall be divided into two classes as below:—

Class I.—To include all vessels of the usual native types of build.

Class II.—To include all steamers, flats and barges, and such other square-built boats as should, in the opinion of the Collector of Tolls, be included.

3. The net tonnage of every vessel of class I, whether laden or empty, shall, for the purposes of these rules, be determined by the following measurements:—

A.—The product of one quarter the length of the vessel from stem to stern, measured along the water-line, multiplied by the interior greatest breadth of the vessel, multiplied by the interior greatest depth from the water-line to the bottom of the vessel, is to be taken as equal to the number of maunds upon which toll shall be levied.

B.—The measurement of the length is to be made in feet, rejecting inches; the measurement of the breadth and depth is to be made in feet and quarters of a foot, rejecting portions of less than a quarter of a foot.

C.—The maundage on which tollage shall be charged shall be a simple multiple of 12½ maunds, rejecting any remainder by which the maundage, calculated as above, may exceed such simple multiple.

4. For vessels in class II the tonnage shall be determined as follows:—

The tonnage of steamers shall be the registered tonnage as given in the certificate of survey of the steamer.

Toll shall be levied on the actual weight of cargo carried on steamers, flats, barges and other vessels included in this class, as declared in the manifests.

When the registered tonnage of a steamer, or the manifest for cargo of a flat is not available, the tonnage will be taken as arrived at under rule 3.

For square-built boats the total maundage, as determined under rules for class I, shall be increased by half, and for steamers one-third of the total maundage shall be deducted for engine space.

5. Every vessel shall be furnished at the toll-station of entry with a ticket on which the name of the serang, manjhi or other person in charge of the vessel, the date of entry, the maundage of the vessel, the nature and weight of the cargo it contains and the amount of toll charged shall be entered.

6. This ticket may be demanded and checked by any navigation officer while the vessel is within the toll-limits of the Bhil channel, and must be kept on board and at hand for that purpose. The ticket must be given up at the exit toll-station. If the ticket is not produced on demand by a Canal officer, such officer shall assess the amount of toll payable and the vessel will be liable to seizure and detention under the provisions of section 9 of the Act until such sum is realized.

7. Vessels leaving the channel between two toll-stations shall obtain permission from the toll collector of the nearest toll-station and give up the ticket to that officer while leaving the channel.

8. A vessel. which has been detained under these rules or under section 9 of the Act, may not be removed from the channel without the order of the collector of tolls until the toll due has been paid. During such detention the manjhi, owner or agent must make arrangements for the safety of the vessel and cargo.

9. All tolls are payable on demand and shall be paid at the toll-station before a vessel is permitted to proceed. Provided that the collector of tolls appointed under section 8 of the Act may, at his discretion, permit vessels belonging to individuals or firms of recognised standing to proceed without prepayment, on an undertaking that the bills for tollage due shall be liquidated monthly on presentation.

10. The term "NAVIGATION OFFICER," as used in rule 6, shall include the collector of tolls appointed under section 8 of the Act, and the officer, or the subordinate duly authorised by such officer, of the PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT, in charge of the subdivision or section within which the channel is situated.

11. Duplicates of lost tickets will be granted by the toll collector who originally issued the ticket on payment of a fee of one-fourth of the amount of toll payable, subject to a maximum of one rupee and a minimum of four annas. The duplicate will be issued only when the toll collector is satisfied about the identity of the boat.

12. No person shall wilfully or negligently allow a vessel to sink in the channel.

13. (1) In every case of a sunken vessel whether due to negligence or otherwise, the Supervisor and his subordinates shall offer every assistance in removing the same.

(2) If, three days after the occurrence of a wreck, it is seen that prompt measures are not being taken by the owner to remove the sunken vessel from the line of navigation, the Supervisor and his subordinates shall make their own arrangements for the removal of the same at the expense of the owner.

14. When a sunken vessel has been recovered, the Supervisor shall cause notices to be posted at the toll offices, or other prominent places, calling on those concerned to pay to the collector of tolls all toll or demurrage which may be due, as well as the expenses incurred in the recovery of the vessel and cargo. Should the sum due be not paid within fifteen days of the date of notice, the boat and its furniture, or so much of it as may be necessary for the recovery of the dues, will be sold under the procedure directed in section 9 of the Act.

15. The purchaser of a vessel sold under the provisions of section 9 of the Act shall have the right to take it out of the channel on the day of purchase, or within such time as may be allowed by the collector of tolls, without payment of tolls.

16. When any laden vessel, which has sunk, has been recovered. or when any laden vessel has been seized under the provisions of the Act or of these rules, the Supervisor shall give immediate notice of the recovery or seizure to the owner of the cargo or his agent, requiring the removal of the cargo without delay, and informing him that he will be required to pay all expenses necessary for the proper custody and storage of the cargo until removed.

17. If the Supervisor be unable to ascertain the name and place of business or the abode of the owner of the cargo of such vessel, the notice prescribed in rule 16 shall be effected by a notice exhibited in his office, and by advertisement in at least one English and one vernacular Calcutta newspaper.

18. Lights and Signals.—All vessels, whether travelling or moored in the channel, must, between sunset and sunrise, carry a white light in a lantern on the fore-part of the vessel where it can be distinctly seen from all sides. All steam-vessels in motion shall carry the lights prescribed by the Board of Trade regulations. Barges or boats attached to a steam-vessel, whether in motion or moored, shall carry the light prescribed in the first paragraph of this rule.

19. Every vessel proceeding in the channel must limit her speed to six miles an hour from the 15th October to the 10th July, and to eight miles an hour from the 11th July to the 14th October.

20. For any infringement of rule 6, 7, 8, 9, 12, 13, 14 16, 17, 18 or 19, the person in charge of the vessel or other persons in fault shall, on conviction before a Magistrate, be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs.50 or Rs. 5 a day for any continuing infringement.

12. Excess tolls.—If a vessel's tonnage is found to be greater than at entry due either to loading fresh cargo in the route, or from any other cause, the difference of toll at the highest rate will be leviable at the exit station.

13. Demurrage.—Vessels will be allowed three days for the passage through the route, with an additional day for each 50 maunds of tonnage. Demurrage at the rate of one-fourth of the original amount of toll per diem will be levied on vessels remaining in the channel in excess of the above period.

14. Monthly Tickets.—Monthly tickets at eight times the ordinary toll will be issued to boats of 100 maunds and under. Such boats should be branded with a number at the Toll Offices at a charge of eight annas each before a monthly ticket is issued to it.

II.—Tolls are to be levied at Tentulia in the 3rd mile from the Madhumati river and at Jolirpar in the 18th mile from the Madhumati river.

NOTE.—In the case of items 2, 4 and 6 of the above Schedule the maundage to be charged will be that shown by the manifests of cargo. In the absence of any such manifest and in the case of item 7, the maundage will be that determined by measurement in accordance with the rules in force for this line of navigation.

All vessels whether, of Government or private owners, are liable for toll except those exempted by the provisions of the Bengal Government Circular Order No. 11., dated the 11th July 1906.

RAILWAY DEPARTMENT.

The 15th August 1914.

BARASET-BASIRHAT TRAMWAY, PATTIPOOKER-BELGATCHIA EXTENSION.

No. 12R.—Notification.—It is hereby notified that an application has been duly made to the Local Government of Bengal by Messrs. Martin & Co., of Calcutta, for and on behalf of a company called The Baraset-Basirhat Light Railway Company, Limited, for sanction to the construction of an extension of the existing Baraset-Basirhat Light Railway, from the existing station of that line at Pattipooker to the Tramway terminus at Belgatchia within the district of the 24-Parganas, and whereas it appears to the Local Government expedient and proper that the said application should be granted, the Local Government, in pursuance of section 5 of the Bengal Tramways Act III of 1883, make the following order.

H. H. GREEN,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

PRELIMINARY.

Short title.

1. This order may be cited as the Baraset-Basirhat-Belgatchia Extension Order.

Interpretation clause.

2. The several words and expressions to which meanings are assigned by the Bengal Tramways Act, 1883, have in this order the same respective meanings:

Provided that in this order the expression "the tramway" or "the undertaking" shall mean the tramway and works and undertaking by this order authorised, except where the context may require a different meaning, and the words "the Act" shall mean the said Bengal Tramways Act, 1883.

Law applicable to the tramway

3. (1) The tramway authorised by this order shall be constructed, maintained, and worked, subject to the provisions of the Act, of the rules, from time to time, in force under the Act, and of this order, and of any other order or orders, rules or regulations, from time to time, laid down or authorised in connection with the working of the Baraset-Basirhat Tramway, now called the Baraset-Basirhat Light Railway

(2) No powers or rights shall be deemed to have been conferred on the Promoters or to have been relinquished by Government except as in this order expressly provided.

Promoters and Company

4. The Baraset-Basirhat Light Railway Company, Limited, shall be the Promoters for the purposes of this order, and are in this order referred to as "the Promoters."

CONSTRUCTION OF TRAMWAY.

Authority to Promoters to construct tramway

5. The Promoters shall construct and maintain, subject to the provisions specified in this order, and in accordance, also, with plans and sections deposited by the Promoters with the Local Government, the tramway hereinafter described, with all proper establishments, rails, bearings, stations, offices, works, rolling-stock, and conveniences connected with the tramway or required for the purposes thereof.

Dates for commencing and completing the tramway.

6. (1) Subject to any extension of time that the Local Government may see fit to grant, the Promoters shall substantially commence the construction of the said tramway within a month from the date of this order, and shall complete and equip the same in every respect for opening and working for traffic to the satisfaction of the Local Government within six months from the date of this order.

(2) In the event of the said Promoters failing to commence the construction, and to complete and equip the tramway as provided in the first paragraph of this clause, then and in any such case the Local Government shall be at liberty to revoke this order, and the Local Government shall thereafter be at liberty to enter into any arrangements with any other person or persons for the construction of the said extension; and in the event of this order being revoked by reason of the said Promoters failing to complete and equip, and open for traffic, the said tramway within the period of six months from the date of this order, the Local Government shall have the option of taking over all the permanent-way and rolling-stock of the tramway at a reasonable valuation to be determined by the Local Government: and in the event of the Local Government exercising this option, all the other works and buildings of the tramway may be dealt with under the provisions of the Act relating to the discontinuance of tramways as a tramway whereof the discontinuance has been proved to the satisfaction of the Local Government.

If, however, the Local Government do not desire to exercise the option of taking over the permanent-way and rolling stock of the tramway as herein provided, then and in such case the tramway, including the permanent-way, the rolling-stock, and all the buildings and works of every kind connected therewith may be dealt with under the provisions of the Act relating to the discontinuance of tramways as a tramway whereof the discontinuance has been proved to the satisfaction of the Local Government.

Description of the tramway authorized.

7. The tramway authorized by this order is a single line, with necessary passing places, within the district of the 24-Parganas, starting from the existing station of the Baraset-Basirhat Light Railway at Pattipooker and running along the south side of the 5th and 6th miles of the Calcutta-Jessore Road to the tramway terminus at Belgatchia, a distance of about 5,450 feet.

Promoters authorised to use the road subject to limitation.

8. The Promoters may use for the construction of the tramway, but not for the purposes of any building or erection connected therewith, one side of the road over which the tramway is to run, 9 feet in width.

In cases where there are no buildings on that side of the road on which the tramway is laid, the said width of 9 feet shall be measured from the gutter on that side of the road, or where the road is in embankment, from the edge of such embankment; and in cases where there are buildings on that side of the road, the said width shall be measured from such point on that side as in the opinion of the Government Engineer in charge of the road is safe and proper:

Provided always that—

(1) there shall nowhere be a less width of road clear of the inner rail of the tramway than 20 feet;

(2) if any addition to the existing width of the metalled surface of the road is rendered necessary in order to comply with the terms of this order, or if any addition to or alteration of any bridge or culvert is, in the opinion of the Government Engineer in charge of the road, rendered necessary by the tramway, the same shall be carried out by, and at the cost of, the Promoters to the satisfaction of the said Engineer:

(3) at no point on the metalled road shall there be more than one line of rails;

(4) the metalling of the roadway shall not be interfered with more than is absolutely necessary for the proper construction of the tramway; and in all cases where such metalling has been so interfered with, it shall be repaired and made good with all reasonable promptitude by, and at the cost of, the Promoters to the satisfaction of the Government Engineer in charge of the road.

Bridges.

9. In all cases where, in the opinion of the Government Engineer in charge of the road, the existing road bridges or culverts are not sufficiently strong to carry the tramway, the Promoters shall make at their own cost such additions to or alterations of any such bridges or culverts as may be required by the said Engineer, and the work shall be carried out and completed to his satisfaction:

Provided that the Promoters may, at their option, construct at their own cost, for the purposes of the tramway, separate bridges or culverts of such design and in such manner as shall first be approved by an Engineer or other officer duly appointed in this behalf by the Local Government, and shall complete the same to the satisfaction of the said officer.

Acquisition of additional land required by Promoters. Disposal of land not required by the Promoters.

10. (1) Such additional land (over and above that which the Local Government have agreed to grant free to the Promoters) as may be required by the Promoters and sanctioned by the Local Government as necessary for the purposes of the tramway shall be acquired by the Local Government on behalf of the Promoters under the Land Acquisition Act, I of 1894, and the cost of acquiring such land shall be met by the Promoters.

(2) The Promoters may, from time to time, with the approval of the Local Government, but not otherwise, sell or otherwise dispose of any land acquired by the Local Government on their behalf which may no longer be required for the purposes of the undertaking.

Gauge of tramway and provisions regarding grooved or double rails.

11. The tramway shall be constructed on a gauge of 2 feet 6 inches. In villages and at all level-crossings of district or village roads, and wherever the width of metalled road left clear of the inner rail of the tramway is less than 20 feet and the tramway is not fenced, either grooved or double rails shall be used, and at all such places the metal of the road shall be maintained by the Promoters flush with the level of the top of the rails. At all places where double rails are used, the Promoters shall keep such rails properly secured to each other by distance pieces placed at regular intervals to the satisfaction of the Government Engineer in charge of the road.

Standard dimensions to be observed.

12. Without prejudice to the powers conferred on the Local Authorities by section 14 of the Act, as regards the type of cars and carriages to be used on the tramway and the brakes and other appliances with which they are to be furnished, the standard weights and dimensions of rails, sleepers, rolling-stock, and other equipment of the tramway are to be as set forth and described in the Government of India List of Standard Dimensions or as previously adopted under due sanction on the Baraset-Basirhat Light Railway. The Local Government, however, reserve to themselves the right to revise the said standard weights and dimensions, and the special sanction of the Local Government must be obtained before the materials, etc., required for the tramway are ordered.

Stations and buildings.

13. The Local Government shall have the power of determining, from time to time, the situation and dimension of all stations, station-yards, offices, warehouses, houses for employés, conveniences and works to be constructed in connection with or as part of the tramway.

Fencing.

14. The Promoters shall, within three calendar months of being called upon by the Local Government to do so, be bound to provide at their own expense fencing on both sides of the tramway, either along the whole or any part of its length, and shall carry out and complete the work in such manner and in such time as the Local Government may direct.

Provision of level-crossings, gates, and gatemen.

15. (1) The Promoters bind themselves to provide, at their own cost and to the satisfaction of the Local Government, suitable level-crossings wherever the tramway crosses district and village roads, and at such other places as the Local Government or any officer appointed by the Local Government in this behalf may, from time to time, direct.

(2) The Promoters shall, at their own cost, provide gates with gate-keepers' lodges, and shall maintain, at their own cost, gate-keepers at such level-crossings or bridges crossed by the tramway as the Local Government may, from time to time, direct.

Provision of additional crossing places, etc., required by Promoters.

16. Subject to the previous sanction of the Local Government, in each case, the Promoters may hereafter from time to time make, at their own cost, such crossings, passing places, junctions, and other works as may be required, in addition to those specified in their application for this Order or authorised by this Order, and all such works shall, when sanctioned by the Local Government, be completed to the satisfaction of the Local Government, and all the provisions of this Order shall so far as applicable apply to such works.

17. The Promoters shall, at their own cost, construct and maintain all such stations, passing-places, sidings, junctions and all other works, in addition to those specified in or authorised by this Order, and shall also employ and maintain all such establishments, in addition to those specified in or authorised by this Order, as the Local Government may, from time to time consider to be expedient for the safe and efficient working of the tramway, or for the convenience and safety of the public and of the traffic of the roadway. All such additional works shall be completed to the satisfaction of the Local Government, and all the provisions of this Order shall so far as applicable apply to such works.

Additional works required by Local Government.

18. The Promoters shall, when required by the Local Government construct and maintain, at their own cost, accommodation at railway stations for Post offices and quarters for the postal staff, at a rental not exceeding 7½ per cent. per annum on the actual cost of the buildings excluding the cost of land occupied by them.

Accommodation at railway station for Post offices and quarters for postal staff.

MOTIVE POWER, SPEED AND SIGNALS.

19. The vehicles used on the tramway may be moved by steam-power. The outside cylinder type of locomotive may be used.

Power to be used by the tramway.

20. The speed of trains on the tramway shall not exceed 12 miles, or such other speed as may, from time to time, be authorised by the Local Government: Provided always that until the whole line is fenced on both sides, the maximum speed shall not exceed 10 miles an hour and the engines shall be fitted with cow-catchers similar to those on the Baraset-Basirhat Light Railway.

Speed of trains.

21. All the permanent and crossing stations of the tramway shall be provided with outer signals, located at such distance from the facing points as shall be laid down by the Local Government. The Local Government, however, reserve to themselves the right to order further signals to be provided at such stations, and other places as is considered necessary by the Government Inspector of Railways.

Signals.

In thick, foggy, or tempestuous weather detonator signals shall be used in addition to the ordinary day and night signals, and all signals in use on the tramway shall be constructed, worked and used in accordance with such orders as may be prescribed, from time to time, by the Local Government.

MAINTENANCE AND WORKING OF TRAMWAY.

22. The Promoters shall at all times maintain and keep in good condition and repair to the satisfaction of the Local Government, or of any officer duly appointed in this behalf by the Local Government, all way, works, rolling stock, and appliances appertaining to the tramway; and shall maintain the tramway, way, works, rolling stock, and appliances, and shall work the same in such manner as will, to the satisfaction of the Government Engineer in charge of the road, avoid all risks of danger or annoyance to the ordinary road traffic.

Maintenance of way, works, and stock.

23 (1) The Promoters shall maintain and keep in repair, to the satisfaction of the Government Engineer in charge of the road, so as not to interfere in any way with the efficient drainage of the road, the portion of the road on the side on which the tramway is laid; such portion shall include the width of the side of the road on which the tramway is laid from a point 4 feet outside the line of the tramway which is nearest to the centre of the road to the bottom of the slope of the embankment, on that side of the road where the road is in embankment or to the top of slope of the cutting on that side where the road is in cutting, or where there are buildings to the point to be determined under the provisions of clause 8 of this Order by the Government Engineer in charge of the road.

Maintenance of portion of road over which tramway runs

The said portion of the road shall be ballasted by, and at the cost of, the Promoters, who shall also, at their own cost, alter the position or level of the tramway and of the said portion of the road to suit future alterations in the road or such future alterations in the tramway as may be approved by the Local Government, and shall forthwith repair, make good, and reinstate, to the satisfaction of the Government Engineer aforesaid, any other portion of the road which shall at any time be in any way damaged by reason of any fault of the Promoters or of any defect in the said tramway or its rolling stock or of any accident to or upon the tramway. The gutter or drain on the side of the road on which the tramway is laid, as the same at present exists or shall hereafter be constructed at the cost of the Local Government, shall likewise be maintained in efficient order by and at the cost of the Promoters.

Inspection of works, accounts, &c.

24. The undertaking and all works, stock, appliances and accounts appertaining thereto shall at all times be open to the inspection and examination of any person or persons whom the Local Government may appoint for that purpose, and the Promoters shall afford all reasonable facilities for inspection or examination to the officer making it.

Closing of tramway and disuse of rolling-stock by order of Local Government.

25. When after inspection of the tramway or portion of the tramway or any rolling-stock used thereon, the officer making the inspection under clause 24 of this Order reports to the Local Government that, in his opinion, the use of the tramway or any portion thereof, or of any specified rolling-stock, will be attended with danger to the public using it, the Local Government may direct that the tramway or portion thereof be closed for the public conveyance of passengers, or that the rolling-stock so specified shall no longer be used, as the case may be.

Tramway not to be reopened without sanction.

26. When the tramway or any portion of the tramway has been closed under clause 25 of this Order, it shall not be reopened for the public conveyance of passengers unless and until it has been inspected by the officer referred to in clause 24 of this order and its opening sanctioned by the Local Government.

Rolling-stock not to be used again without sanction.

27. When the Local Government has, under clause 25 of this Order, prohibited the use of any rolling-stock, the said rolling-stock shall not be used unless and until the Local Government sanction its use.

Powers of Local Government to authorise interference with tramway in carrying out necessary works, &c.

28. (1) In the event of any necessity arising for carrying out, in or on land occupied by the tramway, any works of any kind whatsoever, for which interference with the tramway may be considered necessary by the Local Government, the said Government may, by notice in writing and without prejudice to the powers conferred on the Local Authorities by section 38 of the Act, call upon the Promoters to show cause why such portion of the tramway should not be closed for traffic as may enable the said works to be carried out in safety.

After considering the necessity for closing such portion of the tramway, as well as any objections or suggestions that may be made by the Promoters, the Local Government may direct that the Promoters shall close the said portion of the tramway for such a period of time and under such conditions as in the circumstances of the case may appear necessary.

(2) The Promoters shall be bound to comply with such directions and allow the work referred to therein to be carried out: Provided that, unless otherwise directed, any portion of the tramway which it may be necessary to remove in order to carry out such work shall be removed and reinstated by, or at the expense of, the Local Government, or the person or persons at whose instance the work is carried out.

Conditions on which Promoters allowed to interfere with structures in or on the road.

29. In the event of the Promoters desiring that any bridge, drain, culvert, water-course, telegraph line or other thing whatsoever on or adjacent to the land to be used for the tramway should be removed or the position thereof altered, the Promoters shall give notice in writing to the Local Government or other authority competent to deal with it, who shall pass such orders thereon as in the circumstances of the case may appear fit.

Power of Promoters to make temporary tramway.

30. When from accident or flood, or by reason of the execution of any works under the provision contained in clause 28 of this Order, or when, from any other reason, it is in the opinion of the Local Government necessary or expedient to remove or discontinue the use of the tramway or any part thereof, the Promoters may, subject to such conditions and in accordance, in all respects, with such regulations as the Local Government may, from time to time, make, construct, and maintain, so long as occasion may require, a temporary tramway in lieu of the tramway or part of the tramway removed or discontinued.

Lopping trees.

31. The Promoters shall not, without the consent in writing of the Government Engineer in charge of the road, cut down or lop any tree growing along or by the side of the road, provided that in case of emergency, the Promoters may remove or lop the branches or any portion of a tree which projects or hangs in such a manner as to be a source of danger or impediment to the tramway traffic and in such case they shall without loss of time report their action for confirmation by the said Government Engineer.

Use of excavated material.

32. Any road metal or material excavated by the Promoters from the road, in the construction or maintenance of the tramway, may be applied by them in or towards reinstating the said road, or in or towards completing any work thereon required by this Order.

Use of flank and side of road for loop and dead-end siding.

33. The Promoters may also occupy, subject to the aforesaid conditions, for a loop and dead end siding, a further length of 600 feet on a width of 14 feet on the flank and slope of the aforesaid road on the side of the line.

Unused portion of road to be left free.

34. The portion of the road which the Promoters are not authorised by or under this Order to use for the purpose of the tramway shall be left free and unencumbered for ordinary traffic, and no obstruction whatever shall be placed thereon or caused thereto without the previous written consent, which may be revoked at will, of the Government Engineer in charge of the road.

TRAFFIC AND TRAFFIC WORKING.

Traffic to be carried.

35. The tramway may be used for the purpose of conveying passengers and passengers' luggage. But the Promoters shall have the liberty to refuse to carry any person suffering from any infectious or contagious disorder, and passengers' luggage containing articles that may be declared dangerous or offensive by bye-laws to be framed under section 27 of the Act: Provided that nothing in this clause shall be taken to restrict the right of the Local Authorities by bye-laws made under section 26 of the Act to prohibit the carriage or conveyance of passengers suffering from any contagious disease or of passengers' luggage containing articles declared to be dangerous or offensive.

Maximum fares and rates.

36. At the outset the following shall be the maximum rates of fares for passengers and tariff of charges for passengers' luggage:—

(a) Passengers—

		Per mile
Third	class ...	... 4½ pies.
Intermediate	„ ...	... 6 „
Second	„ ...	... 9 „
First	„ ...	... 1¼ anna.

Any fraction of a mile will be reckoned as a mile, and no fare shall be less than one anna—

(b) Passengers' luggage.—A free allowance of luggage will be made to each passenger as follows:—

		Seers
First	class ...	... 60
Second	„ ...	... 30
Intermediate	„ ...	... 20
Third class	„ ...	... 15

Luggage in excess of the foregoing weights may be charged for at a rate not exceeding two annas per maund per mile.

Full control over charges of all kinds for the use of the tramway is reserved to the Local Government.

Running of trains.

37. No train shall be run between sunset and sunrise, except with the previous consent of the Local Government, and upon such conditions as may be approved by them in writing.

Passenger classes.

38. Provision shall be made in all trains for two or more classes of passengers.

Train lights.

39. (1) During foggy weather every train shall exhibit a red tail-light and two red side-lights in rear of the train, and every engine running alone, during foggy weather, shall exhibit at least one red tail-light.

(2) The same train and engine lights shall also be used when any train runs between sunset and sunrise.

40. The train shall be worked on "the one-engine or train-staff and ticket system," according to Government General Rules and Regulations for Railways.

Working of trains. Brakes and brakevans

41. All engines shall be provided with an efficient brake worked by hand or steam, and acting on at least four wheels of the engine or its tender. All wagons shall be provided with an efficient brake acting on at least half of the wheels of the wagon. There shall be at least one vehicle provided with a brake acting on every wheel with a person in charge of it at the rear of each train.

Prohibiting undue preference.

42. The Promoters shall not, as between members of the public, make or give any undue or unreasonable preference or advantage to or in favour of any particular person or company, or subject any particular person or company to any undue or unreasonable prejudice or disadvantage. The Local Government shall have absolute power, for the purposes of this clause, to decide whether any preference, advantage, prejudice or disadvantage is undue or unreasonable.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Crossing of tramway by any railway or other tramway.

43. In the event of its being necessary, under the authority of the Local Government, for any railway or tramway line other than that referred to in this Order to cross the tramway on the level or otherwise, the Promoters shall not be competent to raise any objection, provided that such reasonable expenses as may be shown to the satisfaction of the Local Government to have been incurred by the Promoters, on account of any interference with the tramway that may be necessary for such crossing, shall be borne by the administration of the railway or tramway authorised to cross:

Provided that the Local Government shall have absolute power, for the purpose of this clause, to decide the question as to the reasonableness of the expenses incurred by the Promoters on account of the interference with the tramway.

When the tramway interferes with the location or extension of any railway

44. In case it hereafter be found that any portion of the alignment adopted by the Promoters for the tramway interferes with the location of any new line of railway, or the extension of any existing line of railway, the alignment occupied by the tramway shall be forthwith, at the request of the Local Government, abandoned in favour of the railway, and the tramway shall be diverted in such way and in such manner as shall appear to an Engineer or other officer duly appointed in this behalf by the Local Government to be fair and proper, provided that the actual cost of constructing such diversion shall be borne by the authorities of the said railway.

Penalty for breach of section 15 of the Act.

45. If the Promoters fail in any respect to comply with any of the provisions of clause 6 of section 15 of the Act, and the Local Authorities shall find it necessary or desirable to do anything or incur any expense to remedy any such failure on the part of the Promoters, all expenses so incurred shall be, on demand, repaid to the Local Authorities by the Promoters and the certificate of the Chairman for the time being of the Local Authority shall be conclusive evidence that all expenses referred to in such certificate were so incurred, and the said Promoters shall not be at liberty to dispute the same.

On Promoters' default works may be executed by the Local Government.

46. In the event of any work required by the Act or by this Order to be done by the Promoters not being done by them, the Local Government may cause a notice to be served on the Promoters requiring them, within a period to be prescribed in the said notice, to execute the said work, and if within the period so prescribed such requisition is not complied with, the Local Government may cause such work to be done, and the cost thereof shall be recoverable from the Promoters. The certificate of the Government Engineer or other officer in charge of such work shall be conclusive evidence that all expenses referred to in such certificate have been incurred in carrying out such work, and the Promoters shall not be at liberty to dispute the same.

Improvements may be directed by the Local Government.

47. The Promoters shall adopt and apply all such improvements in the tramway and in the rolling-stock and appliances thereon as the Local Government may from time to time consider necessary or desirable for the safety or convenience of the public.

Transfer of tramway.

48. The Promoters shall not have power to transfer the undertaking without the previous sanction of the Local Government.

Statistics.

49. The Promoters shall provide, without unreasonale delay, such statistics relating to the tramway or to the traffic thereon as may from time to time be required by the Local Government.

Concession in this Order gives Promoters no exclusive right as carriers on the road traversed by the tramway.

50. It is to be distinctly understood that no concession granted under this Order confers on the Promoters any exclusive right as carriers over any part of the tract traversed by the tramway.

Penalty for failure of Promoters to comply with Orders.

51. (1) If the Promoters fail to observe any condition or direction contained in or made under this Order, they shall, for each such failure to observe the same, be liable to a penalty which may extend to two hundred rupees and, in the case of a continuing failure, to a further penalty which may extend to fifty rupees for each day after the first during which such failure continues.

(2) When the Promoters have through any act or omission become liable for any penalty under this clause, the penalty shall become recoverable by suit in the District Court having jurisdiction in the place where the act of omission or any part thereof occurred.

(3) The Local Government may remit the whole or any part of any penalty to which the Promoters become liable under this clause.

(4) Every penalty recovered under this clause shall be applied as the Local Government from time to time may direct.

52. The terms of this Order are without prejudice to the power of the Governor-General in Council, under section 146 of the Indian Railways Act, 1890, to extend the provisions of that Act to the tramway of which the construction is authorised by this Order.

ARBITRATIONS.

53. If any dispute, question or controversy shall at any time arise either between the Local Government and the Promoters, or the Local Authorities and the Promoters, touching this Order, or any clause or thing herein contained, or the construction hereof, or any matter connected with this Order, or the operation of the same, or the rights, duties or liabilities of any of the parties in relation to the premises, then and in every such case the matter in difference, unless special provision shall have been made in this Order for the settlement of the matter so in difference, shall be referred to two arbitrators or their umpire, pursuant to and so as with regard to the mode and consequence of the reference, and in all other respects to conform to the provisions in that behalf contained in the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, or any subsisting statutory modification thereof, and upon every such reference the arbitrators and umpire shall respectively have power to examine witnesses upon oath or affirmation, and either to fix, settle, and determine the amount of cost of the reference and award respectively or incidental thereto to be paid by both parties making the reference, or by either party, or to direct the same to be taxed either as between Solicitor and client or otherwise, and to direct and award where and by and to whom such costs shall be paid and every or any such reference may be made a rule of His Majesty's High Court of Justice or of the High Court of Judicature at Calcutta on the application of either the Local Government, the Local Authorities or the Promoters, and either the Local Government, the Local Authorities or the Promoters may instruct Counsel to consent thereto for the other party.

SCHEDULE I.

AN AGREEMENT made the seventh day of August one thousand nine hundred and fourteen BETWEEN THE DISTRICT BOARD OF THE TWENTY-FOUR PARGANAS incorporated under the Bengal Local Self-Government Act of 1885 and hereinafter called "the Board" of the one part and THE BARASET-BASIRHAT LIGHT RAILWAY COMPANY LIMITED a Company incorporated under the Indian Companies Act and having its Registered Office at Nos. 6 and 7 Clive Street Calcutta and hereinafter called "the Company" of the other part is intended to be read with and as supplemental to five Agreements the first dated the 14th day of December 1897 and made between the Board of the one part and Sir Thomas Acquin Martin, Knight, Rajendra Nath Mookerjee, Charles Woolard Walsh and Harold Patrick Martin, the then Members of the firm of Martin & Co. of Calcutta as Promoters for and on behalf of a Company then about to be formed and called the Baraset-Basirhat Tramway Company Limited of the other part a copy of which Agreement is set out on pages 616—618 of Part I of the Calcutta Gazette of the 20th May 1903 the second dated the 14th day of May 1902 and between the same parties and modifying the Agreement first abovementioned and the third dated the 3rd day of August 1903 and made between the Board of the first part the Members of the firm of Martin & Co. of the second part and the Company of the third part whereby the Company adopted the first of the said Agreements as modified by the second Agreement and the fourth dated 6th day of November 1907 made between the Board of the first part and the Company of the second part and fifth dated the 21st day of December 1908 and made between the Board of the one part and the Company of the second part whereas on the 30th day of July 1903 the Company was incorporated with the objects and for the purposes set forth in the said Agreements and under its present name instead of the name stated in the said first and second Agreements and the Tramway from Baraset to Chingrighatta with a branch from Baliaghata Bridge to Pattipooker therein referred to has been constructed and opened for traffic and is now being worked by the Company of which the present Managing Agents are the said firm of Martin & Co. AND WHEREAS the Company has through its Managing Agents aforesaid recently applied to the Board for sanction to construct an extension of the existing branch line of Tramway of the Company from Pattipooker the present Calcutta terminus of the Baraset-Basirhat Light Railway to the Belgatchia Tramway Terminus, a distance of 1·03 miles. AND WHEREAS the Board at a meeting held on the 12th day of May 1914 resolved that subject to the approval of the Local Government the application aforesaid of the Company should be sanctioned on the same terms and conditions as are respectively set forth in the Agreements abovemenctioned but with a provisio that the maximum sum of Rs. 38,000 per annum guaranteed by the Board as therein respectively mentioned towards interest on the capital expended by the Company should not be increased. NOW THESE PRESENTS WITNESS that it is hereby mutually AGREED AND DECLARED as follows:—

1. This Agreement shall be read with and as supplemental to the said Agreements dated respectively the 14th day of December 1897, the 14th day of May 1902, the 3rd day of August 1903, 6th day of November 1907 and 23rd day of December 1908 above referred to.

2. Subject to the sanction of the Local Government the Board hereby agree and consent to the extension to the Belgatchia Tramway Terminus of the Company's existing line upon and subject to the same terms and conditions mutatis mutandis as apply to the existing line from Baraset to Chingrighatta with a branch from Baliaghata Bridge to Pattipooker and as set forth respectively in the first, second, fourth and fifth Agreements abovementioned as if the said extension had formed part of the existing line of Tramway and to the intent that the six months referred to in clause 14 of the said Agreement first abovementioned shall run from the date of these presents and the date for completion of the said extension shall be not more than one year from the date of the Government order sanctioning such extension and so that the guarantee of the Board as to supplementing the net earnings of the Company contained in clause 4 of the said Agreement first abovementioned as modified by the said Agreement secondly abovementioned shall extend and apply not only to the existing capital of the Company of Rs. 21,00,000 but also to any increase of capital to be raised whether by shares or debentures and so as to render the Board liable to pay a subsidy sufficient to make the net profits of the Company equivalent to Rs. 1,500 per annum per mile of the extension as well as of the existing Tramway, but subject nevertheless to the maximum of Rs. 38,000 prescribed by the said clause which shall apply for the purpose of limiting contribution in respect both of the existing Tramway and capital respectively and the extension and any increase of capital respectively and so that the expression "being 4 per cent. on the amount of the Company's share capital' contained in the said clause as modified shall no longer apply.

3. The Company hereby agree to give to the Board the same share or proportion of the profits accruing from the extension from Pattipooker to the Belgatchia Tramway Terminus as for the existing line and as provided in the previous Agreements aforesaid.

4. The Board hereby consent to the Company raising the funds which will be required for the construction of the proposed extension either by the creation of extra share capital or by the issue of debenture PROVIDED ALWAYS that such extra share capital shall rank pari passu with the existing share capital and have no preferential rights thereover and that such debentures as to the rate of interest thereon shall be subject to the terms of the Agreement secondly abovementioned.

Simla, the 7th August, 1914.

Ordinance for securing the control of the Press during war.

Whereas an emergency has arisen which makes it necessary to control the publication of naval or military news or information;

24 and 25 Vict., 6 c. 7

ORDINANCE No. I OF 1914.

Short title and extent

1. (1) This ordinance may be called the Indian Naval and Military News (Emergency) Ordinance, 1914.

(2) It extends to the whole of British India including British Baluchistan, the Sonthal Parganas, the District of Angul, the Shan States and the Pargana of Spiti; and it applies also to:—

(a) All Native Indian subjects of His Majesty in any place without and beyond British India;

(b) All other British subjects within the territories of any Native Prince or Chief in India; and (c) All servants of His Majesty, whether British subjects or not, within the territories of any Native Prince or Chief in India.

Prohibition of publication of naval or military news or information.

2. It shall not be lawful to publish any information with reference to movements or dispositions of troops, ships, air-craft or war material or to the strategic or other plans or schemes of the naval or military authorities of any part of the British Empire or to any works or measures undertaken for or connected with the defence or fortification of the British Empire or any part thereof or any statement, comment or suggestion calculated directly or indirectly to convey any such information except when such information has been supplied for publication under the authority of the Governor General in Council or of a Local Government, or has been approved for publication by an officer appointed in this behalf,

(a) by the Governor General in Council; or

(b) by any officer to whom the Governor General in Council has delegated the power of such appointment.

Explanation.—In this section the expression "British Empire" includes all territories under the suzerainty or protection of His Majesty.

Penalties

3. The publisher, editor and printer of any newspaper, magazine, book, pamphlet or other document, by means of which any information, statement, comment or suggestion is published in contravention of this ordinance shall severally be punishable in respect of each offence with imprisonment of either description for a term which may extend to one year or with fine which may extend to five thousand rupees or with both and any other person who sells any newspaper, magazine, book, pamphlet or other document knowing it to contain any such information, statement, comment or suggestion or who is otherwise knowingly responsible for the publication of any such information, statement, comment or suggestion shall be liable to a similar penalty.

Restriction on trial of offences

4. (1) No court shall proceed to the trial of any offence punishable under this ordinance unless upon complaint made by order of, or under authority from, the Governor General in Council, the Local Government or some officer empowered by the Governor General in Council in this behalf.

(2) No Magistrate other than a Presidency Magistrate, District Magistrate, or Subdivisional Magistrate shall take cognizance of or try any offence punishable under this ordinance.

Power of police officer to seize documents publishing information in contravention of this ordinance.

5. Any police officer may seize any newspaper, magazine, book, pamphlet or other document in which any information, statement, comment or suggestion is published in contravention of this ordinance and such officer shall forward anything seized to a presidency magistrate, district magistrate, or sub-divisional magistrate, having jurisdiction in the place where such thing was seized.

6. (1) Whenever any newspaper, magazine, book, pamphlet or other document is published in contravention of this ordinance a presidency magistrate, district magistrate or sub-divisional magistrate may, whether the offender is convicted or not, order that all copies of such newspaper, magazine, book, pamphlet or other document within the limits of his jurisdiction shall be confiscated.

Powers of magistrate to confiscate documents published in contravention of this ordinance

(2) A magistrate making an order under sub-section (1) may issue a warrant to any police officer to seize and detain any thing confiscated under that sub-section and to search for such thing in any place where such thing is known or reasonably suspected to be.

7. (1) Whenever a presidency magistrate, district magistrate, or sub-divisional magistrate is satisfied from a police report or otherwise that any information, statement, comment or suggestion is being or is likely to be published in contravention of this ordinance within the limits of his jurisdiction he may issue a warrant to a police officer to search for, seize and detain any document containing such information, statement, comment or suggestion.

Power of magistrate to issue search warrants and order confiscation in certain cases

(2) Such magistrate may order that anything seized under a warrant issued under sub-section (1) shall be confiscated.

8. A police officer to whom a warrant under section 6 or section 7 is directed may search in any place and seize and detain anything in accordance with the provisions of the warrant and shall forward anything seized to the magistrate by whom the warrant was issued.

Power of police officer executing search warrant

9. No order made or purporting to be made in accordance with the provisions of this ordinance directing or relating to the issue of a search-warrant or the confiscation of anything shall be called in question in any court, and no civil or criminal proceeding shall be instituted against any magistrate or police officer for anything done in good faith under this ordinance or purporting to be so done.

Bar of jurisdiction of courts

10. A certificate signed by a Secretary to the Government of India to the fact that any territory is or is not under the suzerainty or protection of His Majesty shall, in any proceeding under this ordinance, be conclusive evidence of such fact.

Certificate by Secretary to Government to be evidence of certain facts

11. Save as otherwise expressly provided the provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, shall apply to all proceedings under this ordinance. Act V of 1889

Application of Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, to proceedings under this ordinance

Simla, the 14th August, 1914

ORDINANCE No. II OF 1914.

WHEREAS an emergency has arisen which makes it necessary to provide for the impressment of vessels for the service of His Majesty;

24 & 25 Vict, c 67 Now, therefore, in exercise of the power conferred by section 23 of the Indian Councils Act, 1861, the Governor General is pleased to make and promulgate the following Ordinance:—

1. (1) This Ordinance may be called the Impressment of Vessels Ordinance, 1914.

Short title and extent

(2) It extends to the Provinces of Madras, Bombay, Bengal and Burma.

2. In this Ordinance unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context—

Definitions

(a) the expression "gazetted officer" has the same meaning as in the Indian Marine Act, 1887; XIV of 1887.

(b) "owner of a vessel" includes the agent of any such owner in any port in which such vessel may be; and

(c) "vessel" means any ship or boat or any other description of vessel used for navigation, and includes all tackle, appliances, coal, stores and other moveable property of any description on or appertaining to such vessel, except cargo and the personal effects of passengers or of the officers and crew of such vessel.

Power to impress vessels for His Majesty's Service.

3. The Governor General in Council may, by notification in the Gazette of India, empower the Director or any gazetted officer of the Indian Marine Service to impress temporarily for the service of His Majesty vessels in any specified port.

Requisition upon owners and masters of vessels required for such service

4. (1) Any officer empowered under section 3 may issue a requisition in writing to the owner of any vessel in the port specified in the notification or in the absence of such owner from such port, or if the name and address of such owner cannot after reasonable inquiry be ascertained, to the master of any such vessel to furnish the same for the service of His Majesty.

(2) An officer making a requisition under sub-section (1) shall state therein, if possible, the approximate period for which the vessel will be required, and

(3) Any such officer may at the time of making the requisition, or subsequently, exempt therefrom any tackle, appliances, coal, stores or other moveable property on or appertaining to any vessel requisitioned.

Payment of compensation for vessels impressed and assessment thereof.

5. (1) Compensation shall be paid by the Government of India to the owner of any vessel impressed under this Ordinance.

(2) Such compensation shall be assessed by agreement between the officer making the requisition and the owner of the vessel impressed, or failing such agreement, in such manner as may be prescribed by the Governor General in Council by rules in this behalf.

Powers of requisitioning officer in case of failure of owner, etc., to furnish vessel

6. If the owner, or master of any vessel requisitioned for the service of His Majesty under the provisions of section 4 fails to furnish such vessel in accordance with the terms of the requisition, the officer by whom the requisition was made may, whether the compensation payable in respect of the impressment of such vessel has been assessed or not, seize, retain and use such vessel for the service of His Majesty, using such force as may be required, and all magistrates and police-officers shall be bound to render such assistance as he may reasonably demand in seizing and retaining a vessel under this section.

Bar of jurisdiction of courts

7. No requisition made under this Ordinance shall be called in question in any court, and save as herein provided no liability civil or criminal shall be incurred by any officer of Government by reason of anything done or purporting to be done in accordance with the provisions of this Ordinance.

Saving of powers conferred by Proclamations or Orders in Council of His Majesty

8. Nothing in this Ordinance shall be deemed—

(a) to affect or derogate from any power of seizure or requisition exercised in pursuance of any Proclamation or Order in Council of His Majesty; or

(b) to authorise any seizure or requisition in contravention of any such Proclamation or Order in Council.

HARDINGE OF PENSHURST,
Viceroy and Governor General.

NOTIFICATIONS.

Simla, the 8th August, 1914.

No. 577.—WHEREAS the Governor-General in Council considers it necessary to take further precautions in respect of foreigners residing in or travelling in British India.

Now, therefore, in exercise of the powers conferred by section 5 of the Foreigners Act, 1864 (III of 1864), the Governor-General in Council is pleased to order that the provisions of section 5 and of all the subsequent sections of the said Act shall, for a period of six months from the date of this notification, be in force in British India, including British Baluchistan, the Sonthal Parganas and the District of Angul.

No. 578.—In exercise of the powers conferred by section 25 of the Foreigners Act. 1864 (III of 1864), the Governor-General in Council is pleased to exempt—

(a) from the provisions of section 5 and all the subsequent sections of the said Act, all foreigners being Asiatics, and (b) from the provisions of sections 10 to 19 of the said Act, all non-Asiatic foreigners not being of German or Austrian nationality.

Simla, the 12th August, 1914.

No. 1424.—In exercise of the powers conferred by section 27 of the Indian Arms Act, 1878 (XI of 1878), the Governor-General in Council is pleased to direct that the exemptions made by entry No. 13 of Schedule I of the Indian Arms Rules, 1909, in favour of Europeans who are not natural born or naturalized subjects of His Majesty shall not extend to any subjects of the German or Austrian Empires.

POLITICAL.

The 13th August, 1914.

No. 666.—The following Proclamation by His Excellency the Governor-General, dated the 13th August 1914, is published for general information:—

PROCLAMATION.

I, CHARLES, BARON HARDINGE OF PENSHURST, Governor-General of India and ex-officio Vice-Admiral therein, being satisfied thereof by information received by me, do hereby proclaim that war has broken out between His Majesty and Austria-Hungary.

HARDINGE OF PENSHURST.

The 14th August, 1914.

No. 703.—Whereas it appears to the Governor-General in Council that the paper in Hindi called the "Hindusthani" printed and published in Mauritius contains words of the nature described in section 4, sub-section (1), of the Indian Press Act of 1910 (I of 1910), in pursuance of the notification of the Governor-General in Council No. 1008, dated the 1st October 1912, issued in accordance with the provisions of section 3 of the Delhi Laws Act of 1912 (XIII of 1912), and in pursuance of section 12 of the Indian Press Act of 1910 (I of 1910), the Governor-General in Council is pleased to declare all issues past and present of the said paper to be forfeited to His Majesty on the ground that, in his opinion, they contain words which may have a tendency to bring into hatred and contempt and to excite disaffection towards the Government established by law in British India.

H. WHEELER,
Secretary to the Government of India.

TELEGRAPHS.

No. 6992.

The 8th August, 1914.

IN supersession of the Notification in this Department, No. 6599, dated the 4th August, 1914, the following Notification is published for general information :—

"His Britannic Majesty's Government find themselves under the necessity of availing themselves of the power reserved under Article 8 of the International Telegraph Convention and Article 17 of the International Radio-Telegraph Convention to suspend the transmission of telegrams and radio-telegrams to, and from, or in transit through, the United Kingdom, and to and from, or in transit through, all British possessions and all British Protectorates whatsoever, save and except such telegrams and radio-telegrams as are on the service of His Majesty's Government or of the Government of any British Possession or Protectorate.

"With a view, however, to minimise inconvenience to the public, His Britannic Majesty's Government will, until further notice, and as an act of grace, permit the transmission of such telegrams and radio-telegrams in plain language as Foreign Governments or the public choose to send, except telegrams and radio-telegrams on the service of the German and Austrian Governments, or to, or from, Germany or Austro-Hungary and their Colonies or Possessions provided that such telegrams and radio-telegrams are written in English or French and on the understanding that they are accepted at the sender's risk and subject to censorship by the British authorities ; that is, that they may be stopped, delayed, or otherwise dealt with, in all respects, at the discretion of those authorities and without notice to the senders ; and that no claims in respect of them, whether for the reimbursement of the sums paid for transmission or otherwise, will be considered by His Majesty's Government in any circumstances whatever. It is, moreover, essential that such telegrams and radio-telegrams should bear the sender's name at the end of the text, otherwise they are liable to be stopped until the name is notified by paid telegram. Registered abbreviated addresses will not be accepted, either as addresses or as the names of senders."

Note.—The term "telegram" is applied to radio-telegraph messages sent from shore to shore, as well as to those sent by cable or land line.

The term "radio-telegram" is used to denote messages exchanged between ships and the shore.

COMMERCE AND TRADE.

No. 6883.

The 7th August, 1914.

THE following Royal Proclamation setting forth the Law and Policy with regard to Trading with the Enemy, is published for general information :—

By the King.

A PROCLAMATION.

GEORGE R. I.

WHEREAS a state of war exists between Us and the German Emperor; and WHEREAS it is contrary to law for any person resident, carrying on business, or being in OUR Dominions to trade or have any commercial intercourse with any person resident, carrying on business, or being in the German Empire without OUR permission :

AND whereas it is therefore expedient and necessary to warn all persons resident, carrying on business, or being in OUR Dominions of their duties and obligations towards US, OUR Crown, and Government :

Now, therefore, WE have thought fit, by and with the advice of OUR Privy Council, to issue this OUR Royal Proclamation, and WE do hereby warn all persons resident, carrying on business, or being in OUR Dominions :

Not to supply to or obtain from the German Empire, any goods, wares, or merchandise, or to supply to or obtain the same from any person resident, carrying on business, or being therein, nor to supply to or obtain from any person any goods, wares, or merchandise for or by any way of transmission to or from the German Empire, or to or from any person resident, carrying on business, or being therein, nor to trade in or carry any goods, wares, or merchandise destined for or coming from the German Empire, or for or from any person resident, carrying on business, or being therein :

Not to permit any British ship to leave for, enter, or communicate with any port or place in the German Empire :

Nor to make or enter into any new marine, life, fire, or other policy or contract of insurance with or for the benefit of any person resident, carrying on business, or being, in the German Empire, nor under any existing policy or contract of insurance to make any payment to or for the benefit of any such person in respect of any loss due to the belligerent action of His Majesty's forces or of those of any Ally of His Majesty :

Nor to enter into any new commercial, financial, or other contract or obligation with or for the benefit of any person resident, carrying on business, or being in the German Empire :

And we do hereby further warn all persons that whoever in contravention of the law shall commit, aid, or abet any of the aforesaid acts will be liable to such penalties as the law provides :

And WE hereby declare that any transactions to, with, or for the benefit of any person resident, carrying on business, or being in the German Empire, which are not treasonable and are not for the time being expressly prohibited by US either by virtue of this Proclamation or otherwise, and which but for the existence of the state of war aforesaid would be lawful, are hereby permitted :

And WE hereby declare that the expression "person" in this Proclamation shall include any body of persons corporate or unin-

corporate, and that where any person has or had an interest in houses or branches of business in some other country as well as in OUR Dominions, this Proclamation shall not apply to the trading or commercial intercourse carried on by such person solely from or by such houses or branches of business in such other country.

Given at OUR Court at Buckingham Palace this fifth day of August in the year of OUR LORD one thousand nine hundred and fourteen, and in the fifth year of OUR Reign.

GOD SAVE THE KING.

The following notification, issued by the Government of India in the Army Department, published in the Gazette of India, Extraordinary, dated the 10th August 1914, is republished for general information.

J. G. CUMMING,
Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

APPOINTMENTS.

Special.

No. 714.

Simla, the 10th August 1914.

IN pursuance of Section 2 of the Indian Naval and Military News (Emergency) Ordinance, 1914, the Governor-General in Council is pleased to appoint Colonel W. Malleson, C.I.E., Deputy Chief Censor for India, as an officer authorised to supply or to approve information for publication.

JUDICIAL.

No. 715.

Simla, the 10th August 1914.

HIS EXCELLENCY the Governor-General in Council has been pleased to direct the publication of the following telegram from the War Office, dated 7th August 1914:—

Pardon for deserters. His Majesty the King has been graciously pleased to approve of pardons being granted to soldiers who were in a state of desertion from the Regular Forces on the 5th August 1914 and who surrender themselves in the United Kingdom on or before the 4th September 1914, or at any station abroad where there are Regular Forces, on or before the 4th October 1914. They will forfeit all service prior to the date of surrender, but such service may subsequently be restored under the conditions laid down in the King's Regulations for restoration of service forfeited under Section 79 of the Army Act. Deserters who enlist between the 5th August 1914 and 4th October 1914, both days inclusive, in any Colonial Corps which may have been or may be placed at the disposal of the Imperial Government for the War, will be granted a free pardon, and, at the expiration of their service in such Corps, will not be claimed for further service in the Regular Army of the United Kingdom. They will, however, forfeit all service rendered in the Regular Army of the United Kingdom prior to the date of such enlistment. The provisions of this order will not be applied to men who have fraudulently or improperly enlisted.

The 14th August 1914.

ORGANISATION.

No. 716.—Whereas an emergency has arisen, the Governor-General in Council is pleased, in pursuance of paragraph 12 of the Regulations for the Indian Army Reserve of Officers (published in Appendix III to Army Regulations, India, Volume II) to empower the Commander-in-Chief in India to call to army service all or any of the officers of the Indian Army Reserve as he may consider necessary.

Chief Auditor.

No. 2184M.—The 17th August 1914.—In exercise of the power conferred by section 290 of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884 (Bengal Act III of 1884), the Governor in Council makes the following rules subject to which the Commissioners of the Serampore Municipality may allow communication-pipes to be laid down from the service-pipes of the Commissioners for the purpose of leading water to premises within the Municipality for domestic purposes only.

Hooghly.

Rules for the grant to private premises of house-connections for domestic purposes in connection with the filtered water-supply in the Serampore Municipality.

1. So long as the Commissioners deem it practicable and consistent with the maintenance of an efficient water-supply, they may allow any owner or occupier of a masonry building paying a water-rate imposed under the provisions of Part VII of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884, on the annual value of such building, when such annual value is not less than Rs. 100, to lay down communication-pipes from the service-pipes of the Commissioners for the purpose of leading water to such building for domestic purposes only, subject to the following rules and conditions.

2. The owner or occupier of any masonry building requiring water to be laid on to such building for domestic purposes, or requiring any addition or alteration to an existing water-supply, must apply for the same on a printed form to be supplied free of cost at the Municipal Office.

3. A fee of Rs. 100 must be paid to the Commissioners by such owner or occupier for each building connection before any work is commenced, such fee to be in addition to all other costs and charges imposed under these rules.

4. Each building must have a separate connection, and extensions from the communication-pipe of one building to another shall not be permitted.

5. The owner or occupier of the building, in respect of which the connection is required, must pay the entire cost of the connection, including the supply and fixing of the fittings referred to in rule 7, and must also pay the cost of such alterations in, or repairs to, roads, drains, sewers, gas or water-mains or pipes, and the cost of such other works as may be necessitated by, or result from, the work of making such connection.

6. (1) The work required may, at the option of the Commissioners, either be carried out by the Commissioners themselves at the expense of the owner or occupier of the building in respect of which the work is required, or may be carried out by a person or firm employed by such owner or occupier and approved by the Commissioners.

(2) The work must be done under the supervision of an officer appointed by the Commissioners in this behalf, and no connection must be made with the municipal water-drain except at such time as may be appointed, and in such position as may be selected by an authorised municipal officer.

7. A building connection shall comprise the following parts or fittings:—

(a) a brass or gun-metal ferrule inserted in the main supply-pipe;

(b) a galvanized iron communication-pipe from the ferrule to the meter;

(c) a stop-cock and its surface-box;

(d) a meter;

(e) service-pipes from the stop-cock to the taps; and

(f) taps.

8. (1) All the fittings referred to in rule 7 shall be exact duplicates of standard samples kept in the office of the Commissioners, and approved by them in meeting.

(2) All fittings shall be inspected and tested and stamped by an officer of the Municipality before being fixed.

Rules for the guidance of private Candidates for the Matriculation Examination, 1915.

THE following rules for the guidance of private candidates for the Marticulation Examination are published for general information.

2. Private students are those who have not attended any recognised or unrecognised school for at least one year previous to the Examination. The term private students includes bonâ fide school-masters.

3. Private students must appear at the test examination of one of the following institutions on the dates mentioned against it:—

Name of School	Date of Examination
Rajshahi Collegiate School ...	On the date fixed by the Principal of the College.
Dinajpur Zilla School ...	7th December 1914.
Jalpaiguri Zilla School ...	7th December 1914.
Darjeeling High School ...	7th December 1914.
Rangpur Zilla School ...	7th December 1914.
Bogra Zilla School ...	7th December 1914.
Pabna Zilla School ...	7th December 1914.
Malda Zilla School ...	7th December 1914.

Each private student will pay a fee of Rs. 2 to the head of the institution at which he appears for the test examination. The balance after the payment of the expenses (stationery, etc.) will go to the Examiners as remuneration. No private student will be admitted to the test examination unless he is accompanied for the purpose of identification by some person known to the Head Master of the institution at which he appears.

4. Applications for permission to appear must be sent in time to reach this office not later than the 7th November 1914. The information to be given and the documents to be appended in original are the following:—

(a) The name of the school in which the candidate last studied.
(b) The transfer certificate in original granted to the candidate by the Head Master of the school in which he last read; or
(c) in the case of a candidate who previously appeared at the Matriculation Examination the Registrar's receipt in original for the fee paid.
(d) Age of the candidate. No candidate who has not completed the age of 16 years on the first day of the Matriculation Examination will be allowed to appear at it.
(e) In the case of school-masters a certificate of good conduct from the Secretary or Proprietor of the school in which he is serving or from the Deputy Inspector of the district concerned.
(f) A certificate from a respectable gentleman to the effect that the candidate has prosecuted a regular course of study and has been subject to proper discipline and that he has not read in any school since the last Matriculation Examination.
(g) A statement by the candidate giving the following facts:—

(i) Residence
(ii) Father's name
(iii) Second language besides English
(iv) Vernacular language from which translation is to be made into English in the first English paper
(v) which of the following subjects he has taken up:—

(i) Additional Mathematics,
(ii) Additional paper in the classical language,
(iii) History,
(iv) Geography,
(v) Elementary Mechanics.

N.B.—A student who failed to pass the annual examination for promotion to the first class at the end of the Session 1914 and then left the school can, under no circumstances, be allowed to appear at the examination.

5. The Inspector on being satisfied will countersign and return the application, which will then be the candidate's passport for admission to the test examination.

6. The Head Masters of the institutions named above should direct private students who satisfy the test to appear before them in due time with their applications for admission to the Matriculation Examination and to sign them in their presence. They will then grant the necessary certificates and forward the application to the Inspector for countersignature, after which they will be sent by the Inspector direct to the candidates.

7. In no circumstances should the fee for the Matriculation Examination be sent to the Inspector's office. It should be sent to the Registrar by the candidates themselves together with the countersigned applications.

8. Private students must understand that the test examination of any school other than those named above will not be accepted by the Inspector.

9. The Matriculation Examination will be held in March 1915. The applications and fees must reach the office of the Registrar on or before the 17th January 1915.

Advertisement of Sale.

NOTICE is hereby given that the undermentioned plots of land, no longer required by Government situated along the Singhjani-Fulchari Railway, in the district of Mymensingh, will be put up to sale at the Subdivisional Court at Jamalpur at 10 o'clock on the 12th of October 1914 corresponding with the 25th Aswin 1321 B.S.

The purchasers of the several plots of land will be subject to the following conditions :—

1st.—The purchasers will have no power to make any excavation on the land nearer than 15 feet from the railway fencing or plough the land closer than 3 feet from its foundation.

2nd.—If the amount of purchase money does not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount must be paid down at once.

3rd.—If the amount of purchase money exceeds Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount must be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the 15th day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale shall be cancelled, the sum deposited being forfeited to Government and the lot again put up for sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser, after issue of advertisement, as in the case of original sale.

4th.—The plots of land will be sold revenue free to the highest bidders.

5th.—The purchasers shall be put in possession on receipt by the Collector of the orders of the Board confirming the sale.

THE INDIAN LAW REPORTS.

CALCUTTA, MADRAS, BOMBAY AND ALLAHABAD

THE Indian Law Reports, published under the authority of the Governor-General in Council, are printed in monthly Parts, which are issued, as soon as possible after the first of each month, at Calcutta, Madras, Bombay and Allahabad, respectively.

The Reports comprise four Series—one for the Calcutta High Court, a second for the Madras High Court, a third for the Bombay High Court, and a fourth for the Allahabad High Court.

The cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from each High Court are reported in the Series for that High Court. Cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from Provinces in India not subject to any High Court are reported in the Calcutta series.

The Calcutta Series is distributed by the Bengal Secretariat Book Depôt: and the Madras, Bombay and Allahabad Series are distributed direct from Madras, Bombay and Allahabad, respectively.

Persons desiring to subscribe for or purchase the Reports should apply to—the Officer in charge Bengal Secretariat Book Depôt, Calcutta, or

the Superintendent, Government Press, Madras, or

the Superintendent, Government Central Press, Bombay, or

the Curator of Government Books, United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, Allahabad.

DEATH OF LADY HARDINGE.

The Vice-President, Nawab Saiyid Nawab Ali Chaudhuri; Maulvi A. K. Faz-ul-Haq.

The VICE-PRESIDENT said :—

"I desire to suspend the rules of business in order to move a resolution.

It runs as follows :—

> 'This Council desires to place on record its profound sorrow at the lamented death of Lady Hardinge and to convey to His Excellency the Viceroy its deep sympathy in his bereavement.'

Gentlemen, no one can regret more than I do that His Excellency Lord Carmichael, who had intended to propose this resolution, has been called away by affairs of the most urgent importance, or can doubt that he would have done it in terms more appropriate and adequate than I can command, though they could not be prompted by greater sincerity of feeling.

Our sorrow is profound and we know that it is shared by the multitudes who in some way or other had some knowledge of Lady Hardinge. Few words will serve me where everything added only recalls more vividly the sorrow we all feel. In the first two years she spent in India, the gracious personality of Lady Hardinge had already secured the respect and admiration of all who came within the influence of the many and varied activities in which she took part with such genuine and sympathetic interest. But the quality which spread her name most widely and made it a household word throughout India and far beyond was the steadfast and quiet courage which she displayed in the day of her husband's peril. There is no quality that is more universally admired than courage and it has fallen to woman to display it in some of its finest forms. It never seems loftier than when inspired by wifely devotion, and of this kind of courage Lady Hardinge gave a shining example which will endure in history. Our sympathy with the Viceroy is very real; it is the truer and deeper because we have been able to form some conception of his loss."

The Hon'ble NAWAB SAIYID NAWAB ALI CHAUDHURI said :—

"Sir, the death of Lady Hardinge has come to us in the shape of a national calamity. Within the short time she had been in India, she won the affections and the esteem of the people and she has passed away in the midst of universal sorrow. I do not wish to speak further on this topic but would associate myself on behalf of my community with all that has fallen from the chair."

The Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZ-UL-HAQ said :—

"After what has been said, it might be deemed a superfluity to make any further reference to this mournful subject, but I cannot let this occasion pass without adding one more tribute, of however humble a significance, from myself and my community, to the memory of Lady Hardinge. Of the many and distinguished vicereines who have left their mark on Indian history, it seems to me that Lady Hardinge will occupy a most conspicuous place by reason of the noble qualities, if I may say so, of the highest type of womanhood. Great men and women come and go and leave their impress on time, not so much by reason of the positions that they occupy or the success they attain in life, but by the deeds they accomplish, by their force of character or their moral worth. You have referred, Sir, to the fortitude and courage that Lady Hardinge displayed on that regrettable occasion which we Indians would very much wish to forget, but we remember that that regrettable occasion is also associated with the display of that courage and fortitude which rendered Lady Hardinge's name a household word in India. I do not wish to say anything further on the subject, because I feel that to pursue the subject further would be to add inefficiently to what has been so nobly and eloquently expressed by you, Sir, from the chair; but on behalf of my community, and if I may be permitted to say so, on behalf of the non-official members of the Council, we wish to associate ourselves with what has been said, and beg to convey to His Excellency our sincere sympathy with him in his great grief."

The Hon'ble DR. DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said:—

"On behalf of my Hindu friends in Calcutta, the paucity of whose attendance here I regret, I desire to associate myself with the resolution and the terms of it as put from the chair. You have referred, Sir, to the great courage that Lady Hardinge displayed on that momentuous occasion; I should like to remind this Council, of what this country remembers with gratitude, that she turned that occasion into one of great good, and laid the foundations of a great work, the result of which I am sure so far as the Indian community is concerned, will be far reaching to the motherhood of India and the child world of India, which she succeeded in reaching in almost an unprecedented way. Lady Hardinge contributed to the political and social forces for the betterment of India, the equal of which it would be difficult to conceive. The founder of the Linen League, and the Children's Day—she will always be remembered in India, even as Lady Canning's name is known as a household word in Bengal."

The Hon'ble RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR said:—

"On behalf of the people in Calcutta, especially the Indian section of which I have the honour to represent in this Council. I desire to associate myself with the resolution which you have moved. Sir, perhaps it is superfluous on my part to dilate more on this mournful topic, but I may say this, that throughout the length and breadth of the country, in the heart of every Indian, there is genuine sympathy and regret at the great loss which not only the Viceroy but the country has sustained by the death of Lady Hardinge. Sir, what endeared her most to my countrymen was this—her true and genuine sympathy with the womenfolk of our community, and with the little children. Sir; Orientals as we are, we reciprocate sympathy and love coming from whatever quarter, high or low, rich or poor and so long as there are noble Englishwomen of the stamp of Lady Hardinge, I am sure the bond of sympathy which binds the two great communities will never relax.

The Hon'ble BABU UPENDRA LAL RAY said:—

"It is with a deep sense of sympathy that I refer to the recent sad bereavement which our popular Viceroy has sustained. The sudden and untimely death of Lady Hardinge has been a severe shock to her beloved consort with whom she always identified herself in his arduous career. To the people of India, specially to the women of India, it has been a great loss. We are all aware of her noble virtues, and they need no elucidation. Her tender feminine virtues displayed in her numerous acts of charity and philanthropy coupled with her noble bearing during those dark days at Delhi, won for her the hearts of the people of India. The Linen League, the scheme for a Civil Hospital for women in India, the Medical College for women at Delhi, and the children's annual treat are all monuments of the loving interest she took in the welfare of the people of this country. If sympathy can assuage to any degree the intensity of grief, our Viceroy has it from all India. All India is mourning with him. May His Excellency be comforted and may he be preserved for the good of India and the British Empire. With these words I, on behalf of the inhabitants of Chittagong, desire to associate myself with this resolution."

The Resolution was then put to the vote and agreed to, all standing.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 1.

STARRED QUESTIONS.

By the Hon'ble RAI NALINAKSHA BASU BAHADUR :—

Location of proposed Mining Institution.

*1. (a) Have the Government, since the last notification on the subject, arrived at a final decision as to the place where the proposed Mining Institution is to be established?

(b) Are the Government aware that there is a strong rumour that the institution is going to be located at Dhanbaid?

(c) Will the Government be pleased to state for the information of the public whether there is any foundation for this rumour and, if so, give reasons as to why the claims of Dhanbaid have been found to be superior to those of Asansol?

The Hon'ble MR. SAMMAN replied :—

(a) "The answer is in the negative.

(b) The answer is in the affirmative.

(c) The Committee appointed to consider the question of the establishment of a Mining School have recommended the selection of a site near Dhanbaid. This recommendation has been made after careful inspection of all possible sites near Dhanbaid and Asansol, and the site in question has been recommended by the Committee on account of its central position and proximity to a railway station. It is also near the offices and residences of the staff of the Department of Mines and is extensive enough to admit the location in one place of the whole institution, including playing fields."

By the Hon'ble RAI NALINAKSHA BASU BAHADUR :—

Breaches in the Damodar Embankment.

*2. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state whether the breaches in the Damodar Embankment caused by the great flood of August last have been repaired and whether the Embankment has been sufficiently strengthened to protect the town of Burdwan and the country on the west side of the river from future floods?

(b) Has it been brought to the notice of the Government that owing to the heavy rains in May last a part of the town of Burdwan was under water?

(c) Was this due to the escape of Damodar water (through the embankment) into the Banka and to the consequent inundation of the latter?

The Hon'ble LT.-COL. JOLY DE LOTBINIÈRE replied :—

(a) "The breaches in the Damodar left embankment caused by the great flood of August, 1913, have all been repaired, excepting that at Dhapdhara below Jamalpur which will not be finished for two months on account of shortness of labour. An advanced line of embankment, however, which was completed some months ago, protects the breach. Where considered necessary, a second line of defence in the form of an advanced or retired line of embankment has been made.

(b) and (c) In May last, owing to local heavy rain, the Banka was in flood which was to some extent augmented by water which entered from the Damodar, in which a freshet occurred, through the cut in the 14th mile of the left embankment, which had been made to supply water for sanitary purposes during the hot weather. Before the freshet arrived, the mouth of the cut was closed by a cross-dam which was breached. A little water is said to have entered the Burdwan town through the Guia Banka which did no damage at all. This is always liable to occur even during low flood in the Banka and the remedy lies with the Burdwan Municipality."

Questions and Answers.

By the Hon'ble RAI NALINAKSHA BASU BAHADUR :—

Stoppage of booking of goods by goods train from Howrah to Burdwan.

* 3. (a) Has it been brought to the notice of Government that the East Indian Railway authorities have again stopped the booking of goods by goods train from Howrah to Burdwan?

(b) Are the Government aware that this order, which was enforced on a previous occasion, interferes with the trade carried on by the people of Burdwan and its neighbourhood and is also the cause of great inconvenience to the public in general?

(c) Are the Government taking any action with a view to remove the inconvenience felt by the enforcement of this order?

The Hon'ble MR. GREEN replied :—

"(a) The matter has not previously been brought to the attention of Government.

(b) The restrictions have been necessitated by the slow removal from the sheds by the public. This has been caused by a shortage of carting facilities said to have been due to the utilization of cart cattle for ploughing. As soon as the merchants are in a position to remove their goods the sheds will be cleared and it will be possible to remove these restrictions.

(c) The attention of the Agent, East Indian Railway, has been drawn to this and Government do not propose to take any further action, as it is useless to book goods to a station while these goods cannot be removed from that station."

By the Hon'ble MAULVI MUSHARRAF HUSAIN :—

Division of work between Inspectors and Overseers in certain Municipalities.

*4. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state how the work of Sanitary Inspection is divided between Inspectors and Overseers in Municipalities whose income is less than Rs. 40,000 but more than Rs. 20,000 a year?

(b) What is the average cost of the works in each Municipality of the above class, which each Municipal Overseer is called upon to supervise?

(c) What is the pay of these Overseers?

The Hon'ble MR. SAMMAN replied :—

"There is no recognised division of work between Sanitary Inspectors and Municipal Overseers. A statement is laid on the table showing the duties of Municipal Overseers in Municipalities whose income is less than Rs. 40,000 but more than Rs. 20,000, their pay and the average cost of the works they are called on to supervise."

Questions and Answers.

By the Hon'ble NAWAB SAIYID, NAWAB ALI CHAUDHURI, KHAN BAHADUR:—

Medical aid in the Tangail sub-division of the Mymensingh district.

*5. (a) Are the Government aware that, owing to the insufficiency of the rains, malaria, typhoid and other kindred diseases have been raging in various parts of the Tangail subdivision of the Mymensingh district?

(b) Are the Government also aware that the people of that district, especially the inhabitants of thanas Basail, Nagarpur, Mirzapur, and Gopalpur are in urgent need of proper medical assistance?

(c) In this connection, are the Government considering the advisability of asking the Chairman of the District Board of Mymensingh to depute a sufficient number of Sub-Assistant Surgeons with a stock of medicines to distribute medical aid in the localities specified?

(d) Are the Government also considering the advisability of establishing Medical Dispensaries in those localities for the benefit of the suffering inhabitants?

The Hon'ble MR. STEPHENSON replied:—

(a) "Government are aware that fever has been more prevalent this year than usual in the Tangail Subdivision. The death-rate from fever in this Subdivision is, however, far below the average for the Presidency.

(b), (c) and (d) The answers are in the negative."

By the Hon'ble BABU UPENDRA LAL RAY:—

Increase in the pay of the lowest grade of Munsifs.

*6. (a) With reference to the Budget speech of the Hon'ble Sir William Duke on the 4th April, 1914, will the Government be pleased to state whether they have received any proposal from the High Court for increasing the pay of the lowest grade of Munsifs?

(b) If so will the Government be pleased to state what steps they are taking in the matter?

The Hon'ble MR. J. G. CUMMING replied:—

(a) "The answer is in the affirmative.

(b) The proposal is under consideration."

By the Hon'ble BABU UPENDRA LAL RAY:—

Grant of privilege leave to the Members of the Provincial Judicial Service.

*7. Will the Government be pleased to state whether they are considering any proposal with regard to the granting of privilege leave on full pay to the members of the Judicial Branch of the Provincial Civil Service?

The Hon'ble MR. J. G. CUMMING replied:—

"The answer is in the affirmative."

Touring by the Subordinate Educational Inspecting Staff.

*8. (a) Is it not a fact that in Eastern Bengal districts the number of days prescribed for touring by the Subordinate Educational Inspecting Staff was considerably increased after the Partition?

(b) If so, will the Government be pleased to state whether they are considering the question of reducing the tours of these Officers with a view to the establishment of an uniform practice throughout the Presidency?

Questions and Answers.

The Hon'ble MR. SAMMAN replied :—

(a) "It is a fact that in Eastern Bengal districts the number of days prescribed for touring by the Subordinate Educational Inspecting Staff was considerably increased after the partition of 1905.

Before then the minimum prescribed for Deputy Inspectors and Sub-Inspectors in Bengal was 150 and 200 days respectively, whereas the corresponding figures in Assam were 240 and 260. The Eastern Bengal and Assam Government at first adopted the Assam scale for the whole province, but subsequently reduced it to 180 days for Sadar Deputy Inspectors, 210 days for other Deputy Inspectors, and 230 for Sub-Inspectors, with the object of adopting a reasonable mean between the figures for Bengal and Assam. In Western Bengal the original scale holds good.

(b) The question of introducing a uniform rate throughout the Presidency is being considered by the Director of Public Instruction in connection with the general question of the co-ordination of the educational rules and orders in force in Eastern and Western Bengal districts."

By the Hon'ble NAWAB SAIYID HASSAM HAIDER CHAUDHURI, KHAN BAHADUR :—

Hooghly Imambarah Funds

*9. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state whether there is any surplus money belonging to the Hooghly Imambarah Funds now in the hands of Government?

(b) If so, will the Government be pleased to state whether they are considering the question of utilising that surplus by the creation of a few Scholarships for the benefit of poor and deserving students of Madrasas situated in the Hooghly district?

The Hon'ble MR. SAMMAN replied :—

(a) "The balance at the credit of the 4/9ths share on the 31st March was Rs. 9,178-15-10, but this balance will be reduced after adjustments have been made on account of short fee payments for Muhammadan students. Until this adjustment has been made and the distribution of the surplus for 1913-14 of the whole estate has been made over to the different shares, it will not be possible to state the exact amount standing at the credit of the 4/9ths share.

(b) The amount now in hand hardly comes up to the minimum required for a working balance. There is, therefore, nothing available at present for expenditure on scholarships to Madrasa students. Government do not propose to draw further upon the Mohsin Fund for this purpose."

By the Hon'ble NAWAB SAIYID HOSSAM HAIDER CHAUDHURI, KHAN BAHADUR :—

Improvement in the Drainage System of Comilla.

*10. Are the Government aware that the town of Comilla is suffering from the want of a good drainage system, and are they taking any steps to remedy this, so as to improve the sanitation of the town?

The Hon'ble MR. SAMMAN replied :—

"Government are aware that the town of Comilla is suffering from the want of a good drainage system. The preparation of a drainage scheme for Comilla will be taken in hand on the completion of the survey of the town by the Survey Department. This is expected to be within the next few months. When the scheme is prepared, it will be for the Municipality to come up with proposals for financing it."

Questions and Answers.

By the Hon'ble NAWAB SAIYID, NAWAB ALI CHAUDHURI, KHAN BAHADUR.—

* 11. (a) Is it a fact that the Dhaleswari river is being gradually silted up at many points and especially at its source? Silting up of the Dhaleswari.

(b) Will the Government be pleased to state the result of the dredging operations (if any) which have been carried on in the said river?

(c) Have similar operations been tried in other rivers?

The Hon'ble MR. GREEN replied :—

11. (a) "Yes. A series of shoals has formed in the river extending for a distance of 3 miles from the entrance from the Jamuna over which there was only 2½ feet of water last cold weather. There are also several shoals above Dacca over which there were about 2½ feet of water.

(b) Dredging operations by the Steamer Companies' dredgers, Alpha and Rescue, were carried out in the year 1912-13 and by the dredgers Alpha and Nemotha in the year 1913-14. The channels dredged have remained in good order and have now not less than 9 feet depth. But owing to the mouth of the river continually changing its position no permanent improvement of the entrance has been achieved by dredging.

(c) Yes. The other rivers in which similar operations have been tried are the Buriganga, the entrance of the Gorai, the entrance of the Bhagirathi, etc.

(d) The reports on the Buriganga river show that the shoals except at the mouth have not deteriorated since last season, although there is too little water in the driest season to admit of navigation by steamers.

The dredging at the Gorai entrance during 1912-13 was successful; it maintained a navigable channel with a depth of at least 6 feet of water throughout the whole length of the channel.

Dredging at the Bhagirathi mouth, at its entrance from the Ganges, has been carried out for several years. The result of the dredging is dependent entirely on the volume and duration of the previous monsoon floods. With high and prolonged floods in the Bhagirathi, the river is improved, and the dredging of the shoal which forms at the entrance in October, induces a good and constant flow of water into the river. With low floods in the Monsoon or floods of short duration, the results of dredging the shoal are not so good, but the mouth is kept open and an improved supply of water for drinking is induced from November to May."

By the Hon'ble NAWAB SAIYID NAWAB ALI CHAUHURI, KHAN BAHAUR:—

* 12. Are the Government considering the advisability of trying the Italian system of excavating silted up river courses?

The Hon'ble MR. GREEN replied :— Trial of Italian system of excavating silted up river courses.

"The Public Works Department are not aware that any special system prevails in Italy for excavating silted-up river courses; but if the Hon'ble Member refers to the Italian process of improving the agricultural value of land by silt deposit and drainage, which is known as 'Bonificazione,' this process is now being tried in the Bistupur Bheel in the neighbourhood of Berhampore."

Schemes for improving the waterways of Bengal.

* 13. (a) Is it a fact that an expert has been appointed to consider the several schemes for improving the waterways of Bengal?

(b) If so, will the Government be pleased to publish his report on the subject when it is received?

The Hon'ble MR. GREEN replied :—

(a) "No expert has been appointed to consider schemes for improving the waterways of Bengal generally; but Mr. O. C. Lees was appointed to frame the project for a Grand Trunk Canal to connect the Hooghly and the Bidyadhari rivers for facility of navigation between Western and Eastern Bengal. The project is now under the consideration of the Government of India. The estimated cost is Rs. 2,73,66,000.

(b) Mr. Lees' report on the Grand Trunk Canal project was printed, and copies were forwarded to the Departments of Government and to representative bodies of the mercantile community."

By the Hon'ble NAWAB SAIYID NAWAB ALI CHAUDHURI, KHAN BAHADUR :—

Re-construction of the Mitford Hospital at Dacca.

*14. (a) Are the Government aware that a considerable sum of money was raised by public subscription for the purpose of re-constructing the Mitford Hospital at Dacca and re-naming it after His late Majesty King Edward VII?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to state whether any steps are being taken to give effect to this project?

The Hon'ble MR. STEPHENSON replied :—

(a) "The King Edward Memorial Fund Committee set aside a portion of the fund for the purpose of reconstructing the Mitford Hospital and some subscriptions have been reserved for the same purpose.

(b) The plans and the programme of the work have been settled, the main estimates are being prepared and work on a portion of the building will be started at once."

Eden High School for Girls.

* 15. (a) Is it a fact that complaints have from time to time been made with regard to the Eden High School for Girls?

(b) If so, are the Government considering the advisability of instituting an inquiry into the internal administration of the said school and the hostel attached to it?

The Hon'ble MR. SAMMAN replied :—

(a) "Government have noticed several articles in the public press.

(b) The answer is in the negative. Government have full confidence in the Managing Committee, the President of which is the Divisional Commissioner."

By the Hon'ble MAULVI MAZHARUL ANWAR CHAUDHURI :—

IV. Will the Government be pleased to lay on the table a statement showing :— Muhammadan Girls' Schools in the Presidency.

(i) the number of Muhammadan Girls' Schools in the Presidency,

(ii) the places where they are located, and

(iii) the grant (if any) which each of them receives from the Government, or the local authorities, or both ?

The following reply by the Hon'ble Mr. Samman was laid on the table :—

"No sharp demarcation has ever been drawn by the Education Department between Muhammadan and non-Muhammadan schools in the presidency.

A statement is laid on the table showing the number of schools attended wholly or mainly by Muhammadan girls, the places where they are located and the grants which they receive."

Certain Statistics re Munsifs' quarters

VII.—Will the Government be pleased to lay on the table a statement showing—

(i) the number of Munsifs' quarters already constructed up to date ;

(ii) the number still remaining to be constructed ; and

(iii) the period within which the construction of those remaining buildings is likely to be completed ?

The following reply by the Hon'ble Mr. Cumming was laid on the table.

(i) The number of Munsifs' quarters constructed up to date is 85.

(ii) The number of Munsifs' Courts in Bengal is 245. The number of Munsifs for whom Government quarters have not been provided is therefore 160 ; but some of these officers are additional Munsifs who sit at more than one place.

(iii) Administrative approval has been already accorded to the construction of 10 more such quarters. It is not possible to state definitely at what rate the construction of the remainder will proceed, and indeed there is no proposal before Government to construct quarters for all Munsif's. It is proposed to construct quarters only for those who find a difficulty in hiring suitable residences. The rate of progress depends on the funds available, which must be regulated by a consideration of the similar needs of all departments.

The following reply by the Hon'ble MR. GREEN was laid on the table :—

"The answer to the first part of the question is in the negative, but Government understand that the Steamer Companies are constructing new steamers, of a better and faster type, to run upon this route.

As regards the second part, proposals to connect Dacca and Calcutta by railway have been made at various times during the last 40 years, but have been postponed owing to the great engineering difficulties encountered. In 1880, and again in 1900, surveys were made for a line from Dacca to Aircha, a point on the Ganges opposite Goalundo.

A statement is sent annually to the Government of India of new lines recommended by the Bengal Government. This line was included in the last statement so submitted; but there are other projects, particularly in the districts of Mymensingh, Bakarganj and Faridpur, which are more urgent than this."

(b) When is the construction of the new railway likely to be taken in hand?

The following reply by the Hon'ble MR. GREEN was laid on the table :—

(a) "The following schemes for the construction of railway lines in the Tangail subdivision of Mymensingh, the final decision regarding which rests with the Government of India, are now under consideration :—

(1) A broad gauge line from a point on the Jamuna river opposite Serajgunge to Mymensingh.

(2) A metre gauge line from Mymensingh to Tangail with an extension to Porabari or Elashin.

(3) A narrow gauge line from Jamalpur to Tangail.

No decision has as yet been arrived at as to which of these schemes is to be adopted.

(b) The Government of Bengal recognise the importance of the very early construction of one or more railways in the Tangail subdivision. Until a decision has been arrived at, it is not possible to say when construction is likely to be taken in hand."

The Bengal Excise (Amendment) Bill, 1914—Resolutions.

THE BENGAL EXCISE (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1914.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 2.

The Hon'ble Mr. Moberly presented the report of the Select Committee on the Bengal Excise (Amendment) Bill, 1914.

The Hon'ble MR. MOBERLY said :—

"SIR,—In view of the inability of the Hon'ble Member in charge to present the report of the Select Committee which was appointed at the meeting of the 2nd July to consider the Bill to amend the Bengal Excise Act, 1909, I have the honour, at his request, to lay that report on the table. It will be observed that the Bill has been modified in two main particulars only. The object of these changes has primarily been to attain greater precision of expression. The first series of alterations has as its object the removal of ambiguities as to the territorial application of the Bengal Excise Act, 1909, as it will stand after amendment. The second has been rendered necessary by the adverse criticism, by the Calcutta High Court, in a recent case, of the definition of the term "denatured," which has been in force in various enactments in India for the last fifty years. The Select Committee is greatly indebted to the legal members of their body for their assistance in amending the clauses affected.

Unanimity has been attained except as regards one point—the amendment of section 65 of the Bengal Excise Act, 1909, by clause 24 of the Bill, so as to extend the power of composition to all offences other than those which fall under section 58. It may be mentioned that the clause as it stands in the Bill is taken from section 70 of the Eastern Bengal and Assam Excise Act, 1910, and will make no alteration in the law actually in force at the present moment in a large part of the Presidency. Government do not however attach great importance to this amendment; but as the opinion of the non-official members of the Select Committee was divided, it was decided to leave the clause unchanged until the fuller sense of the Council had been obtained. If it is ascertained, when the Bill comes up for discussion, that a distinct majority of the non-official members are opposed to this amendment, Government do not propose to press it.

It is proposed to take up the discussion of the Bill at the meeting of the Council which will be held on the 4th September, and I would remind members that amendments must reach the Secretary to this Council not later than 11 A.M. on the 20th instant."

RESOLUTIONS.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 3.

The Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZL-UL-HAQ moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that, pending the permanent establishment of the Muhammadan Arts College in Calcutta, a well-equipped Arts College, with a boarding house attached, be at once opened for Muhammadans in suitable hired houses in Calcutta.

He said :—

"In moving this resolution my object is simply to draw the attention of Government once more to the pressing needs of the problem of Mahummadan education, with which I dare say the Hon'ble the Director of Public Instruction is very familiar. It was in 1913 that several questions were put in this Council and discussions have been going on since then, both at the time of the Budget discussion and on other occasions, as regards the difficulties which Muhammadan students feel in obtaining admission into colleges and in finding suitable accommodation for themselves in Calcutta. This is a matter of common knowledge, and I do not think I should take up the time of this Council by dwelling at length on what, I take it to be, is an admitted fact. The question then remains what remedy can we suggest for the present state of affairs? I think I may be permitted to say. that Government have practically pledged themselves to give us, in view of our needs and requirements, a well-equipped Arts College. I take it as a necessary corollary that we shall also have a well-equipped boarding institution attached to this college. I know that the financial difficulties in the way of carrying out this project immediately are very great, and although Government have got enough money at their disposal for purposes like this, the demand on the Government resources is so very great that we should also possess our souls in patience before we can see our hopes realised. But as is well known, 'hope deferred maketh the heart sick', and we have been waiting for two years, and I would only to-day say a few words as to what has come to me as a personal revelation, if I may say so, as regards the difficulties of Muhammadan students in Calcutta. This was after the examination results were out. I issued a notice that I would be willing to accommodate a certain number of students who did not find admission into any of the different recognised hostels. I was flooded with applications, and no less than 127 students came to see me, but I said I was not going to run a boarding institution, but I was going to accommodate such of them as I found to be extremely deserving, and could not by any efforts of their own secure admission. I have accommodated 17 of them. I saw the Hon'ble the Vice-Chancellor on this occasion and he directed me to see the Hon'ble Justice Sir Ashutosh Mookerjee. I forget what position he holds in this matter, but I think he is the controlling authority as regards the gentlemen who control the messes in Calcutta. I have not been able to see Sir Ashutosh, but I have the students in my house, and I have observed them most minutely; what they do is not only that they include in their school studies, literature of the most objectionable kind, but utterly neglect their legitimate studies. And unless students of this class are kept under proper guidance and surveillance, I am very sure every one here will agree with me, they will very soon go astray. They imbibe ideas—I have talked with them—which are extremely reprehensible, not because these students are naturally vicious but because they are not kept under proper check and control. My own idea is that one of the best ways of keeping them under proper control is to put them into well-equipped, well-managed, well-kept boarding institutions. I have seen myself what wonders a good boarding institution can work in any area where the people have got a genuine demand for education. I am reminded at this moment of the good work which has been achieved by the Bell-Islamia boarding house in my own town in Barisal which was established in 1896. The number of Muhammadan students in the three schools was not more than seventy. I do not know what the number now is, but last year, if my memory serves me right, the number was more than doubled, and not only in numbers has this good result been seen, but marked improvement has been discernible in the character and quality of the young men who are turned out of this boarding institution. I can say that they are a distinctly superior lot to the young men whom I met in times when the boarding institution did not exist. This is nothing new in Barisal; the same thing has happened in places where boarding houses have been established, and it is for this reason that whenever an opportunity has occurred I have raised my voice, however feeble, in favour of boarding institutions.

To come back to the resolution which I put before this Council. I think that if there is no possibility or likelihood of Government arriving at a speedy decision in this matter, if the financial difficulties in the way of Government are such as we cannot have either the College or the boarding institution at once, my suggestion is that a good house be hired in Calcutta; and if we cannot have the college, let us by any means have the boarding institution. I was reading in the Statesman the other day a notice that had been circulated by the Principal of the Presidency College, and I wondered that no less than 51 boys had been refused admission in the Intermediate class, and 43 boys in the B.A. class of the Presidency College. This is the story so far as the Presidency College is concerned, and though I have not got the statistics at my command, I dare say the figures will be found appalling so far as other colleges are concerned. We can, therefore, safely conclude that between the B.A. and I.A. classes no less than 300 to 400 boys are refused admission in the colleges in Calcutta. I do not think that we Muhammadans can afford to allow so many boys to go back simply because they cannot be accommodated in any educational institution. There was a time when the cry was that the Muhammadans did not avail themselves of the facilities which Government had provided for them. That was true; but now that we are going forward, I respectfully pray the Government that not only should the doors be flung open wide, but the break should not be placed on what seems to be the desire of the Muhammadan community to take the fullest opportunity of the educational institutions.

Sir, I do not wish to take up the time of the Council. I quite recognize that the authorities themselves are trying to do their best in the matter, but my object in placing this resolution before the Council is only to draw attention to our pressing necessities, and I hope this resolution will commend itself to the Council."

The Hon'ble CHAUDHURI MUHAMMAD ISMAIL KHAN said:—

"Sir, in these days, when our notice is constantly brought to the difficulty which students experience in getting themselves admitted into colleges, it is no wonder that the Muhammadan students, whose numbers are increasing year by year and who are proverbially poorer than the students of other communities, should find it almost impossible to prosecute their studies if no further provision is made for their collegiate education in this regard. My hon'ble friend is very earnest about this question. It cannot but be so. My community urgently wants it and my hon'ble friend is the spokesman of the community in this Council. What he asks for in this resolution is not too much. His request is very modest and reasonable, nay, it is an advice of caution. He does not want Government to begin this matter with a very large initial expenditure in the matter of the construction of college buildings and hostel, but he wants to proceed in this matter slowly, humbly and cautiously. By this means, we shall gain experience and see what manner of buildings will be required for the intended college and attached hostel and what will be their net cost. We need not be in a hurry about the buildings required for this purpose. In Calcutta there would be no lack of proper hired houses for this purpose. What we want urgently is an institution of the kind proposed in the resolution. I think there would be no dissentient voice in this Council about this matter. I heartily support the resolution just now moved by my hon'ble friend Maulvi A. K. Fazl-ul-Haq."

The Hon'ble RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR said:—

"I have listened with very great interest to the moving and eloquent speech of my friend, Maulvi Fazl-ul-Haq. I am in full sympathy with the noble aspirations of our Muhammadan fellow-subjects. Sir, they were lagging behind, and they are now progressing, and they want to take full advantage of the benefits of education under the aegis of British rule. Sir, as far as I have been able to follow and to understand the resolution that has been moved, there are two proposals embodied in the resolution : one is the establishment of a well-equipped Arts College for the Muhammadan students, and the other a boarding-house for the Muhammadan students. Well, Sir, with regard to the first proposal to have a well-equipped Arts College for Muhammadans, I have not been able to quite understand whether it is intended that the Arts College should be solely for the Muhammadans only. and that no student of any other denomination shall be admitted to it. In my humble opinion, Sir, such a consummation is not to be wished for, because in many of the schools and colleges in Calcutta Hindus and Muhammadans receive their education side by side. This is a healthy thing which brings about a feeling of unity and brotherhood, and a feeling of greater friendship and fellowship which is good for the well-being of society. I admit, Sir, that there is a paucity of colleges in Calcutta, having regard to the large number of students that are turned away every year from the University. This difficulty is experienced not only by Muhammadan students but also by Hindu students, and I believe no one is more aware of the fact than my learned friend on my right, the present Vice-Chancellor of the Calcutta University. Sir, every year when the results of the examinations are out, we are besieged by our friends, relatives and acquaintances belonging to the middle classes, asking for recommendations to this college and that college for admission of their boys. Well, Sir, what we find is this : that having regard to the restrictions and limitations imposed by the Calcutta University on our colleges, they are obliged to refuse numbers of applications and a number of young men are therefore denied the benefits of higher education. I personally approached the late Vice-Chancellor, and have had more than one opportunity of speaking to the present Vice-Chancellor of the University, and so far as I can understand, both of them say that more colleges are wanted in Calcutta. I think, therefore, Sir, that the proposal for the establishment of an additional or more colleges in and about Calcutta is necessary for both the Hindu and Muhammadan communities.

Resolutions.

Nawab Saiyid Nawab Ali Chaudhuri, Khan Bahadur.

As regards the boarding houses, I think, that the establishment of boarding-houses has done great good to the community to which I belong, and it is natural for the Muhammadan community to ask for boarding-houses for their students, because students can be kept under control and can be taken much better care of in boarding-houses than those who live outside and lack such guidance and control. Moreover, the parents of these boys appreciate an arrangement by which their sons are brought up within an environment which keeps them away from all outside evil influences, I am sure, having regard to the sympathetic attitude of Government to the rising generation, that the request made for the establishment of boarding-houses will meet with the attention of Government, and that at no distant date suitable boarding-houses will be established for the Muhammadan students in and about Calcutta. I have nothing more to say, but only to give my general support to the noble aspirations of my Muhammadan fellow-citizens."

The Hon'ble NAWAB SAIYID NAWAB ALI CHAUDHURI, KHAN BAHADUR, said :—

"My Hon'ble friend, Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur, objects to an educational institution for Muhammadans, but I may mention here that there is already an institution in Calcutta which is purely intended for the Hindu community. There was the Madrassa college for Muhammadan students, but as there was no great demand in those days for that college, the Madrassa was amalgamated with the Presidency college, but now as there is a great demand for higher education amongst Muhammadans and the Presidency College cannot satisfy this demand, it is intended to start a college for Muhammadans only. With these words, I beg to support the resolution of my hon'ble friend Maulvi Fazl-ul-Haq."

Resolutions.

Mr. Hornell.

The Hon'ble MR. HORNELL said :—

" Mr. Vice-President,—The terms of the resolution are :—

'This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that, pending the permanent establishment of the Muhammadan Arts College in Calcutta, a well-equipped Arts College, with a boarding-house attached, be at once opened for Muhammadans in suitable hired houses in Calcutta.'

" I mention this, because the resolution is couched in very specific and clear language. We are not therefore, I take it, discussing the question, whether there should be a Muhammadan Arts College, nor are we, in the terms of the resolution, considering the question, whether there should be additional provision for boarding-houses for Muhammadan students apart from the question of a Muhammadan college.

It is little more than a year ago since I first took up the question of the establishment—or more correctly the re-establishment—of a Muhammadan Arts College in Calcutta. From the first I had been strongly impressed by the desirability of the scheme and anxious to make a start as soon as possible, not because of any very immediate need, but because it seemed to me that the day was not far off, if it is not already with us, when the Muhammadan community would have attained a stage of educational development at which they might reasonably ask for the restoration of the Arts College which once existed for them in Calcutta.

A great deal has been said of late about the difficulty of students, experienced by students, especially Muhammadan students, in finding accommodation within the colleges in Calcutta specially and in Bengal generally. In order to find out exactly how this matter stood Government instructed the Assistant Director of Muhammadan Education to make enquiries of every Muhammadan student who passed the Matriculation examination last year. The facts as disclosed are somewhat as follows : 524 boys passed and we have already received replies from 486 of them. Of these 399 had joined and 87 had given up their studies. One hundred and forty-one boys first failed to secure admission into the colleges, but they all subsequently found accommodation in other colleges.

I think that the Hon'ble Mr. Haq has hit upon a very real difficulty when he refers to the difficulty of Muhammadans obtaining suitable accommodation in Calcutta. To this point I shall revert. To go back to the Muhammadan Arts College scheme—before working out a permanent scheme at all, the question whether temporary arrangements for opening the college classes at an earlier date could not be made was thoroughly investigated. It was decided to abandon the attempt to start the college classes on a temporary and provisional basis in makeshift quarters, because it was thought that it would not be giving the institution a fair chance to inaugurate it under such conditions. Having arrived at this conclusion, my office set itself to concentrate all its energies on a complete and permanent scheme. The result is that a complete scheme is now before Government. Government have expressed themselves generally in favour of the scheme and are in process of acquiring a piece of vacant land in the neighbourhood of Wellesley Square, the possession of which will facilitate the carrying of the scheme into actual effect ; but the establishment of the college cannot yet be regarded as an accomplished fact. In the first place, it is impossible with the funds at present at the disposal of the Education Department to find either the recurring or the capital cost ; the Local Government will have to go to the Government of India and ask for their special help. Exactly how much, if anything, the Local Government could afford to spend on the maintenance of an additional Arts college in Calcutta I cannot say, but I ask whether it would be sound practical politics to go to the Government of India and ask for money for a really efficient Muhammadan college in Calcutta when we have already started such an institution on temporary and provisional lines. They would probably suggest that having started the college the Local Government might well let it go on under temporary and provisional conditions, until they could afford to develop it from their own resources. But the Muhammadans may perhaps say that 'one bird in the hand is worth a good many birds in the neighbouring bushes'! Granted; but have you got your bird in the hand, or are you likely to get him? It is not a very easy matter to provide suitable housing accommodation in Calcutta for 300 to 400 boys. I can assure you it is extremely difficult to find any houses at all. I am not speaking altogether without knowledge. I must confess that I regard it as practically impossible to house a college of the size contemplated at all decently in hired buildings in any central part of Calcutta. It might be possible to house it on the outskirts of Calcutta, but would not a college on the outskirts start with a very handicap? Then, again, there is the question of cost. A reasonable number of decent houses could not be hired for nothing. I put down Rs. 1,000 to Rs. 1,200 a month as the very minimum. We have asked Government to provide an Arts College at a very considerable cost, both initial and recurring. What we are now asking for is practically that this scheme should be supplemented by a further scheme of starting a college as soon as possible, and this supplementary scheme will cost not merely all the recurring charges which will be necessary for the upkeep of the college; it will involve also the annual payment of a considerable sum of money for rent. I am not in a position to say whether Government would or would not be prepared to accept such a scheme. If the permanent scheme is found to be impossible of fulfilment within a reasonable time, then we should be faced by a position which might call for further consideration but as Director of Public Instruction, as one exceedingly interested in the success of this proposal, I would most strongly urge that this suggestion be not pressed too far, because I feel that the start of the college under conditions such as those which the Mover of the Resolution has in view will not be giving it a fair chance.

I said at the beginning that we were not discussing the question, whether an additional boarding-house for Muhammadan students in Calcutta is desirable. I take it that, if the difficulty is mainly one of boarding accommodation, Government would be quite prepared to see whether some practical scheme for providing additional boarding accommodation in Calcutta for Muhammadan students could not be worked out, and I would in this connection remind the Council that we have a somewhat belated scheme, which is slowly going forward, for extending the accommodation already available at the Baker Hostel."

The Hon'ble DR. DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said:—

"I should not have liked to intervene in this debate, but the pointed personal references that have been made by two Hon'ble Members. Before I answer this point, I should like to clear up the ground regarding the points raised by the Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur. I am afraid it would be too late for me to go back on the scheme. I have been closely looking round this sparsely-attended meeting. I do not think that there is one present in this Council who was present when I raised the question many years ago of the necessity of reviving the old Madrassa College classes, in the interests of Muhammadan education, of which I had to constitute myself the champion and the special standing counsel long before any of our Muhammadan friends here today could take up the cause. A mixed college has no doubt its advantages, from the point of view of the community which is wanting all the education that it wants and should, as a part of such education, have plentiful opportunities of coming in contact with others. If, however, it be established that no mixed college will accommodate all that need accommodation it would be almost entitled to have a college of its own if sufficient numbers are forthcoming. There cannot be the least doubt that the Muhammadan community has now attained that stage. The congestion is so great that we want not one but many colleges and the Muhammadans may have a college of their own so that the other colleges also may be relieved. But, Sir, in this connection I think it ought to be even now an open question as to whether the college need necessarily be in a congested central part of Calcutta in preference to what at one time was thought would be the ideal thing in connection with the Presidency College. I cannot understand why those who were so very keen about the removal of the Presidency College from the site where it had grown, to an ideal spot away from tram traffic and other noises of civilised cities, I cannot imagine why advanced educationalists of that school should not, now that we are almost promised a new college for Muhammadans, work up to that ideal, particularly as residential accommodation of the necessary type is going to be provided.

Later on I shall very briefly refer to the want of accommodation in our colleges, but I may say this that, so far as Muhammadan students are concerned, my friends will find that there is really less room for grievance and complaint so far than the Hon'ble Mover of the resolution has made out. The Hon'ble the Director of Public Instruction has given you facts as regards last year; this year, on account of what appeared in the Press and what was said from the public platform where it was alleged that about 3,000 college students were going about from college to college and being refused admission, I caused very strict enquiries to be sent round to all the colleges to ask them what accommodation they had and how many they were obliged to reject. This applied to Hindus as well as Muhammadans. Reminders were also sent and we found that there are colleges in Bengal where seats are still available. Of course the fancy combinations of subjects which students would like to have in a college right at their front door were often impossible, but that is an ideal which I do not think that any Government or public body will ever be able to attain; but we are able yet to give a reasonable combination practically for all who desire to have them. The Registrar has again addressed the different colleges, and I made a statement in the Senate; but the response has not been adequate. Advertisements in the newspapers also inviting students to let the Registrar know their wants are being inserted and everything we can do to help students is being done. Whatever difficulty there may be in the case of some plucked students, I have heard of no serious difficulty in the case of new students. I do not think we have a right to assume that many new students are yet without accommodation. I admit there are some, and the chief difficulty with them is with regard to combination. The difficulty in the case of plucked students is greater because their combinations are old, and they cannot very well at the end of the second year change it; and the Senate has devised a means which is giving appreciable relief, and that is to insist upon a man taking two out of three subjects in a college and exempting his attendance in regard to a subject in which he can get no lectures in his College, if he can produce a certificate of having received adequate instruction in that subject.

We may have to take other steps with regard to plucked students, but with regard to new students I do not think the difficulty is yet too great.

Reference was made to the difficulty of getting boarding-houses for Muhammadan students. The Hon'ble Mover of the resolution did approach me with regard to enlarged accommodation as he has told the Council, and I referred him to the Hon'ble Sir Ashutosh Mukerjee who is the President of the Residence Committee, for, since I assumed charge, it has been my endeavour to maintain the constitution in all its different aspects. We have asked the different Committees to go into different matters with the President of the Residence Committees that has to deal with the boarding and residence of students. The Hon'ble mover of the resolution has himself admitted that he never went to the President, and I do not think, therefore, that he has a right to complain. If it came before us in due form, I am sure the University would have given him relief even with its very limited resources. It is all a question of payment; all who want can get hostel accommodation of a sort if they pay for it. This is a matter with which the University cannot deal; it is a matter for the Government. If the Government introduced so many free seats in hostels for accommodation of poor Muhammadans that would be a matter for which we ought to be glad, but regarding which we have no voice. This question of poverty might be a standing difficulty in regard to all questions of advance of Muhammadan education. One Hon'ble Member was telling me that even if you provided all the Muhammadans hostel accommodation that is needed, most of the Muhammadan boys will not be able to pay for them. That is the real state of affairs, and I do not think we can devise any means which will remedy it unless free seats can be largely provided. However, there is no doubt, Sir, that there is a great need for boarding-houses for Muhammadan students in the neighbourhood of College Square. The Hon'ble the Director of Public Instruction must now have found out that the distance between the College Square and the recognised Muhammadan localities of Calcutta is really much more than he at first thought it to be. It is not a very easy thing for a Taltollah or a Kurraya boy to attend at College Square from early morn to dewy eve, with all the machinery that we are able to devise for their transport which unfortunately demands money at every turn, and if Muhammadan students are to do anything like justice to themselves, they must be accommodated somewhere in the neighbourhood of College Square or wherever that College may be. Although the mattter is not strictly before the Council, it rests with the Director of Public Instruction and he can take it up. I hope that steps will be taken to relieve the present situation. I am in full sympathy with the spirit of the resolution, and I wish it all success, but I am afraid, as things stand at present, we are not able to support his resolution."

The Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZL-UL-HAQ said :—

"I would not have said anything further on this subject, but the sympathetic reply of the Director of Public Instruction and the sympathetic words of the Hon'ble the Vice-Chancellor compel me to say a few words of thanks. It was not in a spirit of complaint that I moved this resolution. The Vice-Chancellor has said that, so far as accommodation for these students is concerned, I had a talk with him and I have no reasons to complain because I never brought the matter to the notice of Justice Sir Ashutosh Mukherjee. In moving this resolution, I had no wish to indict the authorities with being at all lax in regard to the provision of accommodation for students. As I have already explained, my reason is to draw the attention once more to the urgency of the matter and also to emphasise the fact that the feeling in our community is very great that some sort of relief should be given, and I quite appreciate the justice of the remarks that a makeshift arrangement at the present moment might deprive us of what we may be happy to count upon as a real boon if we can hold our souls in patience. That may be true so far as the colleges are concerned, but so far as boarding institutions are concerned, I think that suitable boarding messes can be started in hired houses in Calcutta. However, if there is any difficulty, I do not wish to press this matter further. I would be quite content—and I say on behalf of my community that there would not be a word of complaint—if the authorities only urged upon the Government of India the very great urgency of arriving at a speedy decision in this matter. So far as the financial difficulties are concerned, if the needs of the community are properly placed before the Government of India, they will come forward for our help with as much speed as possible, and I think the authorities will not be wanting in attention in this matter and, therefore, so far as this resolution is concerned, I commend it to their earnest attention and care. I only wish to say that I quite realise that it would not be very wise on our part to press this resolution if only the Director of Public Instruction will give us this assurance that he will give this matter his best consideration.

"The resolution was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn."

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 4.

The Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZL-UL-HAQ moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that an Expert Committee be appointed to investigate the sanitary condition of Dacca City and to submit to Government a scheme for the improvement of the same.

He said :—

"Sir,—In moving this resolution I do not wish to pass any censure on the working of the Dacca Municipality, nor is it in a spirit of carping criticism that I bring forward this resolution for the consideration of this Council. I have lived in Dacca for several years, and it would have been extremely surprising if the present insanitary condition of a greater part of the Dacca town had not been prominently brought to my notice. I do not know if the European members of this Council have had any occasion to visit what we call old Dacca. If they have, they will sympathise with me when I say that of all the pressing questions that engage the attention of Government so far as this city is concerned, the most pressing one is the improvement of the sanitary condition of the city. There are not only narrow streets and lanes, but the means of communication are bad enough, and what is most objectionable is the unsatisfactory conservancy arrangements in the city. I find that in a recent issue of the Herald, which is the only authorised organ in Eastern Bengal, this point has been very ably and exhaustively treated. The editor has taken the trouble of pointing out specific instances in which the citizens of this historic city have got a just grievance as regards the conservancy arrangement. I think it is a matter of common knowledge and there will not be any difference of opinion. I do not wish to go into the specific instances. My recommendation at the present moment is this : that an Expert Committee of officials and non-officials be appointed to look into this matter, and after they have considered it in all its aspects and in the light of local experience, they will be able to submit to Government a scheme which will at once be acceptable to Government and also lead to the improvement of sanitary conditions of this city. With these few words I beg to commend my resolution to the acceptance of this Council."

The Hon'ble NAWAB SYED SHAMS-UL-HUDA said :—

"My friend wants an Expert Committee to investigate the sanitary conditions of Dacca and submit a scheme for its improvement. The insanitary condition of Dacca is notorious, and I do not think that we require an Expert Committee to tell us that. This matter of the improvement of the sanitary condition of Dacca has been under consideration for more than twenty years and numerous schemes have been formulated, and in one instance a penalty of Rs. 24,000 had to be paid to the contractor, because the scheme had to be abandoned. The latest scheme is one for the sewerage of the old town of

Resolutions.

Maulvi A. K. Fazl-ul-Haq.

Dacca prepared by the Sanitary Engineer, Mr. Williams. It is a very comprehensive scheme, but it will cost about twenty-five lakhs of rupees. It was estimated at first to cost twenty-two lakhs, but it was found afterwards that we require a number of dumping-depôts and the cost will amount to about twenty-five lakhs, and from my own experience of these estimates I think that we should consider ourselves fortunate if we can manage with thirty lakhs. Besides the scheme of twenty-five lakhs, we require about five lakhs for the opening of inaccessible latrines. The Council will be surprised to hear that out of 13,000 latrines 4,000 are inaccessible and have never been cleared at any time. I do not know if you would come across such a state of things in any other town. There is also a partial scheme which will cost about nine lakhs and which will be confined to the island portion of the town. We had recently a conference in which the Chairman of the Municipality, the Vice-Chairman, the Commissioner of the Division, the Magistrate, myself and the Hon'ble Mr. Beatson Bell were present, and after a great deal of discussion we came to the conclusion that it would not be desirable to take up the partial scheme. The great drawback of the partial scheme is that we cannot do away with the tram service. We have, therefore, decided to try the whole scheme which will cost about thirty lakhs. If the Municipality is only able to raise a loan of five lakhs, Government will have to provide the remaining twenty-five lakhs. The matter is under consideration. The difficulty is that if twenty-five lakhs are given to Dacca alone, we will have, for some years—it may be for many—to starve all other projects in the whole of the Bengal Presidency. The matter requires very anxious consideration. Probably we could have come to a settlement at once if the Municipality could be induced to contribute a few lakhs more, and if the wealthy citizens of Dacca had come forward to help in the scheme. We find however that the utmost we can expect from the Municipality is only a loan of five lakhs. My friend will now realise that we are not suffering from want of advice. We want money and it is only a question of ways and means, and a committee at the present moment would be altogether unnecessary. We have got all the schemes; the sewerage scheme has been approved by the Sanitary Board. There is also another scheme costing one lakh seventy-five thousand for additional water-supply. Administrative sanction will soon be accorded to it. The sewerage scheme is a very large one and in fact the only scheme which will improve the sanitary condition of Dacca. As I have said, it is a question of money and not of a committee."

The Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZL-UL-HAQ said :—

"Sir, after the pronouncement of the Hon'ble Member in charge, it seems to me that the resolution should not have been worded as it is, but should have been an appeal for the collection of subscriptions. I think that would have been more appropriate. The difficulty is only with regard to the ways and means. If it were only a question of money, I do not think I would have brought forward this resolution. But I can say this that so far as certain portions of the town of Dacca are concerned, the Municipality itself has got ample funds at its disposal, and I thought that the attention of the authorities should be drawn to a question of such importance. However, I do not wish to waste the time of the Council if the scheme is already before Government, and if Government do not think that a committee like this can be of any help to it. So far as the schemes are concerned, I do not think there will be any purpose served in pressing this resolution further, because as it is now worded I do not think I can ask for something for which I cannot make out a case. With these words I beg to withdraw the resolution."

The resolution was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

Resolutions.

Nawab Saiyid Nawab Ali Chaudhuri, Khan Bahadur.

LIST OF BUSINESS.—ITEM No. 5.

The Hon'ble NAWAB SAIYID NAWAB ALI CHAUDHURI, KHAN BAHADUR, moved the following Resolution:

"This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that one session of the Bengal Legislative Council be held every year at Dacca."

He said:—

"I do not think I could better signalise the first meeting of the Bengal Legislative Council in the second capital of the Presidency than by bringing forward a motion which seeks to make such meetings an annual event. It is, indeed, an irony of fate that it should have become necessary for Dacca to plead her cause here to-day, and press for the recognition of some of her indefeasible rights as the second capital of the Presidency of Bengal—rights which have been solemnly assured her by the highest authorities here and in England,—rights which again have been sought to be ignored in certain quarters. I shall draw a veil over the recent past—the brief spell of glory which, in our ignorance, we thought to be a heritage that had come back to old Dacca to revitalise her, but which, alas! was destined to vanish too soon. We will not mourn over days that are irrevocably gone, but should be thankful for whatever small gifts we have been promised to console ourselves with. And it is one of these pledges, which were made only two years back on an historical occasion to the people of Eastern Bengal, that we desire to see carried out in all its essential particulars.

Some time has no doubt elapsed since those memorable despatches were penned in Simla and in Whitehall; but, Sir, I am optimistic enough to believe that words used and sentiments expressed therein have lost none of their sincerity and logical significance to-day. If we turn to these documents that passed between the Government of India and the Secretary of State on the question of the territorial redistributions, there is left no room for so much as a shadow of doubt that the maintenance of the importance of Dacca as the capital of Eastern Bengal was laid down as the sine qua non of the administrative rearrangements. As the Secretary of State acknowledges, in referring to the state of things that prevailed before the creation of the province of Eastern Bengal and Assam, 'it is certain that the provincial centre of gravity was unduly diverted to the western portion of the area, and to Calcutta itself, with the result that the Muhammadan community of Eastern Bengal were unintentionally deprived of an adequate share of consideration and attention.' Sir, it was this deplorable negligence of Eastern Bengal that necessitated the territorial changes brought about by Lord Curzon. And it was to prevent a relapse of Eastern Bengal into the shadow of cold neglect—'to avoid slipping back into the unfortunate state of things before the Partition,' as Lord Crew put it in the House of Lords—that the Government of India and the Secretary of State felt called upon to confer on Dacca the status of a second capital. The Secretary of State in his despatch says: 'I attach no little importance to the proposal that the Governor of Bengal should regard Dacca as his second capital, with full claims on his regular attention, and his residence for an appreciable part of the year. The arrangements which have been made there for the administration of the existing Lieutenant-Governor will thus not merely be utilized, but will serve a valuable purpose which it would have been difficult to secure had proposals similar to those which you now make been put forward when the whole of Bengal was undivided. In these circumstances I consider that you are right not to make any suggestion for a Commissionership at Dacca analogous to that existing in Sind in the Presidency of Bombay.'

I respectfully invite your attention, Sir, to the last two sentences in this statement which go to show that the Governor's connection with Dacca is to be of a close and living character such as could not, at any time, make us regret that the other alternative of a Special Commissioner at Dacca did not find favour with the authorities.

Resolutions.

Nawab Saiyid Nawab Ali Chaudhuri, Khan Bahadur.

Turning now to the debate that was raised on this question in the House of Lords by Lord Curzon, we find that the ex-Viceroy emphasised on the continuance of Dacca as a real second capital of Bengal. 'There is a strong feeling in India,' said his Lordship, 'that it will be well to place some statutory obligation upon the Governor of Bengal to spend a certain amount of the year at Dacca. I do not give an opinion on that point,' continued his Lordship, 'but I do say we ought to instruct him to spend at least two months in the year in Dacca, and if possible to take with him the Council and the whole machinery of Government.' In reply to this statement, Lord Crew said: 'I am certain that both the new Governor of Bengal and the Viceroy, with whom he will no doubt discuss the question, will be convinced that it will be necessary in order to hold the proper balance between the different parts of the province, and to avoid slipping back into the unfortunate state of things before the partition, to spend a certain part of the year at that place.' Among the noble Lords who followed the Secretary of State, Lord Macdonald went a little further and cited the annual migration of the Government of Bombay to Poona and of the Government of the United Provinces to Lucknow, as instances in point.

Sir, it is one of our sorest grievances that there has been no statutory recognition of Dacca as the second capital of Bengal. But in view of repeated assurances in the highest quarters, and declaration of policy such as was made by His Excellency in his first speech at Dacca, we think we are right in saying that the position of Dacca is none the less secure.

On the occasion of his visit to Dacca in January 1912, His Excellency Lord Hardinge was approached among others by the People's Association with a prayer that the position and importance of Dacca might be made secure, as recommended in the memorable despatches. In reply, His Excellency said, 'Your new Governor is a man of broad sympathies who will give a ready ear to your prayers and to him I shall commend the special care of the Eastern districts of his new province.' And, Sir we know, His Excellency the Viceroy could not have commended the welfare of Eastern Bengal to better hands.

In the message of sympathy and hope that His Excellency Lord Carmichael himself delivered to the people of Dacca, His Lordship declared thus: 'You may take it that the very fact that no term has been laid down implies in the minds of the Secretary of State and of the Government an honourable understanding that your city is to be in every sense a real second capital, and that the Government will spend a substantial part of each year here.' Noble words these—which still ring in our ears. But, Sir, to our misfortune, jarring notes have since been struck on occasions in some quarters. And the climax was reached in this respect when, at the last meeting of this Council in Calcutta, His Excellency made almost an apology to our hon'ble colleagues in announcing this short meeting in his second capital—which, His Lordship took care to explain, was not to be taken as creating a precedent in favour of Dacca, but was only in the nature of an experiment. I confess that it has been a surprise to me that, after the pronouncement, the attendance to-day is even what we find it to be. I do not for a moment suggest that His Excellency has changed towards Dacca since his first visit here when those memorable words were uttered, or that His Lordship can forget the significance of that promise. Can it be, Sir, that the connotation of a second capital has been puzzling our wise administrators? If that be the case, I venture to think that we have not really to go far afield for the true import of this term. The despatches, the debates in the House of Lords, and His Excellency's own assurances have always left an impression in our minds that this old city is to be made 'in every sense a real second capital' such as Lucknow and Poona are. Indeed, there have been specific references to Lucknow as the type of the second capital to which Dacca would approximate. But, Sir, this analogy would be lacking in one of the most essential features, if a regular session of the Legislative Council is not held at Dacca every year.

Some of our frends in the Press and elsewhere have taken exception to a 'peripatetic Council.' I have no idea as to what their attitude would be if there was a Darjeeling session of the Council every year. As a matter of fact, feeling a desire for a Darjeeling sitting, some of our hon'ble friends petitioned His Excellency for the same, which shows that there is not so much objection to a peripatetic Council as such, as one might be led to infer from the absence of some of our friends here to-day. It is certain, at any rate, that Bengal would not be very singular if Council meetings were held in her second capital. We have only to turn our eyes to Simla, Lucknow and Poona to be convinced of this. What, then, Sir, may I respectfully ask, stands in the way of this city being elevated to the position of a 'real second capital,' where the Government will not only spend an 'appreciable part of the year,' but will be accompanied by 'the Council and the whole machinery of Government," to use again the words of our ex-Viceroy? Are we to be told that Government is best able, during its stay at Dacca, to study the needs of the people of the Eastern portions of Bengal, altogether unaided by their chosen representatives? Whatever others may think about the utility of such meetings, we venture to observe that the Legislative Council is not an absolute superfluity at Dacca. It is, indeed, the Council which confers on a Government an air of reality and enhances its usefulness.

Resolutions.

Nawab Saiyid Nawab Ali Chaudhuri, Khan Bahadur.

It may be very good for Dacca to have the seat of Government here for a couple of months in the year, even though the constituted advisers of Government are not privileged to meet in Council in this City. But to call it the second capital of Bengal would involve a terminological inexactitude with which we are loth to associate His Excellency.

Apart from any consideration of profit to Dacca or Eastern Bengal, which may not have any weight with some of us—what would not the popular representatives gain by being for a few days in the year in touch with a mufassal city where all the current problems of administration—either in the domain of education, sanitation or Local Self-Government—press for solution and can be studied at first hand? The place of a councillor has its responsibilities quite as much as its privileges, and the occasions when sacrifice is called for are not few in the life-time of a patriot. I appeal, therefore, to the patriotism and sense of responsibility of my Indian colleagues to listen to the call of duty which sounds clear, and to cheerfully make some little sacrifice at its altar when such sacrifice is needed in the service of our country of which we are so justly proud. I appeal to my brethren not to spurn away the modest, though genuine, welcome and hospitality which Dacca can offer, but to grasp the hand held out by her in love and comradeship, if we unite to make Dacca a real, living and worthy second capital of Bengal, we will, I am sure, never have any reason to regret whatever little sacrifice we may have to make individually.

Sir, great expectations were roused in the minds of the Muhammadan community of Eastern Bengal by various acts and assurances of Government. I will not pretend to say that all, or even most, of them have been realised. When the hour of sacrifice came, they made the sacrifice demanded of them; for the Moslems of Eastern Bengal know how to make sacrifice. They never complained but accepted the inevitable. The Moslems of Eastern Bengal never complain even if their King's decree is hard.

Lord Crewe, from his place in the House of Lords, complimented the Muhammadan community of Eastern Bengal on the 'remarkable sense and remarkable self-restraint' shown by them in the way in which they took the re-partition of Bengal.

Our Hindu friends welcomed this re-partition as they were opposed to the redistributions as carried out by Lord Curzon; but there is happily not even a breath of difference now between the two great communities of Eastern Bengal as regards the question of the maintenance of the just importance of Dacca. The Hindus and the Moslems of Eastern Bengal stand to-day united in their present demand.

Sir, is it then too much for us to expect that the Government will be pleased to make this city the de facto second capital of Bengal,—'in every sense a real second capital'—and have one session of the Council here every year?"

Resolutions.

Maulvi A. K. Faz-ul-Haq.

The Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZ-UL-HAQ said :—

"I was expecting some of our friends from the western part of the Presidency to say something on this Resolution which I thought would easily have landed us in the region of controversy. I was not aware whether they welcomed this resolution, but after having given the resolution my best consideration I can find that the opposition to it, if there is any room for any opposition at all, ought to come from the non-official members of this Council. So far as the officials are concerned, I may take it that unless the arrangements are materially changed in future most of the officials, who are members of the Council, will spend some time at any rate in Dacca, and the meeting of the Council could be so arranged as to coincide with their presence in this city. It is for this reason that I say that if there are any objections to the holding of the Council session the objection is likely to come from the non-officials, and, broadly speaking, the non-officials could be divided into two distinct divisions—one from the Eastern Bengal districts and the other from the western part of this Presidency. I may mention one or two facts in order that Hon'ble Members may come to a decision on the issues that have been raised by this resolution. In 1913 there was a desire on the part of several Hon'ble Members to have a session of the Legislative Council at Darjeeling, and a petition was submitted to His Excellency, to which all the Hon'ble Members, who happened to be present at that meeting, put their signatures, praying for a session of the Legislative Council at Darjeeling. Immediately after that fact became known, those of us who belonged to the Eastern Bengal districts were reminded by our friends in Dacca and elsewhere that we had neglected the claims of Eastern Bengal. I confess, Sir, that I was one of the signatories. But, after I had signed, I wrote back to my friend saying that I think that I really advocated a session of the Council at Darjeeling, but that did not prevent me from supporting any proposal, if there was any such proposal coming forward, for having a session of the Council at Dacca. I may without any breach of confidence tell the Council that several of the West Bengal members also expressed themselves in sympathy with the Dacca session, and, if my memory serves me right, the Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Banerji promised that, when the question of the advisability of having a session at Dacca came up, he would give it his best support. This year when His Excellency announced an intention of having this session at Dacca, the Hon'ble Nawab Bahadur and several other prominent residents of Dacca, amongst others Babu Ananda Chandra Roy, wrote to all the members resident outside Dacca that they would try their best to extend whatever hospitality this city could afford to those Hon'ble Members who would care to attend this session at Dacca. I take it that the Hon'ble Nawab Bahadur, Babu Ananda Chandra Roy and other leading citizens of Dacca were very anxious that this Council should be well-attended, because His Excellency has said that this would be regarded as in the shape of an experiment, and they naturally concluded that the future of having a session at Dacca would depend on the success of the present sitting at Dacca. I sincerely hope that His Excellency the Governor will not base his decision on the poor attendance which I see in this Council to-day; because, although non-official members have not turned up in large numbers, I have reason to believe that a large number of them would certainly have come but for certain unforeseen circumstances.

I do not think that I need take up the time of this Council by going into the minute details, but I may mention that several Hon'ble Members have written to the leading citizens of the Council explaining the reasons for their absence from the sitting of the Council to-day. The last telegram received from the Hon'ble Mr. Banerji was to the effect that he had some urgent piece of business of his own and that his solicitors did not advise him to leave Calcutta at the present moment. Other gentlemen, except the Maharaja of Burdwan, have written to say that either they are ill or they have got some important private business which prevents them from coming; otherwise they would certainly have come. We give them credit for all this sympathy, as they have all in their messages wished for the success of to-day's sitting at Dacca. From the letters they have written and the telegrams they have sent, not one of them seems to object to the sitting of the Council at Dacca. I take it therefore that so far as non-official members are concerned—the Eastern Bengal members are certainly in favour of it, and so far as the Western Bengal members are concerned they are not opposed to it, and unless for illness or other personal business—they would certainly have attended at Dacca. In these circumstances, I think that the resolution that has been brought forward by the Hon'ble Nawab Saiyid Nawab Ali Chaudhuri deserves the whole-hearted support of this Council."

The Hon'ble RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR said :—

"Sir, I have listened with very great interest to the able and moderate speech which my friend has made to the Council recommending that one of the sessions of the Council be held every year at Dacca. In moving his resolution the Hon'ble Member referred to the past controversy with which was associated a bitterness of feeling between the Hindus and Muhammadans. His words, that the Hindus and Muhammadans stand united to-day is heartily reciprocated by the community to which I belong, and I wish that the effect of these noble words will have taken away the controversies of the past which we all like to forget and he would have done well if he had refrained from dwelling on them. Sir, his proposal that one session of the Legislative Council be held every year in Dacca, if examined critically will be found to be based largely on sentiment—sentiment we respect and adore. Sir I am sorry to see that my Hon'ble friend has questioned the importance of Calcutta. Calcutta does not belong to west Bengal only. Calcutta belongs to Western and Eastern Bengal alike. Look at Calcutta—it occupies the foremost position in Bengal. I do not object to an occasional meeting at Dacca, but I would be the first, and I believe every member of the Council who is interested in the welfare of the Province will be the first, to oppose any important measure being taken up for consideration at a Council meeting at Dacca. I think, Sir, that although many of us would not object to holding meetings at Dacca from time to time, they would certainly object to a whole session being held at Dacca. No doubt the Hon'ble Mr. Haq represents Eastern Bengal and he also represents the Muhammadan community. But I would ask him how would he like it if he were detained here for three months at a stretch having to give up his lucrative practice and being kept away from the succulent pastures of the High Court. He has spoken eloquently about holding a session at Dacca, but I am sure he would be one of the first of the absentees. Sir, as I have said before, there might have been differences between the Hindus and Muhammadans for the last few years and the Hindus are prepared to do anything to meet the wishes of the Muhammadan community. But I will ask them whether it would be wise to hold meetings away from the capital of the premier Presidency in India and away from the light of public criticism. How would it be if the Calcutta Municipal Bill is taken up, discussed and passed at Dacca, the capital of Eastern Bengal? I am sure, my Hon'ble friend will sympathise with us. I therefore think that it is a large order to recommend that a whole session of the Council should be held here."

The Hon'ble NAWAB SYED SHAMS-UL-HUDA said :—

"Sir, I dare say that my Hon'ble friend regrets as much as I do that this Resolution could not be moved at a meeting of Council more largely attended by members from Western Bengal. The Western Bengal members are interested on the other side of the question and any decision that may be arrived at in this Council will to a great extent be discounted by the fact of their absence. However, that is a matter for the mover of the Resolution to consider. I do not desire to enter into the controversy that has arisen between him and the Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur, but I would only state what the Government view of the matter is. So far as sympathy or mere willingness to hold a meeting of the Council at Dacca is concerned, the fact of this meeting to-day is ample demonstration of that. Government would not, however, pledge themselves definitely to hold a meeting of the Council every year in Dacca. Meetings of Council will be held wherever and whenever conditions of public business make it necessary or desirable, and Government do not intend to bind their discretion in this matter. As I have said, I do not wish to enter into the larger questions that have been raised, but I would say that the importance of the second capital depends on something more solid than the mere holding of a Legislative Council Meeting here."

Dr. Deba Prosad Sarbadhikari; the Vice-President.

The Hon'ble DR. DEBA PROSAD SARBADHIKARI said :—

"Sir, After the statement made by the Hon'ble Nawab Shams-ul-Huda, the merits of the question absolutely disappear. It is a matter essentially for the Government to decide, and I have not the least doubt that on future occasions Government will decide the matter from all points of view. But as a Calcutta business-man, who has no inconsiderable share in the succulent pasturage in the neighbourhood of the maidan, I wish entirely to disassociate myself from what has fallen from the Hon'ble Rai Bahadur Radha Charan Pal. I suppose there are succulent pastures all over the country, and leaders of the Bar from various districts and zamindars and merchants who have as much demands on their time make sacrifices for attending Council meetings when they are held either in Calcutta, Simla or at Delhi, and they do not complain. I wish that that narrow view just enunciated had not been taken. Whenever there is any demand on their time members of the Council are expected ungrudgingly to give it, and sacrifices are needed by all who are on the Council. As regards the importance of Dacca being intensified by the holding of a meeting here, I quite agree with the Hon'ble Nawab that Dacca has other and higher claims to public attention which cannot be ignored. I can speak, for example, of her intense and keen educational interest, some of which I had the pleasure of witnessing since my arrival. Thousands of students and teachers whom I have met at Dacca and Narainganj are animated by noble ideals and ambitions which at any time will be a great asset for Dacca."

The VICE-PRESIDENT said :—

"Gentlemen, this is the first occasion on which the present Government has held a sitting of the Legislative Council at Dacca. I know that His Excellency Lord Carmichael looked forward to welcoming a considerable attendance of members, and we must all regret that circumstances of the most ominous and world-wide importance have contributed to deprive it of some of the dignity and consequence which we had hoped it might obtain.

You are all aware of the cataclysm which has befallen some of the leading nations of Europe, and of the intense anxiety which it has caused throughout the world. Already the dislocation of the ordinary methods of trade and business has caused considerable local anxiety in Calcutta, and measures of precaution may at any moment be required to deal with the situation. His Excellency the President has therefore considered it necessary to go to his capital without delay, and many of our members who were due here have been prevented from attending from the same causes. No one will therefore judge of the attitude of Government and of the majority of the Council towards the question of legislative sittings here by the exiguous attendance of to-day. These recent occurrences will have made you realize that in times of stress and crisis the overwhelming importance of Calcutta will still assert itself by the logic of hard fact. I trust that those members who have been able to come from a distance will have formed a favourable impression of the surroundings in which they find themselves, and I hope that in more fortunate times Dacca may see other meetings of the Council better attended and more accurately representing the importance in the Presidency of its second capital.

As regards formal official acceptance of the resolution, however, I can only remind you of the two points which have already been stated by the Hon'ble Nawab Syed Shams-ul-Huda, first, that the question of when and where the Council should meet is constitutionally reserved, not only in this body, but in others of greater age and still greater dignity, to the head of the Executive; secondly, whatever the views of the present Government and whatever pledges they might be willing to give for their own action, nothing that they may decide on can bind their successors."

The Hon'ble NAWAB SAIYID NAWAB ALI CHAUDHURI, KHAN BAHADUR said :—

"Sir, my motion is not that Government should be bound down to hold a session every year at Dacca. But from what has fallen from you, Sir, I take it that the Government are willing to hold some meetings at Dacca. In view of this assurance I do not desire to press this resolution."

The Resolution was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 6.

The Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZ-UL-HAK moved the following Resolution .—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that early steps be taken to locate a few of the Government Departments permanently at Dacca.

He said :—

"Sir, whatever may be the merits of the resolution regarding a session at Dacca, I do not think that my present resolution can come under that category. It is admitted that Dacca is not only the second capital of this Presidency in theory only, but it is so in fact. In the despatch of the Government of India constituting this Presidency it was mentioned that the Government should spend some portion of the year at Dacca. I have not got a complete list with me, but I find from the list that I already possess that in the second capital of the United Provinces, that is, in Lucknow, there are permanently stationed the Department of Land Records, the offices of the Post-Master-General, the Inspector-General of Registration and the Sanitary Commissioner. Poona, the subsidiary capital of Bombay, holds as many as eight departments, and, if my memory serves me right, Lyallpur possesses two departments, and the subsidiary capital of Madras possesses four, and Moulmein, the subsidiary capital of Burmah, possesses at least one department. So it goes without saying that in all these places the Government recognized the importance of the second capital by locating some departments permanently, so that the heads of these departments may come in direct contact with the people when dealing with their work. I do not know what my Hon'ble friend Rai Priya Mukerjee Bahadur will think, but I think that his office, as well as the offices of the Director of Land Records and the Sanitary Commissioner, may be permanently located at Dacca. A question may arise as regards the severances of the heads of these departments almost permanently from Calcutta. What now happens is this, that all the departments are located at Dacca for a couple of months in the year, without any inconvenience. And if some of these departments are permanently located here they can, in the course of their tours, visit other parts of the Presidency. It is felt by the people of Eastern Bengal that the needs and requirements of the people could be better attended to if some of these departments are permanently located here. A question may be raised that while in other provinces the two capitals are joined by railway and that the communication between Calcutta and Dacca is very inconvenient. But that is a question that can be settled by Government if it is dicided to have the departments permanently located here. I do not think any harm will be done. I do not think that from the officials there will be any objection to my proposal, and, so far as the non-officials are concerned, I think I can count upon a unanimous support. With these few words, I beg to commend this Resolution to the acceptance of the Council."

Resolutions.

Mr. Beatson-Bell.

The Hon'ble MR. BEATSON-BELL said :—

"Sir,—Before I go further I would suggest that we should refer to this city as the eastern capital and to the more modern city (Calcutta) as the western capital of the Presidency. There is no invidious distinction in these two expressions.

Then, as regards the main point that is before us—to locate here permanently a few of the Government departments. I was in some doubt as to the exact significance of this phrase. We use the expression Goverment departments to indicate what I may call the slices of the Secretariat, i.e., Appointment Department, the Reveuue Department, the Financial Department, the Political Department, the General Department, and so on. I thought at first that possibly my Hon'ble friend had these slices in mind, but from his speech I see that he is referring purely to the Executive heads of certain branches, with their assistants, clerks and menials. Even then the definition of 'Head of a Department' is by no means clear. I have looked up the definition in the Civil Service Regulations, and I find that it consists of two long lists with an addendum to the effect that anyone else is considered to be a Head of a Department whom the Local Government declares to be such. I think most of the Hon'ble Members will be rather surprised to find that the Board of Revenue, the Superintending Engineer, the District and Sessions Judges are all Heads of Departments. However, I think I am right in assuming that what the Hon'ble Member really wants is that some of the following officers should be located at Dacca, viz., the Chief Engineers, the Inspector-General of Police, the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals, the Inspector-General of Prisons, the Director of Public Instruction, the Commissioner of Excise, the Inspector-General of Registration, the Registrar of Co-operative Credit Societies, the Director of Land Records and the Director of Agriculture. Well, I may say at once that this question has been examined with much sympathy by the members of this Government. We all know the sympathy of Lord Carmichael towards the Eastern capital, and I may be permitted to say that you, Sir, were Collector of Bakarganj, the Hon'ble Mr. Lyon was Chief Secretary to the Government of Eastern Bengal, and my Hon'ble friend Nawab Shams-ul-Huda was born in Eastern Bengal. As regards my own sympathy for Eastern Bengal, it is superfluous that I should say anything. But in spite of the sympathy, I may almost say the bias in favour of Dacca with which we approached this question we have come to the unanimous decision that the proposal cannot, on practical grounds, be given effect to. We cannot locate any of the Departments at Dacca. First of all, you will readily realize that there is the question of expense. If, when the Capital was removed from here, it had been decided that the Secretariat buildings were to remain at the disposal of the executive Government, the question of expense would not have arisen. But we are all

Resolutions.

Mr. Beatson-Bell.

glad that a University is going to be established here, and all these buildings are earmarked for the University. The residences now occupied by the Members of Government and the Secretaries will be given up to the University. The construction of new buildings to replace them is already under consideration. Therefore, if we start establishing Heads of Departments here permanently, we shall have to build still more residences and still more offices. Members will readily realize that the question of finance is a serious one in considering the problem before us, but if it were essential on administrative grounds to incur this expense, I am sure that somehow or other we would be able to find the money. But if we look on it from the administrative point of view we meet with still greater difficulties. I believe some people think that the function of the officers in question is merely to sit in a comfortable room, to dispose of a little routine correspondence, to interview candidates for appointments, and to distribute patronage with a very liberal hand. That is a very pleasing, but a very fanciful picture. The Head of a Department in addition to a vast amount of correspondence has to be in constant touch with his subordinate officers, and with this end in view has to inspect the work of these officers as often as possible on the spot. Secondly, he must keep in touch with the members of the public who are interested in the work of the Department, and,-thirdly, he must keep in touch with the Corresponding Department of the Secretariat and with the Member in charge of that Department. Lord Carmichael and his colleagues have examined all these cases in the light of these considerations, and have come to the conclusion that it would be most unwise to move any of these officers from Calcutta. Let us now take them in order—

In the first place, the Chief Engineers are not only heads of departments, but they are also Secretaries to Government, and, as such, they are inseparable from the Secretariat.

Then, we come to the Inspector-General of Police. I do not think it is seriously urged that the Inspector-General of Police, who has to look after the peace and order of the Province, should be at a distance from the Executive Government.

Then, as regards the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals, we all know that all the large hospitals and medical institutions are in Calcutta, and, if he is not in Calcutta, he is divorced from the chief centre of his activity.

Similarly, with regard to the Inspector-General of Prisons. Most of the great jails are in and around Calcutta, and he can inspect a far greater number of them by living in Calcutta than he can by living in Dacca.

Then as regards the Director of Public Instruction. In spite of the eloquent words of the Vice-Chancellor as to the greatness of the educational interests in Dacca, even the Vice-Chancellor agrees that Calcutta is and will still remain the centre of education. This will be so even after the Dacca University is established. As regards the Commissioner of Excise, the consumption of exciseable articles in Calcutta is very much greater than in any other part of the Province. And not only so, but Calcutta is the chief port and exciseable articles come pouring in from steamers day after day, and it is most important that the Commissioner and his staff should see that smuggling does not go on in Calcutta. Coming to the Inspector-General of Registration, in spite of the fact that several other provinces have found it convenient to remove the Inspector-General into one of their outlying capitals, I do not think it should be so in Calcutta. The amount of registration in Calcutta is enormous. And not only so, but it has been proposed that we should establish in Calcutta something in the nature of Somerset House in England, a large storehouse where all documents will ultimately be collected. If this be done, we are considering it carefully ; it would be most unreasonable to take away the head of the department and to leave our Somerset House to take care of itself. Then we come to the Registrar of Co-operative Credit Societies. We considered the question of locating him outside Calcutta, in some place where co-operative societies are most numerous. At present in Faridpur there are more co-operative societies than in any other part of the Province, but this will not always be so. The Midnapore co-operative work is extending rapidly, and it is likely that Western Bengal will soon take widespread advantage of the co-operative movement, just as Eastern Bengal has done. Apart from all that, proposals are under consideration for the establishment of a provincial co-operative bank with its head-quarters in Calcutta. This bank will be under the control of the Registrar of Co-operative Societies, and this will take a very great part of the time of the Registrar. This alone will be sufficient reason for hesitating before we remove his head-quarters from Calcutta. Then we come to the Director of Land Records: we freely admit that just at present and for the past few years much could have been said for having the Director of Land Records at Dacca. Mr. Jack practically made his head-quarters in Dacca, and if I had been in his position, I should have done the same, but as you all know, the work in Dacca Division is approaching completion.

Resolutions.

Maulvi A. K. Faz-ul-Haq.

In a few years the centre of gravity in settlement work will be in Western Bengal; that being so, I do not think the Hon'ble Member will press us to send the Director of Land Records for a few years only to Dacca. Lastly, we come to the Director of Agriculture. We may at once say that if he were purely and simply a Director of Agriculture we would move him to-morrow to Dacca. It stands to reason that pure agricultural work can be much better done in the country than in the town, and Dacca is peculiarly suitable for such work. We have there got the chief experimental farm with a fine laboratory and fine buildings, and a large expert staff on the spot. So far as agricultural work is concerned, Dacca would be the most suitable place for the Director of Agriculture, but unfortunately the Director of Agriculture is overweighted with a mass of work which is only indirectly connected with agriculture. I refer to all his statistical work and to the jute and other forecasts, which he has to publish. This takes up an enormous portion of his time, and in connection with this branch of his work he is practically tied to Calcutta; he is at the beck and call—and it is right that he should be so—of the business communities of Calcutta, both Indian and European. That being so, although we look forward to the day when we shall get a separate officer to conduct the purely statistical work, and shall allow the Director of Agriculture to confine himself to his proper work of agriculture, yet that day is not yet come; and until we can get a separate officer, I am afraid we must reluctantly say that it is not possible to have the Director of Agriculture placed at Dacca. I think I have shown that we have examined the question with great sympathy and have been very anxious to do something towards locating a few of the heads of departments here. I am very sorry that I of all people should have found it my duty to throw cold water on a motion with which I have so much sympathy. I agree in the unanimous conclusion of my colleagues that it is not practical to go any way towards accepting this resolution. If the Hon'ble Member is determined to carry this resolution to a division, I have only to say that we shall be glad to know the opinions of the non-official members of the Council. It is not the intention of the official Members to vote."

The Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZ-UL-HAQ said:—

"Sir, it is certainly a question upon which I would have asked for a division, but I do not think it would be fair on my part, considering the attendance at the meeting, to ask for a division. I hoped that my friends from the western division of the Presidency would support me so far as this resolution is concerned, although they might have had some personal objection to the resolution of the Hon'ble Nawab Saiyid Nawab Ali Chaudhuri. I am afraid I shall ultimately have to withdraw the resolution. But there are one or two points in the Hon'ble Mr. Bell's lucid explanation which are far from convincing, if I may be pardoned for saying so. I do not mean to say that there are not almost insuperable difficulties in the way of locating some departments outside Calcutta. But at the same time it strikes me that there are one or two departments about which there does not seem to me to be very great difficulties. I did not know that this question had been discussed by the authorities, and I have no doubt that, if this question has been discussed, it has been discussed in a spirit of doing fair justice to Eastern Bengal. The claims of the Eastern districts are so great that, in spite of the adverse decision as the result no doubt of weighty reasons, I would still urge on the Government to consider these claims before they come to any final decision, because I believe that it is a question which can be re-opened, if not in this Council, at least by the officials themselves, because it is a matter which concerns the officials most so far as the Eastern districts are concerned. Let us cite, for instance, one or two departments which have been discussed by the Hon'ble Member—say, the office of the Inspector-General of Registration. Let us take the case of Bombay and Poona on the one hand and Calcutta and Dacca on the other. I think that, so far as Calcutta is concerned, the amount of registration work is not very much more than what it is in Bombay. And so far as the work of the Inspector-General of Registration is concerned, I do not think that the Inspector-General in Bombay has got his hands much lighter than the Inspector-General in Bengal. If, in spite of that, the Bombay Government could locate the office of the Inspector-General of Registration at Poona, I do not see what great difficulties can there be for the location of the office of Inspector-General of Bengal at Dacca. Add to this the fact that the number of registration cases is far more numerous in Eastern Bengal districts than in the western division of the Presidency. In Eastern Bengal. people not only rush to the registration offices for the purpose of registration in cases where registration is absolutely necessary, but also in cases in which people in Western Bengal would not dream of going. For instance, dakhilas, which are given by the landlord to the tenant, are never registered in Western Bengal, but the tenant in Eastern Bengal, if he has any the least reason to suspect his landlord, rushes to the registration office to have his dakhila registered. Then there are the Muhammadan registration offices. So far as statistics are concerned, in Western Bengal the registrar does not make more than 6 or 7 rupees a month. I speak from personal knowledge. I recommended a person for a marriage registrarship and after a time he wanted to give it up, for not only did he realise a very small income from registration, but he had to spend extra from his own pocket. I do not know whether such is the case anywhere else, but such is certainly the case in Eastern Bengal. These registrations are certainly an important part of the Inspector-General's duty, as he has to look after these Muhammadan registration offices. Ordinary registration is also more numerous in Eastern Bengal. I think, therefore, that if the Inspector-General spends a few more months at Dacca than he does at present, there would not be much dislocation of business.

Resolutions.

Maulvi A. K. Faz-ul-Haq.

Now let us take the case of the Registrar of Co-operative Credit Societies. I know that the co-operative work in Midnapore is getting heavier, but I think that it will take years and years before it makes great headway in Western Bengal. But in Eastern Bengal in Madaripore, etc., the work is already very great. And about the Provincial bank, that is going to be started in Calcutta. I do not think that that bank should tie down the Registrar to Calcutta. He can control the work in course of his tours. He can visit Calcutta if occasion so requires, but that is no reason why he cannot spend a few more months at Dacca. The case was almost similar before the territorial redistribution.

Resolutions.

Nawab Saiyid Nawab Ali Chaudhuri, Khan Bahadur.

In the case of the Inspector-General of Registration, I do not think he has got more to do, so far as Western Bengal is concerned, than the Inspector-General in the late Eastern Bengal Government had to do, so as far as Assam was concerned. Of course I am alluding to the Inspector-General's work in Western Bengal minus Calcutta. Calcutta is an exception. It appropriates and justly appropriates the time of the authorities. But I do not think why the work in Calcutta cannot be controlled from here or in the course of tours, so far as those two heads of departments are concerned. Sir, I do not wish to detain the Council any longer, but I will only say this, that in view of the very great importance of the subject, Government should not commit themselves one way or the other and if, for good cause shown, it becomes necessary later on to permanently locate some offices in Dacca, I sincerely hope that Government will reconsider their present decision. With these words, I beg to withdraw my resolution."

The Resolution was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 7.

The Hon'ble NAWAB SAIYID NAWAB ALI CHAUDHURI, KHAN BAHADUR, moved the following Resolution :—

That this Council recommends to the Governor-in-Council that early steps be taken to provide adequate waterway for the District Board Road and Railway across the river Banar in the Jamalpur subdivision in the Mymensingh district.

He said :—

" Sir, in reply to my interpellation on the 28th February last on the subject, the Hon'ble Mr. Finnimore was pleased to state that Government have made enquiries and that they were waiting for a reply from the Eastern Bengal State Railway authorities and the Superintending Engineer, Eastern Circle, on references made to them on the subject. Sir, full five months have elapsed since my interpellation, and the reply in question may have been received by this time.

It is already known to Government that the river Banar in the Jamalpur subdivision of the Mymensingh district has been blocked by the construction of a District Board Road and of the Narayanganj-Jagannathganj railway line, near its junction with the Brahmaputra. I can hardly exaggerate the terrible loss which the people of that quarter sustain when in the rainy season the river overflows, there being no channel for the passage of flood water. The crops of the neighbouring villages are totally destroyed, being submerged under water, thereby causing serious loss to the poor subjects who are deprived of their only means of livelihood. But their sufferings do not end here.

From a sanitary point of view also the inhabitants of that quarter suffer severely. The whole area has become the hot-bed of malaria, which has become a serious menace to the health of the whole subdivision. They had petitioned Government on this subject stating all their grievances, but their petition has apparently not borne any fruit as yet.

The sooner the mouth of the river is set free the better for the poor inhabitants of adjacent villages both from economic and sanitary points of view. Moreover, if the mouth of the river is set free, people of that quarter will be better able to carry on trade communications with adjacent places.

Resolutions.

Mr. Beatson-Bell ; Maulvi A. K. Faz-ul-Haq.

Sir, this is a resolution of an absolutely non-controversial character, and as such I hope I can count upon the support of my Hon'ble colleagues and Government."

The Hon'ble MR. BEATSON-BELL said :—

"I may say that Government accepts this resolution. I agree with the Hon'ble Mover that it is of a non-controversial character. The Banar is a river which flows out of the old Brahmaputra and finds its way southwards Near the north end it is blocked by the District Board Road and the Railway, and further south it is blocked by a number of bunds constructed by the villagers. The result is that that this causes serious injury to the sanitary conditions of the villages along its banks. The Collector, the District Engineer, the Superintending Engineer and the Commissioner (myself) all reported in favour of removing these obstructions, so that the river could be flushed. The local authorities had submitted an estimate for Rs. 4,517 to provide a bridge on the District Board road and to remove the obstructions made by the villagers, but it is obviously useless to carry out these works unless the Railway does its share by providing a bridge on this embankment. This railway project has been estimated to cost about Rs. 7,500.

It so happens that the line is owned by the I. G. S. Company and is only worked by the Eastern Bengal State Railway. The steamer company has referred the matter to the London Board. We are awaiting their final reply. I can assure the Hon'ble Member that when that reply is received—and I have great hopes that the steamer company will join with us in removing this obstruction—Government will take effective steps to see that whatever is necessary is done, and done promptly."

The Resolution was then put and agreed to.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No.

The Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZ-UL-HAQ moved—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that the Government of Bengal do represent to the Government of India the urgency of connecting Barisal with Calcutta by rail.

He said :—" I may say at once that I have been led to move this resolution from motives of local partiotism. I have myself experienced very great inconvenience in the matter of a journey from Barisal to Calcutta. Barisal is undoubtedly one of the most important towns in Eastern Bengal, and it is the most important rice-producing centre in Bengal. As early as 1913 I put a question in this Council, when Government were pleased to say that steps were being taken to connect Barisal and Calcutta by rail. I repeated this question in another form later, and favourable reception was given to it by Government. I do not know how far the project has advanced, but in order to point out the very great urgency of this matter I have moved this resolution."

With these few words, I beg to commend this Resolution to the acceptance of this Council "

The Hon'ble MR. BEATSON-BELL said :—

"Sir, I have much pleasure in saying that Government has no objection in accepting this resolution. I may inform the Hon'ble Member that once a year this Government is called on by the Government of India to submit a report upon pending railway projects and to state which of these meet with the approval of this Government. In our report last year

Resolutions,

Babu Upendra Lal Ray.

we included the Barisal scheme as one of those which met with the approval of this Government. At that time the Barisal project which held the field was a narrow gauge project. Since then I am glad to say that matters have advanced a good deal. Messrs. Gillanders, Arbuthnot & Co. applied to the Railway Board for a concession to construct, not a narrow gauge line, but a broad gauge line to Barisal The proposal is that the line should be a continuation of the Calcutta-Khulna line. The Khulna line, as now proposed, will be carried right north to Madaripur and south to Barisal. This Government was asked for its opinion regarding this proposal, and on the 21st March this Government reported to the Government of India that the development of the railways in this area is in the opinion of the Governor in Council a matter of much importance, and that His Excellency accorded his cordial support to the application. Since then the detailed survey has been made by the Eastern Bengal State Railway and the estimates are under preparation. It has not yet been decided who will construct this line, but if constructed, it will certainly be worked by the Eastern Bengal State Railway. We hope that the people of Barisal will soon get uninterrupted communication between Barisal and Calcutta. My colleagues and I discussed the subject a few days ago, and we are now drafting our annual report to the Government of India on the subject of railway projects.

I can assure my Hon'ble friend that this broad gauge railway from Khulna to Madaripur and Barisal will be placed on our list, and although it may not be at the top, it will have a good place on the list, and we shall do our best to see that this line is completed without undue delay. That is as much as we can promise at this stage."

The Resolution was then put and agreed to.

LIST OF BUSINESS.—ITEM No. 9.

The Hon'ble BABU UPENDRA LAL RAY moved the following Resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that steps be taken for the improvement of the Port of Chittagong, and for the provision of better means of communication between that port and the Eastern Bengal districts.

He said :—

" Sir,—The resolution I have the honour to move is of a very simple character. I feel sure that it will meet with the approval of Government and will not be deemed unacceptable. I am suggesting only two things, viz., the improvement of the Port of Chittagong and the provision of better means of communication between that port and the districts of Eastern Bengal. These two subjects are intimately connected with each other. In my last speech on the Budget I made mention of the necessity for improving the port of Chittagong. From its geographical situation this port is the natural outlet to the sea for a vast tract of country the trade of which can be better served both inward and outward through this port provided better facilities are given to it. It is an admitted fact that the senior port of the Province, I mean Calcutta, is congested heavily. The late Government of Eastern Bengal and Assam considered the question in all its aspects, and did not fail in its attempt to impress the Government of India with the necessity for improving it. That Government also fully supported the schemes suggested by the Eastern Bengal and Assam Government, and helped the port with funds for coping with the many disabilities it had been suffering from. The dredger Karnafuli I, supplied to the port entirely out of Imperial revenues, is doing excellent work and, as the name indicates, is one of the complete set of dredgers or other appliances necessary to keep the work in running order. The Commissioners for the Port of Chittagong have always drawn the attention of Government to the necessity for further appliances; and in answer to certain queries from this Government about the future needs of the port they have suggested, amongst others, a more powerful dredger as the thing of first importance. The river is causing some anxiety and special care has to be taken about its training and conservancy. The Commissioners are at present engaged in formulating some suitable schemes for facilitating the coasting trade of the port, and when they mature and reach the Government we earnestly hope they will receive favourable consideration. Nearness to the sea conduces in no small degree to minimize the expenses of steamers using the port; and the shortness of its distance from the tracts of country it serves by nearly 25 per cent.—helps those places to carry commodities to and from the port at much less expense. Those are the facilities which Chittagong possess geographically, and the increase of trade within the last few years caused evidently by the opening up of the Assam-Bengal Railway justifies expenditure of further sums of money for improvement of the port.

Resolutions.

Mr. Beatson-Bell.

Turning to the question of opening up of new railway lines, I venture to say that there is nothing new in my suggestion. The utility of railway lines is undisputed, and the immensely fertile and thickly populated parts of Mymensingh district are at persont served only by the River Steamer Companies which cannot carry the goods from all parts of the district except during the rains. Of the schemes suggested a line of railway from Bhairab to Netrokona, for which a survey has already been made, would remove this difficulty, and we can only hope that the assurance of Government that this line would receive the first consideration would be soon fulfilled. Opposition has always been and will also be made to any scheme which affects any particular class of people, but in the case of a scheme by which the whole country is benefited the interests of the few should give way and those of the country at large should appeal to the Government. Sir, in these days of improved communication it is a pity that the Barisal district and the comparatively large area of the Mymensingh district hitherto untapped by railway should not have this means of communication. I am glad to learn to-day that the Barisal project will soon be taken in hand. The Assam-Bengal Railway feeds the Port of Chittagong and should have prior claim to have extensions over the tract of country it traverses. It is not desirable and proper that there should be two lines of railway over the same area, and the transfer of the Dacca-Mymensingh-Jagannathganj section of the Eastern Bengal State Railway is one which should commend itself to this Government. Trade statistics will show that the imports and exports of the Port of Chittagong have increased manifold since the construction of the Assam-Bengal Railway, and the development of this line, which is sure to augment the general prosperity of the country, is a matter which should attract the early attention of the Government. I do not think it necessary to trouble the Council with further observations. The subject is well known to Government, and its importance having been recognized by them I venture to hope that the humble resolution which I have the honour to place before the Council on behalf of the Commercial community of Eastern Bengal and at their express desire will be accepted. The popular view on this question has been repeatedly ventilated through columns of the Herald, the organ of pubic opinion in Eastern Bengal."

The Hon'ble MR. BEATSON-BELL said:—

"Sir, I have much pleasure on behalf of Government in saying that we accord our cordial support to the motion that steps be taken for the improvement of the Port of Chittagong and for the provision of better means of communication between that port and the Eastern Bengal districts. The Government has a very kindly eye upon the Port of Chittagong. This can be seen not only from the financial help that has been given by Government, but also from the fact that very recently special legislation was undertaken with a view to improve the administration of the port. As regards the railways, the Hon'ble Member has referred to the Bhairab-Netrakona Railway. This scheme, which has the full support of the Bengal Government, is now under the consideration of the Secretary of State, whose orders are expected shortly. As regards the other means of improving the Port of Chittagong, the Hon'ble Member is of course aware that Sir Francis Spring recently visited Chittagong and made an epoch-making report. We have been considering that report and the far-reaching recommendations contained in it, and long before the Hon'ble gentleman gave notice of this Resolution you, Sir, and I had decided to pay a joint visit to Chittagong for the very purpose mentioned in the resolution. We were going to be accompanied by Mr. Stephenson to give us financial advice and Colonel Lotbinière, to give as engineering advice, but unfortunately the European crisis came upon us just as were ready to start. We have been reluctantly compelled to abandon our tour for the present ; but we have in no way slackened our interest in the port and we hope before long to visit Chittagong and to do all that we can to carry out the improvement of the port with such means as we have at our disposal or may have in the future. That being so, I have much pleasure in accepting the resolution of our Hon'ble friend."

The Resolution was then put and agreed to.

Resolution.

The President.

[The Proceedings of the Meeting were confined to the discussion of a Resolution which was made by His Excellency the President.]

The PRESIDENT said :—

"Gentlemen, I have summoned you to this extraordinary meeting not because there is any business in the ordinary sense of the word to be done, but because I feel it is right and I know that many of you feel it is right for us to meet and express our loyalty to our King-Emperor at this time. I feel, too, that there is advantage in our showing to the people of Bengal that not only is the Executive Government alive to their needs and determined to do all it can to meet them, but that the representatives of all classes and communites—whatever their creeds or even their race—are also alive to those needs and are as determined as Government servants are to meet them, and what is even of more importance that they are determined to meet them in co-operation with Government, thus making it clear that our common loyalty is a real bond which firmly knits the people of India and the people of Great Britain together and adds to the strength of each. I have therefore decided to move a resolution to-day from the Chair. I shall ask you to declare that—

"This Council desires to convey to His Majesty the King-Emperor an assurance of its profound loyalty and devotion to His Throne and Person; to express its entire confidence in the Government by law established in British India; and to place on record its firm resolve to co-operate with that Government in carrying out all measures which may be found necessary to secure the safety or welfare of the people."

Gentlemen, the loyalty of Bengal is undoubted. There may be a few men, to whom on less troublous times attention naturally turns, who would like to upset the Government of the King-Emperor, but the vast majority of our people—practically all—are loyal in the true sense of the word. I do not labour this point. To me the fact seems undoubted. You know how far it is true; if it is true, you will in all wise ways prove it.

War is a terrible thing; how terrible few, if any, of us perhaps yet realize; we may be going to realize it to the full. The news that the whole British Empire was involved in war came on us suddenly. Little wonder if we all stood aghast. Little wonder if to some of us the more terrifying aspect of war loomed large. We had not all realized how united we are, and that, too, added to the gravity of the situation. But we have realized it now. We begin to dwell on what is encouraging. Here, no less than in every other part of the Empire, we hold together. We feel that we have no need to fear each other. British businessmen recognize that Indians, as Indians, will not seize on chances to do damage to their property, and Indians realize that British troops of all arms will, if need be, defend the lives and property of Indians quite as bravely as they will fight for their own. If disturbance should break out, we all know that the most insignificant modi, who depends on his small stock of wares for his livelihood, can look for the same protection as the owner of the largest mill or the most elaborate machinery. Those of us who have gone into the matter feel that His Imperial Majesty and his advisers in entering into the war did so for a cause which we believe is righteous. We do not know much—for that has not hitherto been our business—about the organization on which our success in war depends, but we believe that it is as good as conscientious men can make it. As far as India is concerned, this organization is in the hands of the Viceroy and his Government. We trust the Viceroy; we shall gladly do all that he may call on us to do.

Resolution.

The President.

In Bengal, I hope the people trust the Government and believe that Government will do their best. I know that Government trusts the people to help where they can. The people can help us—some more than others. You non-official members of my Council can help more than most. You can help us by calmly thinking things out, by considering any proposals which may be suggested, by selecting what is good, by doing yourselves such things as you can do, and when you think Government help is required, by not being in too great a hurry for an answer, and by remembering that even Government cannot always do everything. Those are simple matters, but they are very important. We, the Executive Government, on our side shall consider proposals and, if we think you can give us help by getting information, by spreading information, or in any other way, we shall not hesitate to ask for it.

There was much anxiety, there still is much anxiety, about trade and commerce, but it grows less. People realize that things adapt themselves to altered circumstances. Most of the anxiety is due to causes which those only with technical knowledge understand. I believe the merchants and large traders who do understand them recognize that the Government of India, and in a lesser way my Government, have tried to give help to them. Many of the ways by which commerce can best be helped lie outside of India altogether. We have been clearly reminded how much we depend on England—on London. Till things are steady there, things can hardly be steady here. But there is rapid improvement, and we hope soon to get all help we need to enable us to help ourselves. The jute industry is in all our thoughts. No one knows better than Government do the importance of that industry. We are considering it in every aspect. We are getting full and accurate information. I put forward no proposals, but I assure you that there is nothing to which I personally am giving more thought. We recognize the importance to that other great industry, the tea industry, of not losing its labour force. Trade must be seriously checked—nothing can prevent that. There must be loss to all, but it is Government's interest quite as much as that of anyone—and it is the interest of all—not to allow employment to fall off more than can be prevented. We know that those who must suffer most if trade and commerce shrink are those who can least afford to suffer. We recognize that if mills cannot work at a profit, mills must stop and mill-hands must be thrown out of work. We know what a danger that may become. The mill-owners will help us. If they are forced to close their mills, they will give us warning, so that we may be prepared. Perhaps then you, too, may do something. You may know where labour is needed. Government at least will try to guide labour where employment can be found.

The price of food-stuffs and of the necessities of life has been brought prominently before us. What has been done elsewhere has been pointed out, and we have been asked what we intend to do. We are doing what we can. We are ascertaining facts. We have appealed to those who control the markets, and I am glad to say I hear they are helping us. Taken as a whole, prices have not risen to an alarming extent. Some of them have not risen at all. Others which did rise are now falling. We are well aware of the danger, and that we shall not fail to take any lawful steps to prevent any unjustifiable rise in the prices of necessities. Nothing can be meaner than for private persons to make money out of public difficulties, and certainly we shall do our best to prevent it. In this, too, perhaps we can get help from some of you, my non-official colleagues. It has been stated that individuals trading on the nervousness of the poorer and more ignorant classes have by false representations bought currency notes much below their value. Surely you can help to make it more widely known, if that be necessary, that a ten-rupee note is worth ten rupees so long as Government are solvent; and that there can be no doubt that the Government are solvent.

Resolution.

The Maharaja-dhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan; Nawab Saiyid Nawab Ali Chaudhuri, Khan Bahadur.

The responsibility of Government is great, and Government recognize that responsibility. Your responsibility is also great. I believe that you recognize it to the full. There are many proofs of this. We have only to look at our newspapers. I do not refer to one newspaper to which I might refer, for I know how immediately one of you is connected with it. But there was an article yesterday in another newspaper, not as a rule very closely associated with Government views, which I dare say many of you read, entitled 'How the Government can help the people in the present crisis.' I read that article, and it struck me that it might quite as well have been entitled "How the people can help the Government," for the one lesson was quite as clearly put forward as the other. It very clearly pointed to ways in which mischief may be produced, and I think that if those outside of Government do their best to understand these they will be helping us, for in many of those matters that which is needed most is confidence. I think I have now said enough. I feel I can confidently appeal to you to help in the greatest need of the present moment. Through the mists of ignorance small dangers may easily loom large. You, gentlemen, are not ignorant. You have many of you great powers of persuasion. You can use your powers to enlighten the ignorant and reassure the timid. I cannot now do better than remind you of the old words of the Hebrew Prophet—'In quietness and confidence shall be your strength.' I beg to move the Resolution which I have read to the Council."

The Hon'ble the MAHARAJA-DHIRAJA BAHADUR OF BURDWAN said—

"In rising to support this Resolution I shall only say a very few words, for the Resolution is one which commends itself to everyone of us present here to-day, and, speaking on behalf of the landholders of the Province, I may say that they realize the danger of the European crisis more than most of us perhaps. For they have had to bear the brunt in more ways than one in the past, and they will have to bear that brunt in the future. Their loyalty is known to the Crown, their prosperity is entwined with that of the Government, and I am sure that all zamindars will rise to the occasion and give such assistance as may be required of them. We know full well that we are only in the beginning of a great war; what the future holds none can say; but we sincerely pray for the success of the British arms and prosperity of British India. Your Excellency has been pleased to remark about the effect the war is likely to have on trade and commerce, and, lastly, on the price of food-stuffs. This is a matter that I think we are interested in vitally, for to avoid panic, to avoid riots, the thing that is necessary is to keep down the price of food-stuffs as much as possible. We can well understand the price of food-stuffs on imported articles going up, but I think all market owners should realize that it is to their benefit that indigenous articles or country produce do not rise in price, and I think all municipalities should realize this and co-operate with the zamindars, with the owners of markets and the Government to help us in keeping down the price of country produce and thereby help in keeping down all panic and disturbances. I heartily support this Resolution, and wish to add that the zamindars of Bengal will do all in their power to help the Government and to show loyalty to the cause and to the British Government which has given them so much peace and prosperity."

The Hon'ble NAWAB SAIYID NAWAB ALI CHAUDHURI, KHAN BAHADUR said—

"My Lord—Prior to and since the outbreak of war between England and Germany and especially ever since the pronouncement of His Excellency Lord Hardinge of the unflinching loyalty of the Army and peoples of India, there has been a spontaneous outburst from princes and peoples of this vast continent of proffers of personal and material assistance to Government, should necessity arise for the same, during this critical juncture. It is well nigh astonishing at a time when Ireland was almost on the brink of a civil war on account of bitter and acute party feelings and when the militant suffragettes were making themselves obnoxious and dangerous to a degree by their persistent and wanton destruction of buildings and property—I say it was nothing short of a miracle that—all have joined hands together in their earnestness to defend the Empire by offers of assistance to Government against the enemy of Great Britain—an enemy who has provoked and thrust the war that was never wanted. Then, again, the fact of the encouraging news of all the colonies vying with one another in their offer of assistance to Government is another matter for jubilation. The Empire has been stirred to its depths of sincerity in its loyalty to the Throne of England and fervent wish for the ultimate success of British arms. Germany has forced the war upon England and has been seeking to set ablaze all Europe in one conflagration. I must say, however, that we are thankful that overtures for the maintenance of peace were strenuously made by Sir Edward Grey, one of Great Britain's valiant statesmen, whose name future historians will no doubt record in glowing terms. But, alas, Germany seemed to have spurned it all and has sought to follow her own wilful ways. It is an unrighteous war imposed by Germany on Britain and Europe in general, and we Indians feel proud to belong to such a Government that seeks to 'vindicate,' in the words of Mr. Asquith, 'the principle that small nations must not be crushed in defiance of international good faith at the arbitrary will of a strong and overmastering power,' and whose arms have been raised for the protection of England and her commerce and to strike 'in defence of the vital civilizations of the world.' I need hardly say that the interests of this country and the civilization of the whole world are indissolubly bound up with the integrity and solidarity of the British Empire.

Resolution.

Nawab Saiyid Nawab Ali Chaudhuri, Khan Bahadur.

My Lord, I beg leave to associate myself, as a member of the Muhammadan community, with what has already been so ably said on the subject by Your Lordship, and I say with all the sincerity of my heart that my community shall ever remain loyal to the Throne and Person of our beloved King-Emperor, and shall ever be ready to make such sacrifices as we may be called upon to make to help the Government in a successful issue out of this wanton and unrighteous war.

My Lord, speaking as I do as an Indian and as a member of my community, we are indebted to the British Raj a great deal—so much so that any sacrifice we may make will not be considered too great. We shall not be wanting in our assurances of sympathy and help to Government at this crisis and sink any grievances we may have and rally to the succour of our Government. I beg to assure Your Excellency's Government that we, the Muhammadans of Bengal, are not one whit less devoted and loyal to our King-Emperor, and we would count it a privilege to offer our personal and material assistance in the defence of the Empire—an Empire that has stood for purity, strength, righteousness and civilization which have left visible and indelible marks wherever the British held sway.

Only yesterday I presided over a meeting covened by the Provincial Muhammadan Association at Dacca at the suggestion of the Hon'ble Nawab Bahadur of Dacca—whose protracted illness we all deplore—where the following resolution was unanimously adopted :—

'That this meeting, representing the Muhammadans of Eastern Bengal, offers its sincere prayers for the success of the British arms in the war which has been forced upon England by the unrighteous action of Germany, and that the community, true to its tradition of loyalty and devotion to the British Crown, places its services at the disposal of the Government in protecting the interests of the Empire.'

Resolution.

Babu S. N. Banerji.

I may assure Your Excellency that in addition to the expressions of loyalty and devotion to the Throne of England and offers of all possible assistance, there goes up a fervent prayer from His Majesty's Mussalman subjects in Bengal for the success of British arms.

We shall never cease to continue to echo the chorus—
'Rule Britannia; Britannia rules the waves.'

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH BANERJI said—

"My Lord, I desire on behalf of those whom I have the honour to represent in this Council to associate myself whole-heartedly with the Resolution which Your Excellency have been pleased to lay before us for our acceptance. I desire to assure Your Excellency and through Your Excellency the Government of India and His Majesty the King-Emperor of our unswerving loyalty to the British connection, of our devoted attachment to the British Throne, of our eager solicitude to co-operate with the Government, and to participate in the defence of the Empire. It is a crisis which brings to the front the true—it might be the hidden—qualities of men and communities. From every part of this wide, wide continent, from every section of its multitudinous people, from the highest to the lowest, from the Prince in his palace to the peasant in his cottage, there has emanated the most striking evidence of the devotion of the people to the Empire. The princes of the land have offered to place all their resources at the disposal of the Government. The middle class community, unburdened with the goods of this world, are eager to serve the Empire. Our prayer for enrolment as volunteers is a reply to any aspersion which might be cast on our courage or our loyalty. We have our little differences with the Government—what people have not—but I speak the truth when I say that we have sunk them all and have buried them out of sight for the moment, in the firm resolve to stand by the Empire. We are a loyal people. Your Excellency has borne testimony to our loyalty. By instinct, by habit, by immemorial traditions, we are loyal. Our loyalty has its roots deep in our hearts, but it is a reasoned loyalty. It springs from the fountains of our affections. We are loyal not only because it is part of our nature, our temperament, our creed, but because everyone of us feel that with the stability and permanence of British rule are bound up the best prospects of Indian advancement. The flag which waves over us, the flag which has made us what we are is the emblem of our national unity and our national progress. It is our hope and prayer that it may continue to float over us until we enter the promised land and are reckoned among the free States of a great and federated Empire. These are the hopes and ambitions which warm our bosoms as we gather round the banner of the Empire which is the banner of justice and freedom.

We are very far from the theatre of war, but in these days of rapid communication the consequences of war are of world-wide comprehensiveness, and we are beginning to feel its effects in the abnormal rise in the price of food-stuffs here. There is not the smallest justification for this rise of prices, because the enhanced prices are charged on the old stock which was purchased long before we heard of war or the rumours of war. In other parts of India the authorities have taken steps to regulate the prices. We are confident that when the time comes Your Excellency's Government would take steps to do the same here. The Corporation, which controls the largest market in the city, can do a great deal in this matter, and perhaps the Chairman of the Corporation might get the shop-keepers to meet him and accept the prices he fixes. Once that is done the news would spread like wild-fire and mufassal traders would take their cue from Calcutta. In conclusion, may I be permitted to express the earnest hope that your Excellency's Government will be graciously pleased to accept the co-operation of the community and the loyal offers of service which they are making. Such acceptance will deepen their attachment to the Empire which they are privileged to serve in the hour of danger. It will enhance their self-respect, their civic dignity and their sense of Imperial responsibility. Their devotion to the Empire will be consecrated by service. I support the Resolution.

Resolution.

Dr. Deba Parsad Sarbadhikari.

The Hon'ble DR. DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said—

"On behalf of the University and of all that it stands for, which is much, I beg to associate myself very whole-heartedly with the terms of the Resolution that Your Excellency has put from the Chair. If, my Lord, other people are less burdened with the goods of this world than our princes, those that I represent are burdened with still less. They cannot offer anything in the way of material wealth. But they have energies and their own limited resources which will be wholly at the disposal of the Government in any manner which the Government may desire to utilize them. During the last few days in Calcutta and Dacca it has been my good fortune to come across thousands of young men and their teachers and professors, and they have all but one message for the Government and the authorities, and that is of their whole-hearted devotion to the Throne and Person of the King-Emperor and their adherence to the British Government constituted by law. I shall not take up the time of the Council by going over what has been so eloquently stated by my predecessor. There is an outstanding feature with regard to this war. unparallelled in the annals of recent wars, that there is not a breath of protest or dissent with regard to the righteousness of the war from the point of view of the British, and there is but one consension of opinion in every quarter that we have any access to. We remember other wars in regard to which there may have been room for differences of opinion, and as a matter of fact people took different views and expressed different opinions, but in regard to this war the opinion wherever you go, whether it be amongst the educated people or amongst the uneducated, I speak specially for the former, there is but one opinion. All recognize the righteousness of the cause that has been undertaken to be defended by the British. Hindus are a people that believe, that in war on whatever side there is righteousness the Lord is also on that side, and that side prevails. That has been the sentiment freely expressed and there is strength in that. If Government should accept any of the recommendations that have been made and will be pressed on them, I beg to assure the Government that our young men will very whole-heartedly co-operate with regard to all that may be demanded of them. In the meantime there is already a practical demonstration of what some of these men can do. Reference has already been made to it, and I should like to dwell on that aspect of the medical volunteer movement. Whatever may be the fate of any other movement that may be initiated, I do not think there can be any room for doubt that fullest utilization should be possible with regard to the offer of our medical friends. They are already meeting in large numbers, organizing measures for work, and they will soon be ready to do what they can in regard to anything that the Government may think fit to utilize them for. That is a practical thing that can at once be availed of. With regard to the economic aspect of the question, hardship is already beginning to be felt, and from the point of view that I represent, this aspect of the question is of the greatest importance, because it affects the poorest communities, from which our students mostly come, and any little strain, so far as they are concerned, is bound to tell. Therefore any protection that it may be possible to extend to that community will be very welcome and be of great help in strengthening other measures of co-operation needful for the hour. With those few words, I beg to support the Resolution that has been moved by Your Excellency."

Resolution.

Mr. Stewart.

The Hon'ble MR. STEWART said :—

"Your Excellency,—On behalf of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce which I have the honour to represent in this Council, I declare the personal services, the resources and the abilities of the British mercantile community, individually and collectively, to be without reserve at the disposal of Your Excellency's Government. The Committee of the Chamber of Commerce have been and are giving their constant and anxious attention to the situation, and the communiquè which they issued on Saturday last to all members and to the Press, although deliberately worded with the utmost moderation will, it is hoped, have done much to allay any general feeling that might have arisen as to the possibility of serious financial difficulties in Calcutta, and have proved that there are no grounds for any such foreboding. With the Exchange Banks facing the position and the Bank of Bengal at their back and Government, if necessary, behind that, and with the wealth of money which is available in Calcutta to-day, I cannot myself see any danger of serious financial trouble amongst the trading community, provided that, as has been promised, the commonsense of most is employed for the good of all.

We know that Your Excellency's Government are prepared to help in any way that may be necessary, and that they already have the labour problem and regulation of food prices in hand and are considering what can be done to help also our great tea and jute industries. I would point out the necessity for preventing the dissemination of false news from Europe. This should not be difficult of arrangement, and in this connection I venture to say that if Government consider it necessary to exercise the most stringent censorship for State reasons over war news, they should declare this intention openly. Everyone will loyally acquiesce in the decision, but everyone is convinced that all care must be taken to prevent a gradual growth of a state of general and avoidable tension and suspense. Care should also be taken to avoid any unnecessary appearance of militarism. All our efforts in this direction should be concentrated on the preservation of law and order and public confidence.

Beyond these points there are two or three matters of specific commercial importance which I have been asked to mention to-day. We recognize with gratitude that Your Excellency's Government are busy with them all, but I would most strongly urge the need for expediting them. One is the extension of permission to use telegraphic codes to Banks and private firms.

I need not detail any arguments here, but I can think of few things that would do more to restore business confidence. The little which has been granted already in this direction is appreciated, but is, I understand, not of much practical value, and both banks and merchants' firms have declared that they are prepared to do everything in their power to assist the censors in the discharge of their duty.

Another matter is with reference to the system of State Insurance, which has been initiated at Home. We want to know as soon as possible if the Government of India is prepared to initiate a similar system here either on their own account or as Agent for the Home Government. The machinery for working such a system is ready to hand in the local insurance companies.

The third and last matter which I wish to touch upon is with regard to the six German steamers which are in the river in various stages of loading and discharge. Will Government be so good as to declare without further delay what is going to be done with all the cargo which is the property of British merchants ; also the coal ; also the crews ? The most urgent case of all perhaps is that of the S.S. Freinfels, which has been fully loaded with a general cargo for American ports for some days. Could not this vessel's cargo be sent on at once to its destination under the British or American flag, or perhaps preferably discharged without further delay and returned to those who paid for it ?

Resolution.

Rai Nalinaksha Basu Bahadur ; Mr. Byomkes Chakravarti.

I should also like such information as is available about the Rappenfels, another steamer of the same line bound for Hamburg, which is said to have been captured by a British Man-of-war and taken into Colombo. I may say that the late Agents of the Hansa Line are quite prepared to act for Government in everything with regard to these vessels, and that it would appear commonsense to employ them to complete the discharge of these steamers which are already being unloaded.

I do not think that I can usefully add anything more meanwhile to these remarks, and I would therefore conclude by repeating that the best services of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce are entirely at the disposal of Your Excellency's Government, and by heartily supporting the Resolution which Your Excellency has moved.

The Honb'le RAI NALINAKSHA BASU BAHADUR said—

I, as a District Board representative, beg to support with all my heart the Resolution moved by Your Excellency. There is no doubt that our Empire is in a great crisis, but as justice is on our side, the victory, I am sure will be ours. It is a well known fact that India is heartily loyal to the British Crown, and is prepared, for the manifold blessings received from it to do the best in her power to help the Government in the midst of its difficulties. India is prepared to stand to a man to fight for the Empire. We do not wish to make any prayer to be employed in any particular capacity and thereby embarrass the Government, but we beg to assure Your Excellency that we are prepared to do any work that may be entrusted to us. We are interested in the rise of prices, and I assure your Excellency that we will do all in our power to keep them down.

With these words, I beg to support the Resolution.

The Hon'ble MR. BYOMKES CHAKRAVARTI said—

"My Lord, I cordially support the Resolution which Your Excellency has placed before this Council. Although happily for us we are far away from the scene of actual activities, we are not very far from its effects. The money market is disturbed, the trade has been dislocated, and the labour market is beginning to be in an unsettled state, and the price of food-stuffs has gone up. The position as it is to-day is one of grave difficulty, and I only wish that it may not become more difficult as time goes on. The immense growth of the jute industry of late years, and the possibility of this season's jute remaining unsold and unutilized will add to the difficulty of the tenant, the landlord and the mill-owner, and, may I add, of the Government if the next instalment of Government revenue due on the 28th September is not regularly paid. It is not in a critical and fault-finding spirit that the situation is being approached. It requires sympathy, co-operation, combination and tact, and I desire to convey to Your Excellency and Your Excellency's Government, and through Your Excellency's Government the Imperial Government and to the Crown that, so far as we Indians are concerned, you have our unstinted support, and I sincerely hope and trust that the present situation, however undesirable by itself, will be utilized to the fullest extent to the benefit and advantage of all concerned, European as well as Indian, officials and non-officials who join hands and rally to the support of the Government in their moment of supreme danger and difficulty. Let the consideration of all matters where there may be contention and difference stand over for the present, and let all of us combine in mitigating the unavoidable effects of the war. Let there be, if it is possible, a comparatively small though influential informal committee composed of Europeans and Indians, officials and non-officials, which may meet and disseminate such information and take such steps as may have the effect of preventing a state of panic and of making it impossible for sellers of necessaries to make undue and illegitimate gain out of the present crisis. There are wild rumours which are being spread. It has come to my knowledge that with regard to currency notes it has been suggested that a 10-rupee note is worth only 5 rupees. I have been making inquiries and find that this is not so. Let the various Chambers of Commerce, European as well as Indian, meet and dispassionately consider the situation and devise means for relieving the situation; let the Exchange Banks join in securing as steady a money market as possible. Let the producer, the baler and the manufacturer of jute join hands in relieving each other as much as possible. It may also be necessary for the Government to relax the sunset law as regards the payment of the Government revenue during next September. The Government also may look for support from all the Indian communities who are prepared to place their services at the disposal of the Government, whether it be for the purpose of maintaining order or for rendering assistance in case of India being involved in active hostilities. May the Government in this connection rely in an ever-increasing measure on the loyalty and devotion of the people to the Crown, and give the people of Bengal, especially her youth, an opportunity of showing their metal and proving how useful they may make themselves even in a difficult situation like the present. Our young men have legitimate aspiration; let us find an outlet for their energy. Suffer we must, but let us see that there is no avoidable and unnecessary suffering caused by short-sighted, ill-considered and selfish conduct on the part of any of us. With these words, I have great pleasure in supporting the Resolution."

The Hon'ble MR. GRICE said—

"Your Excellency, in associating myself and the community I represent with this Resolution, I can say that no community has a greater wish than this community to support the Government in the present situation. They have no desire or wish to make any illegitimate profit out of the war. They are faced with an economic situation which they have never had to face before, and it is in looking for an outlet to this position that is giving them at the present moment so much trouble. My lord, I can assure Your Excellency's Government that the Members of the Calcutta Trades Association are body and soul with you in the present situation. As a volunteer of some considerable standing, I regret to have noticed in the papers recently some of the alarmists' notes as to the use to which volunteers are to be put. I have heard it said and seen it written that volunteers are to be used as a means of clearing the streets and other objects for which, of course, we have no use. These alarmists' notes in the papers, I think, should be suppressed; the conditions under which volunteers are enrolled is to respect the lives and property of the meanest of His Majesty's subjects as well as the highest. As a Commanding Officer of one of the local battalions, I can assure all the papers who have been writing alarmists' notes that such will be our endeavour. With these few words, I beg to associate myself with the Resolution."

The Hon'ble CHAUDHURI MUHAMMAD ISMAIL KHAN said—

"Your Excellency, I crave permission to add my feeble voice to the eloquent expressions of Bengal's fervent loyalty and attachment to the Throne. This is indeed an occasion on which we should let the world know how deep, how abiding, how firm, is our loyalty to our Emperor and what pride we feel in being the citizens of the British Empire over which 'the all-glorious sun never sets.' We should also tell the world that in this emergency India is prepared to rise as a man and to make any sacrifice for upholding British honour and prestige, and also to maintain Britain's position as the greatest world-power. Let not our enemies think that though we occasionally air our grievances and find fault with the administration, we know in the heart of our hearts that in Pax Britannica lie all our hopes of salvation and of our growth and development as a nation. India is loyal to the core, and all differences between sects and sects, between communities and communities, and between races and races have been hushed into silence by the appearance of the common danger, and though we may not be permitted to take any part in the life-and-death struggle in Europe, let the world know that in the event of any other power touching the Indian shores and seas in hostile attitude, we are prepared to shed every drop of our life-blood for our good and benign Emperor. India's millions will stand firm to preserve the integrity of the Empire.

On behalf of myself and my constituency, I would ask you to accept these professions of loyalty in the spirit in which they are offered."

The Hon'ble RAJA MAHENDRA RANJAN RAY CHAUDHURI said—

"My Lord—I rise to support whole-heartedly and with all the warmth I can command, the Resolution which Your Excellency has so fittingly moved from the Chair.

We meet here to-day under circumstances the import, gravity and momentous weight of which it is impossible to exaggerate or even to realize fully; but, my Lord, we have not hurried here to occupy the valuable public time in going over the opening history of the great conflagration that is now shooting out its flaming tongues and engulfing the continent of Europe, but to tell you, Sir, and through you the whole British nation that we, the citizens of India, are like them determined and resolved, and we mean to stand by the flag of our Gracious King and Emperor firmly and unflichingly to the very last, and that we are prepared, if need be, to sacrifice all and everything we possess in that undertaking. I do not speak under the dictates of sentiment alone, but I realize, my Lord, and everyone of my countrymen realize what the protection and security of the British flag means to us and all that it promises to us; and now that the black clouds of a great war overcast the sky, we also realize more than ever what we shall be reduced to should that mighty protection be ever lost to us. Under that glorious flag we are men; under any other we shall be no more than hateful bondsmen. It is unthinkable, unspeakable. The remotest and most distant reference to it fills us with horror and loathing. It shall never be; we stand fast and firm with Britain's flag; but, my Lord, we feel the time for speech is past. Now is the time for action, for work, for deeds. Allow us, we earnestly ask you, implore you, allow us to take part in some tangible way, no matter how humble it might be in this noble, glorious and proud work of defending the Empire. Our hearts are burning with the fire of irresistible enthusiasm. We are eager and impatient to render practical service in the cause of the Empire at this hour of crisis. We know we are not trained to the use of arms and field practice, but it is a shortcoming which, I venture to suggest, may easily be remedied. Our will is made up. Our hearts burn with the fire of enthusiasm. We are not afraid of any hardships, and as for our courage I shall say no more at present than that harder the test it is put to the better we shall be pleased. I pray you, my Lord, do not refuse us this great privilege. I know the great martial traditions of our race are now obscured by centuries, but still, we have a past to look back to and draw inspiration from; but there are other ways than active fighting in which we might be employed, for example, in the Department of Transport or in the lines of communication, or even a corps of Bengali youths may be raised, trained and sent up to the front as sick nurses to help the Red Cross societies. A practical appreciation of our deep and burning loyalty and enthusiasm for service at this hour of common danger will immensely strengthen the close tie which exists between us and England. I need scarcely add that nothing in the power of the people themselves that can be done to help the Government in any conceivable way during this crisis shall be left undone But we feel sure, my Lord, and we are convinced of it that, however heavy the odds may be against which the forces of the Empire have to contend, the victory—the ultimate victory—shall be Britain's. There is not a man in India doubts it for a moment. Britannia shall and must always and uninterruptedly rule the waves and command the seas. I have no more words to say. We long, we thirst, and we impatiently await our noble and Gracious King-Emperor's call to the service of his great Empire. With one heart and one voice we pray for England's victory in her righteous war and a long and glorious reign for our King-Emperor. Once more, my Lord, we place ourselves with everything we possess at the service of the British nation."

Resolution.

Mr. Sinha; Maharaja Ranajit Sinha of Nashipur; Sir William Duke.

The Hon'ble MR. S. P. SINHA said—

"I am sure we are all grateful to Your Excellency for giving us the privilege of expressing our loyalty and devotion to the Government on this occasion. We meet under the shadow of a great cloud, but there is a silver lining which has given us an occasion of understanding each other, and if there ever was any doubt as to the loyalty and devotion of India to the British Government, I trust that after to-day there would not be any man who would doubt it. My Lord, I hardly think that it was necessary for any of us to express our loyalty and devotion, but I welcome this occasion in so far as it affords us an opportunity of meeting together for the purpose of practical co-operation, and I trust that there would be private meetings not of the Council, but of ourselves for the purpose of devising practical measures to overcome such difficulties as may arise. We are alive to the importance of the regulation of trade and commerce, and I hope there may be opportunities for us to practically assist in the alleviation of such distress as is inevitable by reason of the war. With these words, my Lord, I desire to support the Resolution."

The Hon'ble MAHARAJA RANAJIT SINHA of NASHIPUR said—

"We are indeed grateful to Your Excellency for the opportunity which you have given us to give vent to our feelings of loyalty to the Throne. I can assure Your Excellency and the Government of the whole-hearted attachment to the Throne and the unswerving loyalty to His Majesty and the Government of the people. My Lord, as the Hon'ble the Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan has said, the zamindars of Bengal are in a peculiar position. Their prosperity is bound with that of the Government, and I can assure Your Excellency and Your Excellency's Government that there is not a single zamindar in this land who is not ready to offer his whole service and resources to Government at this time. My Lord, I take this opportunity of saying that in the mufassal there are many who are ignorant of the actual state of affairs. and I beg to suggest that District Officers might convene meetings for the zamindars and leading gentlemen and explain the situation to them. I am sure you will have their hearty co-operation in this respect. The price of food-stuffs has not yet risen in the mufassal, but if the price is allowed to rise in the metropolis I am sure they will do so in the mufassal. If the people in the mufassal are made to understand the situation by their leaders they would not try to profit themselves by the war."

The Hon'ble SIR WILLIAM DUKE said—

"My Lord,—I have only a few disjointed remarks to offer with reference to the observations that have fallen from members of Council this morning. In the first place, on some of the subjects Mr. Stewart mentioned, which are causing anxiety to the commercial circles of Calcutta, I may say a word or two. As regards the use of the Codes which we know to be of very great importance to merchants of Calcutta we have done what we could to assist them, and I know that our representations have not been lost upon the Government of India, and I have every hope that in the course of a day or two it will be possible to give further assistance in regard to extended use of the Commercial Codes.

Resolution.

Death of Lady Hardinge.

There has been some delay in settling the manner in which the German ships should be dealt with, and that has partly arisen from the action of Germany herself. The attitude of Government with regard to foreign shipping depends in a great measure upon the conduct of foreign countries to our shipping, and that matter, at any rate, has now been determined, and the High Court will proceed to exercise its jurisdiction as a Prize Court and deal with these ships and their cargoes.

Some of the subjects which have been mentioned by Hon'ble Members are curiously connected together. The question of the price of food-stuffs is very much bound up with the circulation of wild rumours. It is always rumours which are at the bottom of any sudden and unreasonable rise of prices. It is, therefore, right that every effort should be made by all of us to suppress all circulation of unreasonable and baseless rumours and to endeavour, as far as possible, to ensure the avoidance of rash statements. I acknowledge, however, that upon the whole the press have exercised a very reasonable degree of self-restraint in this direction. We are fully alive to the fact that trouble may arise for many classes, and particularly that agrarian trouble may arise if the jute market does not reopen. We are hopeful that in a short time it will open. If it does not, it is undeniable that the trouble will be serious. That being so, it is unnecessary to say as one newspaper has said, that jute is contraband of war and that its export from Calcutta is absolutely banned. There may be circumstances in which jute may be contraband of war. There are circumstances also in which it will not be contraband of war and its export from Calcutta has not been banned. It is unnecessary and unwise to increase public alarm by rash and excessive statements of this kind. Such rash and unwarranted statements are surely liable to have evil results.

One other observation I would like to make—perhaps rather as an apology for the general attitude and action of Government—and that is that there is always a danger that many of those who make generous and enthusiastic offers of assistance should think that due consideration has not been given to them, and that they do not meet with the prompt acceptance that they have a right to expect. I would remind you that in modern times nations do not go to war entirely unprepared. In every civilized country a great machinery has been built up against the possibilities of war and, when war is declared, that machinery is called into action. It works rapidly. It absorbs the whole energies of many Government departments. Their first duty is to secure its prompt and punctual working, and, till this has been secured, they have little time to look to anything outside. Their first business is to see that the prepared machinery does its duty, and it is only after that has been got thoroughly into train and when there has been a breathing space that it is possible to consider what additions can be made to it and in what ways it can be improved. Then, no doubt, the opportunity for taking advantage of outside assistance in many directions would come.

I think that if that were more realized it would be understood that in not immediately jumping at every offer that is made, Government are not suspicious or apathetic or tardy in acknowledging help, but that they are intensely absorbed in what must necessarily be their first duty.

The Resolution was then put to the meeting and unanimously agreed to, all standing.

Death of Lady Hardinge.

The PRESIDENT then read the following telegram received from His Excellency the Viceroy in response to the Resolution of sympathy (relative to the death of Lady Hardinge) which was carried by the Council at the meeting held at Dacca on the 5th August, 1914 :—

"Please convey to the Members of the Bengal Legislative Council my deep appreciation of the sympathy which they have so feelingly expressed with me in my great sorrow.

VICEROY."

Adjournment.

The PRESIDENT said—

One word before we separate. You will remember that at the Dacca meeting it was announced that the Council would next meet on Friday, the 4th September. At that time it was believed that it and the Members of the Government would be at Dacca until the beginning of that month. I am now told that Friday, the 4th September, will not be convenient to some Members of Council ; and as I shall now be in Calcutta for the rest of this month and as I believe that it will not be inconvenient to anyone if I alter the date, I declare this Council adjourned to Tuesday, the 1st September, 1914, at 11 A.M., at Government House, Calcutta.

A. W. WATSON,
Secretary to the Government of Bengal and Secretary to the Bengal Legislative Council.

Signals to be made by vessels approaching ports when inconvenienced by searchlights.

No. 410 (first publication).—The following particulars, etc., relative to the above, issued by the British Admiralty (No. 1053 of 1914), are republished :—

Former Notice.—No. 2 of 1914 (This office No. 75 of 1914) which is hereby cancelled.

Any vessel approaching a port in the British Empire when searchlights are being worked, and fearing that they will interfere with her safe navigation, may make use of the following signals, either singly or combined :

(a) By flashing lamp, four short flashes followed by one long flash.
(b) By whistle, siren, or fog-horn, four short blasts followed by one long blast.

Whenever possible, both flashing lamp signals and sound signals should be used.

On these signals being made, the searchlights will be worked as far as circumstances will permit, so as to cause the least inconvenience, being either extinguished, raised, or altered in direction.

The signals should not be used without real necessity, as unless the vessel is actually in the rays of a searchlight it is difficult to know which searchlight is affected. The signals should be repeated until the inconvenience is removed.

Note.

These signals are designed to assist mariners and do not render the Government liable in any way.

Elevation.—416 feet.

Time service :

(1) Accurate time Signals :—

On days when accurate time signals are given, the flag T of the international code will be hoisted on the Observatory flagstaff about mid-day.

(a) When the flag is flying, chronometers may be compared with a galvanometer in the public telegraph office, Featherston Street. This galvanometer is controlled by the Observatory clock, and is deflected every hour of New Zealand standard time.

(b) Time signals are given by three electric lights erected on the Observatory flagstaff. The lower light is green, and is 30 feet above the ground; the middle light is red, and is 36 feet above the ground; the upper light is white, and is 42 feet above the ground.

The green light is shown at 50 minutes, the red light at 10 minutes, and the white light at 5 minutes to the hour; all three lights are extinguished simultaneously at the hour. The switching on of the lights must be considered as only approximately correct; the correct time is given by the switching off of the three lights. The signal is given at 8, 9, 10 and 11 p.m. of New Zealand standard time.

The corresponding Greenwich mean time (counted from noon) and New Zealand standard time (counted from midnight) of these signals are as under :—

		G.M.T.			N.Z.S.T.
		H.	M.	S.	H.	M.	S.
Green light switched on	...	19	40	0	19	10	0*
Red light switched on	...	20	20	0	19	50	0*
White light switched on	...	20	25	0	19	55	0*
All lights switched out	...	20	30	0	20	0	0†

* Approximate. † Time signal.

And similarly at each succeeding hour until 23 h. 30 m. G.M.T.

(2) Approximate time Signals.—

When, owing to bad weather or other causes, accurate tim signals cannot be given, approximate ones will be given; but in these cases the flag will not be hoisted and the green light will not be shown. On application to the Observatory the error of these signals can usually be obtained.

(3) Time signals by telephone and by telegraph :—

Arrangements can usually be made to give time signals by telephone or by telegraph to any part of the Dominion on application being made to the Observatory.

Note.—The following note has been inserted on the charts :—

"Time Signals are made from the Hector Obsy. by means of three coloured lights."

The names "New" and "Wellington" against the observatory on charts Nos. 1423 and 695 respectively have been altered to "Hector."

Charts affected.—No. 1423, Port Nicholson.
„ 803, Lambton harbour and Evans bay.
„ 695, Cook strait.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.

SANITATION.

CALCUTTA, THE 13TH AUGUST 1914.

RESOLUTION—No. 792 San.

READ—

The reports of the Sanitary Commissioner, the Sanitary Board, and the Sanitary Engineer, Bengal, for the year 1913.

Read also—

The Triennial Report on Vaccination in Bengal for the years 1911-12 to 1913-14.

MAJOR W. W. CLEMESHA, I.M.S., was in charge of the office of the Sanitary Commissioner, Bengal, for the whole of the year under review.

Mr. G. B. Williams held the post of Sanitary Engineer except for the period from the 8th August to the 3rd October 1913, during which he was on privilege leave, and Mr. A. G. Maflin, Assistant Sanitary Engineer, officiated.

2. Climatic conditions.—The rainfall in February was above the average, while in March and April it was generally deficient. May was very wet, especially in Eastern Bengal. The monsoon rains commenced on the 12th of June, and the rainfall was on the whole well distributed. In the early part of August heavy rain fell in Bihar and Chota Nagpur, causing disastrous floods in the Damodar river, which submerged large tracts in the Howrah, Hooghly and Burdwan districts. The Contai, Ghatal and Tamluk subdivisions and parts of Bankura and Birbhum also suffered severely from inundation. Contrary to expectation these floods did not give rise to outbreaks of cholera and malaria, but appear to have had a salutary effect in flushing and cleansing insanitary tanks and villages.

3. Births and deaths.—Both birth and death rates declined, the figures being 33·75 and 29·38 per mille as compared with 35·30 and 29·77 per mille in 1912. The decrease in the number of births is attributed to the high prices of food-grains in 1912 and to the general unhealthiness of that year. The decrease in the death-rate was mainly under the heads "Cholera" and "Other causes." These rates compare less favourably with those of other provinces than in the previous year; the excess of 198,053 births over the number of deaths is, however, satisfactory. From a comparison of the divisional statistics it appears that Dacca and Chittagong had the lowest death-rates, while Rajshahi and Chittagong had the highest birth-rates. On the whole, Chittagong maintained its place as the healthiest division, although it showed a large increase in cholera mortality, the death-rate from this disease being higher in Noakhali than in any other district.

Infantile mortality shows a slight decrease, the death-rate being 20·95 per cent. as against 21·23 in 1912. Calcutta has again headed the list, the districts of Jalpaiguri and Burdwan now occupying the second and third places respectively.

The further rise of prices in 1913 has pressed heavily on the poorer classes, who find it difficult to purchase the necessaries of life. The Sanitary Commissioner anticipates a further drop in the birth-rate for 1914.

4. Verification of vital statistics.—Registration of vital statistics is still defective in Eastern Bengal and in the Burdwan district. Rangpur shows the high percentage of 13·66 omissions to register deaths.

5. Chief diseases.—The death-rate from cholera fell from 2·10 to 1·74 per mille. It was highest in Noakhali, where the people are partial to dried fish and drink freely from tanks in which jute has been steeped; the population also contains a large element of Muhammadans, whose long fasts followed by a heavy meal do not conduce to good digestion. A slight epidemic in the Jalpaiguri Terai swelled the mortality of the Darjeeling district; but a plenteous and well-distributed rainfall rendered practically immune the districts of Jessore and Rajshahi which had suffered heavily in 1912. Cholera was, as usual, most prevalent in December and April. This is due to the drying up and consequent pollution of the water-supply. As soon as the rains commence epidemics cease, the lowest death-rate being returned in July.

The mortality from small-pox shows a slight increase; that among infants, however, declined from 45·14 to 32·22 per mille. Small-pox is especially prevalent in the Dacca and Chittagong Divisions, where there is great opposition to vaccination among Muhammadans.

The number of deaths from plague shows a decrease of 1,011, the disease as usual being confined almost entirely to Calcutta and its suburbs. The mortality from dysentery and diarrhœa shows a slight increase, but the relative intensity in districts and divisions is practically unchanged.

There was a small increase in the total number of deaths from fever, the rates per mille for 1913, 1912 and the average of the five years 1908—12 being 21·30, 21·16 and 20·45, respectively. The mortality from fever in 1913 represents 72 per cent. of the number of deaths from all causes—an increase of 1 per cent. over 1912. Dinajpur and Jalpaiguri head the list with death-rates of 30·08 and 29·39 as compared with 34·13 and 32·08 in 1912. In twelve districts the death-rate exceeded 25 per mille. In the district of Malda six Additional Sub-Assistant Surgeons were employed for the distribution of quinine. The result was satisfactory, for the death-rate from fever fell from 35·83 in 1912 to 28·93 in 1913; no reference, however, is made in the report to the special enquiry which the Sanitary Commissioner was asked to make into the unhealthiness of this district. In Nadia and Murshidabad the death-rate continued to increase, though slightly, notwithstanding the deputation of Sub-Assistant Surgeons to these districts. The reason for this continued increase cannot be ascribed to any antipathy to the services of these officers, for it is stated in the report that their work was generally appreciated. In the Burdwan Division twenty-five Sub-Assistant Surgeons were deputed to the flooded areas to render gratuitous medical aid. The subsidence of the floods, however, was not marked by any unusual prevalence of fever; in Burdwan town, on the contrary, the almost complete absence of mosquitoes and flies attracted the attention of the Civil Surgeon. The travelling dispensaries previously established in Dinajpur and Rajshahi were transferred to Jalpaiguri for work in the Western Duars for a period of one year. Quinine in "treatment" form is reported to be increasing in popularity, and its use is being encouraged, as far as possible, by advertisement and by the appointment of quinine vendors. The Provincial Malaria Committee dealt chiefly with this question of the popularisation of quinine, but jungle-cutting experiments were also considered. Major Fry, one of the two Special Deputy Sanitary Commissioners for Malaria Research, was on leave from March. His reports, containing many important researches, have since been received. Dr. Bentley drew up two experimental anti-malaria schemes, which have been approved by the Malaria Committee and submitted for sanction with the proposal that the grant made for jungle-clearing be utilized in carrying them out.

6. Vaccination.—The report on vaccination covers the triennial period 1911-12 to 1913-14. The number of operations performed each year averaged 1,929,425, of which 1,722,101 were primary and 207,324 re-vaccination cases; these figures are all slightly higher than those of the preceding triennium. In Bakarganj there was a very large decrease in 1912-13; but it is reported that the figures of the previous years were totally unreliable and that even those now furnished are very doubtful. The figures for Tippera and Dacca are also suspected to be unreliable.

The Governor in Council notices with regret that the percentage of infants vaccinated fell from 48 in 1912-13 to 46 in 1913-14. Malda now heads the list with the excellent percentage of 86, and Bakarganj stands last with the almost incredibly low figure of 8·3. His Excellency in Council trusts that in future greater attention will be paid to the vaccination of infants.

The six-puncture system of vaccination was introduced into many districts in Eastern Bengal during 1912-13, but it was not adopted in every district till 1913-14. In that year the number of infant vaccinations performed under this system was more than double that of the year before, while the number of re-vaccinations was 47,899 against 7,563 and 3,301 during the two preceding years.

The system of antiseptic vaccination was introduced into the Eastern Bengal districts during 1913-14 with fairly satisfactory results. The average annual cost of vaccination was Rs. 1,79,381 as compared with Rs. 1,62,068 during the years 1908-09 to 1910-11.

The increase in the number of Deputy Sanitary Commissioners has rendered possible a more thorough inspection of vaccination. Many abuses have already been brought to light, especially in the Dacca Circle, where the Sanitary Commissioner has recently recommended the appointment of two special supervising officers to assist the Deputy Sanitary Commissioner. This proposal is under the consideration of Government.

7. Sanitary improvements.—The total Municipal expenditure under all heads of sanitation during the financial year 1912-13 increased by more than Rs. 1,75,000 over that of the previous year. The expenditure on water-supply shows a large increase, for which Hooghly-Chinsura, Kurseong and Howrah are mainly responsible. A waterworks scheme was also completed for Chandpur Old Market, and several other schemes were under consideration. The expenditure on conservancy rose slightly in most municipalities, but in spite of this the total fell by more than a lakh of rupees. This is accounted for partly by the absence of any heavy expenditure such as had been incurred in the previous year on the Dacca conservancy tram, and partly by the reduction in expenditure on the Darjeeling sewage scheme now nearing completion. Something was done during the year under report to improve village sanitation in Birbhum, Hooghly, Midnapore, Bakarganj and Rangpur; but the Deputy Commissioner of the Presidency Circle reports that these sanitary measures receive no local support and are often rendered ineffective by lack of co-operation on the part of the educated classes.

8. Sanitary Board.—The Board was strengthened during the year by the inclusion of three non-official members. At the same time the Sanitary Engineer's Department was removed from its control. Rules giving effect to this arrangement were issued in November. Two meetings of the Board—one ordinary and one special—were held. Only four water-supply and three drainage schemes were considered during the year, but many have since come up.

9. Sanitary Engineer's Department.—A separate report on the work of the Sanitary Engineer's Department is submitted this year for the first time, as this department is no longer under the control of the Sanitary Board. An additional Assistant Sanitary Engineer was appointed during the year, and Government sanction was accorded to the appointment of two sub-engineers, four surveyors, two assistant draftsmen, and an accountant.

In addition to his own duties the Sanitary Engineer prepared detailed schemes for the water-supply of the Jherria coal-fields, his services being lent to the Government of Bihar and Orissa for two months for this purpose. The Sanitary Engineer was also a member of the Committee appointed to consider questions relating to Calcutta sewage, and in this connection he designed experimental sewage works at Entally. Many sketch and detailed projects were drawn up and in course of preparation during the year. The progress made in engineering work showed some improvement; of ten water-supply and eleven drainage schemes under construction, five waterworks and two drainage schemes were completed. The Burdwan drainage scheme was seriously interrupted by the floods, but satisfactory progress has been made since the close of the year. The Governor in Council hopes that the improvement in the progress of works under construction will continue, and that municipalities will not be slow to make full use of the facilities that are now offered for the preparation and carrying out of sanitary schemes. No reasonable assistance in the shape of grants will be refused.

10. Staff.—At the beginning of the year there was only one Deputy Sanitary Commissioner, but three officers were subsequently appointed for the Dacca, Rajshahi and Burdwan Circles. There was, however, only one special officer for the malaria investigation work during the greater part of the year, as the officer sent to relieve Major Fry was appointed to one of the additional posts of Deputy Sanitary Commissioner.

11. The Bengal Municipal (Sanitary Officers) Act was passed after the close of the year under report, and steps are now being taken to extend it to municipalities. Six Health Officers and one Sanitary Inspector were appointed last year, and classes are being held for the training of Sanitary Inspectors to meet the requirements of municipalities.

12. In conclusion the Governor in Council desires to place on record his appreciation of the excellent work done during the past year by Major W. W. Clemesha, Sanitary Commissioner, Mr. G. B. Williams, Sanitary Engineer, and Major Fry and Dr. Bentley, Deputy Sanitary Commissioners.

By order of the Governor in Council,

H. F. SAMMAN,

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

REPORT ON THE STATE OF THE SALT MARKET FOR THE FIRST QUARTER OF THE YEAR 1914-15.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT.

SEPARATE REVENUE BRANCH (SALT).

No. 1537S.R.

Dated Calcutta, the 18th August 1914.

THE following report on the state of the salt market for the first quarter of the year 1914-15, comprising the months of April, May and June 1914, in the Presidency of Bengal, is published for general information.

2. The quantity of salt of every description cleared during the quarter amounted to 4,164,645 maunds (including 2,903,826 maunds issued under the credit system), as compared with 4,052,713 maunds (including 2,978,041 maunds issued under the credit system) in the previous quarter and 3,768,949 maunds (including 2,582,217 maunds issued under the credit system) in the corresponding quarter of the previous year. The net amount of duty levied was Rs. 36,86,516 (including Rs. 27,79,393 adjusted under the credit system), as against Rs. 33,06,861 (including Rs. 24,85,873 adjusted under the credit system) in the previous quarter, and Rs. 30,60,361 (including Rs. 21,16,475 adjusted under the credit system) in the corresponding quarter of the previous year.

3. The subjoined table I shows in detail the importations into the port of Calcutta and the total clearances of sea-imported salt during the quarter, compared with the figures of the corresponding quarters of the two previous years :—

(a) Inclusive of 2,903,826 maunds of salt issued under the credit system. Besides this quantity, 19,034 maunds of salt were issued under the credit system to inland bonded warehouses.

Compared with the corresponding quarter of the previous year and the same quarter of 1912-13, importations were less by 9·8 per cent. and 24·6 per cent., respectively, but clearances were greater by 12·6 and 24·5 per cent. As compared with the corresponding period of the previous year, the increased imports from Aden and Bombay and the decreased imports from Port Said, Massowah, Salif, Spain, Hamburg and Bremen and the United Kingdom are especially noticeable.

4. Table II shows the quantity of sea-imported salt remaining in the warehouses at the close of the quarter as compared with the preceding four quarters:—

* Revised figures.

The stocks remaining in the golas at the close of the quarter were considerably greater than those of the quarters June to December 1913, but less than those of the preceding quarter.

5. The figures showing the despatches of salt from Calcutta by different routes during the quarter under report will be published as usual in the Calcutta Gazette by the Director-General of Commercial Intelligence when they are available.

6. The quantity of salt despatched during the quarter by the East Indian Railway to stations beyond Buxar amounted to 547 maunds, as against 1,598 maunds in the previous quarter and 273 maunds in the corresponding quarter of the previous year.

7. The quantity of saltpetre salt excised in the refineries of Bengal during the quarter amounted to 40 maunds, as compared with 81 maunds in the previous quarter and 40 maunds in the corresponding quarter of the previous year.

8. The shipments of Liverpool salt during the quarter for the port of Calcutta according to the published market reports amounted to 39,578 tons. No vessel is at present on the sea bound for Calcutta with salt from Hamburg and Bremen.

9. Table III shows the average wholesale prices * per 100 maunds of Liverpool and other descriptions of salt at the port of Calcutta during each fortnight of the quarter :—

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

PRELIMINARY FORECAST OF THE SUGARCANE CROP OF BENGAL, 1914-15.

(Note.—On an average of the five years ending 1912-13, the area under sugarcane in Bengal represents some 9·9 per cent. of the total area under sugarcane in British India.)

Character of the season.—The weather conditions at planting time were generally favourable. Subsequently, however, in the latter part of April and May heavy rainfall impeded the growth of the crop and partially damaged it in places. The present condition is generally reported to be fair.

Area planted.—The area planted with sugarcane this year is reported to be 226,500 acres against 218,300 acres last year or an increase of about 4 per cent.

Outturn.—According to the estimates of District Officers, the total outturn of the crop for the Province works out to 88 per cent. as against 86 per cent. last year.

J. R. BLACKWOOD
Director of Agriculture, Bengal.

	Acres.	Acres.	Acres.
24-Parganas ...	5,100	2,800	3,000	75	100	November. Normal.	The increase in area was due to favourable weather at planting time.
Nadia	7,900	6,100	5,500	92	83	February. Normal.	The decrease in area is noticeable in Kushtia subdivision due to extension of jute cultivation. The condition of the crop is fair, but if the rains hold off longer, the agricultural outlook will be gloomy.
Murshidabad ...	3,600	3,300	3,300	75	92	November. Normal.	The weather has been favourable and the outturn is expected to be fair.
Jessore ...	6,600	3,900	3,500	83	92	Middle of February and March. Normal.	The decrease in area is due to the fact that in the Jhenidah subdivision the cultivators are not much inclined to plant sugarcane as much benefit is not derived by selling gur which sells at cheaper rates. The weather was favourable at the planting time, but heavy rain in May impeded the growth and partially damaged the crop.
Khulna ...	1,500	1,300	1,300	100	100	First week of February. Normal.	The weather at planting time was good and the condition of the crop is favourable.
Burdwan ...	25,800	22,700	23,200	83	100	March to April. Normal.	Small increase of area is reported in the Sadar subdivision. The weather on the whole has been favourable, and the prospects of the crop are good.
Birbhum ...	9,000	7,000	9,000	75	100	End of April. Normal.	The increase of area was due to timely rain. The weather conditions and the growth of the crop are good.
Bankura ...	15,100	10,500	10,500	92	100	First part of May. Normal.	The weather conditions have been favourable since the planting of the crop, and the outturn is expected to be normal.
Midnapore ...	3,000	3,000	3,000	80	100	March and April. Normal.	The weather conditions have been favourable.
Hooghly ...	7,200	6,300	5,900	66	92	Middle of March. Normal.	The decrease in area was due to heavy rain in the sowing season. The weather was not good at the sowing season, but has since been good and favourable to the growth of the plants. The young plants are growing luxuriantly.
Howrah ...	8,500	4,800	4,000	67	87	Middle of January. Normal.	The decrease in the area cultivated this year was due to want of sufficient rainfall at the planting season. The weather conditions subsequent to the planting time have improved, and the growth of the crop is on the whole fair.
Rajshahi ...	18,000	13,200	13,000	80	96	End of January. Normal.	The weather conditions have been favourable.
Dinajpur ...	35,000	29,800	29,500	84	88	By the middle of March. Normal.	The weather conditions have been favourable.
Jalpaiguri ...	5,300	4,300	4,300	84	94	Middle of February. Normal.	The weather conditions have been favourable and the growth of the crop is good.
Darjeeling ...	1,200	100	200	65	90	March. Normal.	The increase in area was due to ordinary fluctuations. The character of weather at planting time and up till now has been fair.
Rangpur ...	20,500	14,000	11,400	100	100	Last week of February. Normal.	The decrease in area is mostly in the Kurigram subdivision, and the Subdivisional Officer attributes it to increased cultivation of jute this year in his subdivision. The weather has been favourable.

Bogra ...	20,000	20,000	20,000	80	80	Latter half of March and beginning of April. Late.	The weather conditions were not altogether unfavourable and the growth of the crop is fair.
Pabna ...	10,000	10,000	10,000	95	95	Middle of April. Normal.	The weather was fair at planting time, but not so now for want of rain.
Malda ...	300	300	300	90	100	April. Normal	The weather has been favourable and an average crop is expected.
Dacca	21,100	17,600	17,800	95	95	Sadar and Munshiganj—April. Normal; Narayanganj—March. Early.	A slight fall in outturn is expected on account of rain in the latter part of April.
Mymensingh ...	13,600	9,800	13,300	100	100	Sadar-February. Rather early. Jamalpur—Middle of May. Late. Other subdivisions—April. Normal.	The increase in the normal area and in the area of last year was due to about 50 per cent. increase in area under cultivation in Jamalpur subdivision. The weather has been generally fair and the growth of the crop on the whole favourable.
Faridpur ...	7,100	5,300	7,600	83	90	Latter part of October. Normal.	The increase in area was chiefly due to the adoption of cadastral survey figures in Goalundo subdivision. The weather conditions have been favourable. The heavy rain in April and May may cause the outturn to fall below the normal.
Bakarganj ...	11,000	11,700	14,000	86	80	December. Normal.	The increase in area is attributed to the high price of molasses. The character of the weather was not favourable on account of heavy downpour at intervals. The heavy rain in June was not favourable for the growth of the crop.
Chittagong ...	6,400	5,000	5,000	88	95	March. Normal	The character of the weather at sowing time has not been favourable.
Tippera ...	8,000	4,000	6,300	95	95	January. Normal.	The increase in area is due to extension of cultivation in the Sadar subdivision. The weather conditions have been favourable to the growth of the crop.
Noakhali ...	900	800	800	80	80	March. Normal	There was early rainfall at the time of planting which was not favourable to the plants. The present drought has been affecting the growth of the crop badly.
Chittagong Hill Tracts.	500	700	1,000	60	80	1st March. Normal.	The condition of the crop has been satisfactory.

MONTHLY WEATHER AND CROP REPORT OF BENGAL FOR JULY 1914.

I. Character of the season.—During the month under review the rainfall for the whole month was in excess of the normal in all the districts of the province excepting Dinajpur, Jalpaiguri, Rangpur, Bogra, Pabna, Malda, Mymensingh, the Chittagong Hill Tracts, and Cooch Behar. The usual rainfall statement is appended.

II. Progress of agricultural operations.—Transplantation of winter rice and harvesting of aus paddy and jute were in progress. The transplanting operations were somewhat impeded in some districts owing to deficient rainfall. Harvesting of jute was also retarded in places on account of the scarcity of steeping water.

III. State of standing crops.—The standing crops were on the whole doing fairly well.

IV. The prospects and probable outturn.—In most of the districts the prospects of paddy, jute and other standing crops were favourable. A fairly good outturn of these crops was expected.

V. Damage to standing crops.—No damage was done to the standing crops, except to jute, by insect pests in parts of Nadia, Murshidabad and Jessore.

VI. Condition of agricultural stock.—The condition of agricultural stock was fair. Cattle-disease was found to be prevalent in Nadia, Murshidabad, Khulna, Burdwan, Hooghly, Rajshahi, Dinajpur, Rangpur, Malda, Cooch Behar, Mymensingh, Noakhali and Chittagong.

VII. Failure of pasturage and fodder.—The scarcity of fodder was reported from parts of Midnapore and Tippera only.

VIII. Prices of food-grains.—During the second fortnight of the month under review the prices of common rice rose in nine districts, fell in four, and remained stationary in the rest. It varied from 6 seers 4 chitaks per rupee at Bakarganj to 8 seers and 12 chitaks a rupee at Bankura.

IX. Condition of agricultural people.—The condition of agricultural people was reported to be fairly good.

DISTRICT REPORTS ON WEATHER AND CROPS

For the week ending on the 17th August 1914.

Summary.—During the week under review light to moderate rain fell throughout the province. More rain is wanted in some districts for the growth of the standing crops and also for steeping of jute. Transplantation of winter paddy is nearly finished. Harvesting of aus paddy and jute is going on. The progress in the case of jute is somewhat retarded in some places by the deficiency of steeping water and by the slackness of jute business. The standing crops are doing fairly well. Damage to jute by insect pests has been reported from parts of Burdwan and Murshidabad. The jute pests in Jessore are reported to have disappeared. Cattle-disease is reported from fifteen districts. The average price of common rice has risen by about 0·5 per cent. as compared with that of the previous week.

An Ordinance to provide for the exercise of more effective control over foreigners in British India.

ORDINANCE No. III OF 1914.

WHEREAS an emergency has arisen which makes it necessary to provide for the exercise of more effective control over foreigners in British India;

Now, therefore, in exercise of the powers conferred by section 23 of the Indian Councils Act, 1861, the Governor General is pleased to make and promulgate the following Ordinance. (24 & 25 Vict., c 67.)

Short title and extent.

1. (1) This Ordinance may be called "The Foreigners Ordinance, 1914."

(2) It extends to the whole of British India including British Baluchistan, the Sonthal Parganas, the district of Angul, the Shan States and the Pargana of Spiti.

Definitions.

2. In this Ordinance—

(a) "foreigner" has the same meaning as in the Foreigners Act, 1864 (III of 1864)

(b) "prescribed" means prescribed by rules made under this Ordinance.

Power to prohibit or regulate entry, departure and residence of foreigners.

3. (1) The Governor General in Council may by order—

(a) prohibit, or regulate and restrict in such manner as he thinks fit, the entry of foreigners into British India and their departure from British India; and

(b) regulate or restrict in such manner as he thinks fit the liberty of foreigners residing or being in British India.

(2) In particular and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power orders under sub-section (1) may provide—

(a) that no foreigner shall enter into or depart from British India, save within such period and by such route, or by such port or place as may be specified in such order;

(b) that foreigners shall be prohibited from entering or remaining in any specified area in British India or shall only be permitted to enter or remain in British India or any specified area therein subject to such conditions and restrictions as the Governor General in Council may impose; and

(c) that foreigners residing or being in British India shall remove themselves to and remain in any specified area, or if such an order is necessary for the public safety, or in the interests of the State, that such foreigners shall be arrested and interned or confined in such manner as the Governor General in Council may think fit.

Penalties

4. Any foreigner who contravenes or attempts to contravene the provisions of any order made under section 3, shall be punished with imprisonment of either description for a term which may extend to three years or with fine or with both.

Householder to report residence of any foreigner in his house to prescribed authority in specified areas

5. (1) The Governor General in Council or any Local Government may, by notification in the Gazette of India or the local official Gazette, as the case may be, direct that within any area specified in such notification, every householder in whose house a foreigner is residing either temporarily or permanently shall forthwith report to the prescribed authority in the prescribed manner, the name of such foreigner, and such other particulars respecting him and the period of his residence in such house as may be prescribed.

(2) Any householder who fails to comply with the provsions of any notification issued under sub-section (1) shall be punished with imprisonment of either description for a term which may extend to six months or with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees or with both.

Orders under Ordinance may be general or special

6. Where under the provisions of this Ordinance the Governor General in Council or any Local Government is authorised to make any order or issue any notification in respect of foreigners, such order may be made or such notification issued in respect of foreigners generally or in respect of any class or description of foreigners, or in respect of any individual foreigner, and different orders or notifications may be made or issued in respect of different classes of foreigners.

Power to make rules

7. (1) The Governor General in Council may make rules for the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of this Ordinance:

In particular and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power such rules may provide for—

(a) the authority to whom, and the manner in which, reports under section 5 shall be made and the particulars to be stated therein; and

(b) the manner in which orders under this Ordinance shall be enforced.

(2) All rules made under this section shall have effect as if enacted in this Ordinance.

Power to rescind or modify rules or orders.

8. The Governor General in Council or the Local Government may at any time rescind or modify any order, rule or notification made or issued under this Ordinance, and the Governor General in Council may delegate, subject to such conditions and restrictions as he thinks fit, all or any of his powers under this Ordinance to any civil or military authority in British India either by name or in virtue of his office.

Saving of powers under existing law

9. Nothing in this Ordinance shall be deemed to affect or derogate from any power which may be exercised under the Foreigners Act, 1864, or under any other law for the time being in force in respect of foreigners generally or in respect of foreigners who are subjects of a State which is at war with His Majesty. III of 1864

Power of exemption

10. The Governor General in Council may exempt, either absolutely or conditionally, any foreigner or any class or description of foreigners from all or any of the provisions of this Ordinance.

Bar of jurisdiction of Courts.

11. No order made under section 3 of this Ordinance shall be called in question in any Court.

NOTIFICATION.

Simla, the 22nd August, 1914.

An Ordinance to render members of the Indian Volunteer force on actual military service subject to military law, as officers or soldiers.

ORDINANCE No. IV OF 1914.

WHEREAS an emergency has arisen which renders it necessary that the officers, non-commissioned officers and men of volunteer corps, called out for actual military service, shall be subject to military law in all respects as officers or soldiers, as the case may be.

Now, therefore, in exercise of the powers conferred by section 23 of the Indian Councils Act, 1861, the Governor General is pleased to make and promulgate the following Ordinance:— (24 & 25 Vict., c. 67.)

Short title and extent.

1. (1) This Ordinance may be called the Indian Volunteers Ordinance, 1914.

(2) It extends to the whole of British India, including British Baluchistan and the Santhal Parganas, and applies also to British subjects within the territories of any Native Prince or Chief in India.

Law applicable to volunteers on actual military service.

2. The members of any corps or portion of a corps of volunteers called out for actual military service under section 27 of the Indian Volunteers Act, 1869, (hereinafter referred to as the said Act) shall, (XX of 1869.) whether enrolled before or after the promulgation of this Ordinance, and notwithstanding anything contained in the said Act, be subject in all respects to military law, the officers as officers, and the non-commissioned officers and men as soldiers, and the Army Act shall apply to them accordingly. (44 & 45 Vict., c. 58.)

Resignation of volunteers enrolled prior to promulgation of this Ordinance.

3. Any non-commissioned officer or man of any corps of volunteers who has been enrolled before the promulgation of this Ordinance shall, whether on actual military service or not, and notwithstanding anything contained in section 13 of the said Act, be entitled to quit such corps within one month from the date of promulgation of this Ordinance; and seven days previous notice in writing shall not be required in the case of non-commissioned officers and men quitting a corps in accordance with this section.

2. The Sanitarium was opened on the 17th March 1913 and closed on the 15th November 1913.

3. The Hospital attached to the Sanitarium remained opened throughout the year and was occupied during the early part of March 1913 by two patients suffering from Typhoid fever and Broncho Pneumonia and also during the latter part of November and December 1913 for confinement cases, measles and other diseases by five patients and their friends.

4. The following table shows the number of each class of patients and their friends admitted into the Sanitarium and Hospital during the past six years:—

ADMISSIONS.	1908.	1909.	1910.	1911.	1912.	1913.
First Class	96	104	146	56	85	79
Intermediate Class	65	73	78	126	124	125
Second Class	233	178	206	230	288	291
Third Class	151	117	136	119	178	177
Total ...	545	472	566	531	675	672

The following tables show the number of patients and their relatives and friends admitted during the last six years together with the daily average sick :—

Relatives and Friends.

Total number ...	114	83	139	138	169	173

Males.	Females.	CHILDREN.		Total.	Cured.	Relieved.	Died.
		Males.	Females.
201	194	49	55	499	453	40	6

The total number of admissions during the year 1913 was 672. Of these 79 were admitted to the first class, as compared with 85 in 1912, 125 to the Intermediate as compared with 124, 291 to the second class as compared with 288, and 177 to the third class as against 178 in 1912.

Of these there were 13 children in the first class, 29 in the intermediate, 88 in the second class and 41 in the third class, making a total of 171 children admitted in the year 1913.

From these figures it will be seen that there has been an increase in intermediate and second classes and a slight fall in the numbers of the first and third classes.

The number of patients treated in 1913 was 499 against 506 in 1912. The above figures stand second in the records of patients treated during the past six years from 1908 to 1913. No reason can be assigned for the slight decrease of patients as compared with the year 1912.

The daily average number of residents for the whole year works out to 42, though for the period the Sanitarium was open it was 55, as compared with 39 and 61 respectively during the year 1912. The average stay of each resident was 21 as compared with 19 days in 1912.

The residents generally expressed satisfaction with the arrangements.

5. The free beds of the Medical College Hospital and Presidency General Hospital were occupied nearly all the season.

Four patients were treated in the Superintendent's Free bed against four in 1912.

Ten patients were treated in the Presidency General Hospital Free beds against eight in 1912.

Eight patients were treated in the Medical College Hospital Free bed against five in 1912.

Four patients were treated in the John White Free bed, and two patients who were tea-planters were admitted in the Peter West Free bed during the year 1913.

Three children were treated free in the Theo. Beryl Cot, and the Ministering Children's League, Darjeeling, paid for the treatment of four children at the Eden Sanitarium.

The total amount spent on Free bed patients was Rs. 1,417-8 against Rs. 1,488 in 1912.

6. The following donations and subscriptions were received in 1913:—

		Rs.	A.
(1)	Mr. Gallacher	49	4
(2)	Manager of Tukvar Co., Ltd.	100	0
(3)	Messrs. Hamilton & Co.	25	0
(4)	Messrs. Ranken & Co.	25	0
(5)	Messrs. T. E. Thompson & Co.	25	0
(6)	Mr. D. P. Mackenzie	250	0
(7)	Messrs. R. Knight & Sons	25	0
(8)	Messrs. Cooke & Kelvey	25	0
(9)	Messrs. Mackintosh, Burn & Co.	25	0
(10)	General Manager, D. H. Railway... ...	100	0
(11)	Darjeeling Municipality	150	0
(12)	Rev. Father F. Peal, S.J. (Collections on Hospital Sunday) ...	57	2
	Total ...	856	6

7. The rule whereby European Government servants on receipt of Rs. 400 or under can obtain first class accommodation by paying intermediate class rates, was taken advantage of in seven cases.

The rule granting a reduction of rates to European assistants in Commercial firms, Banks, etc., who are annual subscribers, was taken advantage of in two cases only during the year 1913.

8. (1) There were four cases of Enteric fever against four in 1912. All were of a serious type. There was one death in a case complicated by a malignant form of Purpura.

(2) There were 12 cases of Malarial fever treated against 15 in 1912. Two Kala Azar cases were treated against one in 1912.

(3) Nine Pneumonia cases were treated in 1913 as compared with four in 1912. Of these seven recovered and two died.

(4) There were 26 operations performed during the year 1913 against 36 in 1912. An analysis of the 26 operations performed during the season shows that 6 were performed during the first half of the period and 20 during the second. It is my opinion that this decrease in the year is not dependant on the fact that fees are charged for operations. Three selected operations were performed by Major A. Gwyther, I.M.S., nine by myself and one by Military Assistant Surgeon J. C. Chalke. Of these two were obstetric operations.

(5) There were 10 labour cases treated in the Hospital in 1913 against 13 in 1912. Of these eight were normal cases and two abnormal cases.

(6) There were altogether six deaths against four in 1912.

The causes were:—One Typhoid fever, two Pneumonia, one Meningitis, one Appendicitis, one Premature Birth (Inanition).

(7) In accordance with the usual custom every inmate, not a "relative" or friend, has been shown as sick and most of them have been as usual shown as suffering from anaemia and debility. A large proportion of these were in no way more debilitated than any ordinary individual who comes to a hotel or boarding-house in Darjeeling for a change. No medical certificate is required for entry into the Sanitarium. It is in fact largely a boarding-house.

9. INCOME AND EXPENDITURE:—

The daily cost of diet for residents not including the staff was Rs. 1-9-5 as compared with Rs. 1-10-6 in 1912.

The accounts were audited by Messrs. Viney and Thurston, Chartered Accountants of Calcutta.

10. GENERAL REMARKS:—

The nursing arrangements and linen as usual were under the supervision of two of the Clewer Sisters from Calcutta. I am much indebted to them for their valuable assistance.

Sister Hope also took charge of the Library, which has undergone much improvement under her careful supervision.

The plan of making a small charge of annas eight for the first class and annas four only for other classes for the use of the library still continues and some new books have been purchased out of the amount realised in this way without an additional expense to the general fund of the Sanitarium. The library fund is kept apart from the Sanitarium under the charge of the Sister in charge of the Library.

The Public Works Department carried out the annual repairs to the buildings during the period the Sanitarium and Hospital were closed.

The Government of Bengal sanctioned Rs. 10,000 for the replacement of the shingled roof of the Eden Sanitarium with corrugated sheets. This was a great need of the institution and it has since been completed under the management and supervision of the Public Works Department.

Their Excellencies Lord and Lady Carmichael visited the Eden Sanitarium and Hospital on the forenoon of the 12th June 1913. His Excellency had again remarked in the Visitors' Book of this institution that the meat and vegetable "larders are very badly placed." An application for funds with an estimate to carry out this improvement has been submitted to the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals, Bengal, and it is hoped that funds will be available during the current year for carrying out the improvement.

The following improvements were carried out during the year 1913:—

	Rs.	A.	P.
(1) Remodelling of the drains round the kitchen with Ranigunge pipes	1,120	0	0
(2) Construction of revetment wall on the zig-zag path to the Sanitarium	150	0	0
(3) Improvement to the drain round the Isolation Ward	85	8	3

The Government of Bengal in their letter No. 787Medl., dated 11th March 1913, to the address of the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals, Bengal, sanctioned a grant of Rs. 1,120 for remodelling the drains round the kitchen. The other improvements mentioned above were carried out of the funds of the Eden Sanitarium. The sanitary arrangements for the third class rooms, particularly those for women, are most unsatisfactory, and it is hoped that a grant may be forthcoming to overcome the existing unhygienic conditions.

Mr. K. L. Mackenzie, a member of the Committee, resigned his office in March 1913 which was accepted by the Committee with regret. On the suggestion of the Committee Dr. C. E. B. Seal was appointed a member with the sanction of Government.

A financial sub-committee was appointed in April 1913, on the suggestion of the Secretary and Superintendent of the Eden Sanitarium consisting of the following members to enquire into the financial position and suggest ways and means for the future management of the institution: (1) Mr. G. Nash, (2) Rev. Father F. Peal, S.J., (3) the Deputy Commissioner and (4) the Secretary, Eden Sanitarium.

The Eden Sanitarium Committee adopted the proceedings of the sub-committee and approved the suggestion that as the third class and the hospital are a drain on the finances of the institution, the Government should be moved to pay Rs. 1,500 per year for the four free beds maintained by the Committee for the two Calcutta hospitals and also the grade pay of the Resident Medical Officer, viz., Rs. 1,800. The Government have sanctioned an annual grant of Rs. 1,500 towards the maintenance of free beds and have increased the rates of all classes at annas 8 per head all round. The Committee have gratefully accepted the offer of Government which amount will be of great help to them.

Owing to the amount refunded by the Sanitarium for certain improvements which were originally proposed to be met out of the "John White" Fund in 1912, and lessened receipts from patients, the institution has worked at a loss.

It is hoped that the increased rates will help in a great extent to pay off the debts. I have at the suggestion of the Committee directed that separate accounts for the current year for the Sanitarium and Hospital be kept to show the actual receipts and expenditure of the Hospital.

3. That from and after the date of the publication of the public notice mentioned in section 3, sub-section (2), of the said Act, the restrictions mentioned in section 7 (b) of the said Act shall attach to the land within the said zone, viz.:—

(i) No variation shall be made in the ground level and no building, wall, bank, or other construction of permanent materials above the ground, shall be maintained or erected, added to or altered:

Provided that, with the written approval of the General Officer Commanding the Division and on such conditions as he may prescribe, variations in the ground level, huts, fences, and other constructions of wood or other materials, easily destroyed or removed, may be maintained, added to or altered:

Provided also that any person having control of the land as owner, lessee, or occupier, shall be bound forthwith to destroy or remove such huts, fences, or other constructions, without compensation, upon an order in writing signed by the General Officer Commanding the Division.

(ii) No wood, earth, stone, brick, gravel, sand or other material shall be stacked, stored or otherwise accumulated:

Provided that with the written approval of the General Officer Commanding the Division and on such conditions as he may prescribe, road ballast, manure and agricultural produce may be exempted from the prohibition:

Provided also that any person having control of the land as owner, lessee, or occupier, shall be bound forthwith to remove such road ballast, manure or agricultural produce without compensation on the requisition of the Commanding Officer.

(iii) Live hedges, rows or clumps of trees or orchards shall not be maintained, planted, added to, or altered otherwise than with the written approval of the General Officer Commanding the Division and on such conditions as he may prescribe.

(iv) No surveying operations shall be conducted otherwise than by or under the personal supervision of a public servant duly authorised in this behalf by the Commanding Officer.

(v) Where any building, wall, bank or other construction above the ground has been permitted under this notification to be maintained, erected, added to or altered, repairs shall not, without the written approval of the General Officer Commanding the Division, be made with materials different in kind from those employed in the original building, wall, bank, or other construction:

Provided further that nothing in this notification shall apply to existing buildings, variations of ground level, banks, hedges, trees, etc., entered on the schedule attached to the plan mentioned in paragraph 2 above so long as these remain unaltered as they exist on the date of this notification.

IRRIGATION DEPARTMENT.

The 21st July 1914.

No. 6.—Notification.—The following draft of (1) rules and (2) Schedule of rates of tolls, which, in exercise of the powers conferred by sections 6 and 11 of the Canals Act, 1864 (Bengal Act V of 1864), and in supersession of all previous notifications on the subject, the Governor in Council intends to make and fix for the line of navigation known as the Madaripur Bhil channel, as defined in Notification No. 128, dated the 26th June 1900, is published, as required by section 12 of that Act, for the information of persons likely to be affected thereby.

II. The draft will be taken into consideration on or after the 15th September 1914, and any objection or suggestion which may be received by the undersigned before that date will be duly considered.

A. C. J. DE LOTBINIÈRE, LT.-COL., R.E.,
Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

DRAFT RULES.

1. Every vessel passing through the line of navigation known as the Madaripur Bhil channel shall stop at the prescribed toll-stations as notified in the Schedule of tolls for the purpose of assessment or check of toll charges.

2. For the purposes of these rules, vessels other than rafts, timbers, bamboos or other floating material shall be divided into two classes as below:—

Class I.—To include all vessels of the usual native types of build.

Class II.—To include all steamers, flats and barges, and such other square-built boats as should, in the opinion of the Collector of Tolls, be included.

3. The net tonnage of every vessel of class 1, whether laden or empty, shall, for the purposes of these rules, be determined by the following measurements:—

A.—The product of one quarter the length of the vessel from stem to stern, measured along the water-line, multiplied by the interior greatest breadth of the vessel, multiplied by the interior greatest depth from the water-line to the bottom of the vessel, is to be taken as equal to the number of maunds upon which toll shall be levied.

B.—The measurement of the length is to be made in feet, rejecting inches; the measurement of the breadth and depth is to be made in feet and quarters of a foot, rejecting portions of less than a quarter of a foot.

C.—The maundage on which tollage shall be charged shall be a simple multiple of 12½ maunds, rejecting any remainder by which the maundage, calculated as above, may exceed such simple multiple.

4. For vessels in class II the tonnage shall be determined as follows:—

The tonnage of steamers shall be the registered tonnage as given in the certificate of survey of the steamer.

Toll shall be levied on the actual weight of cargo carried on steamers, flats, barges and other vessels included in this class, as declared in the manifests.

When the registered tonnage of a steamer, or the manifest for cargo of a flat is not available, the tonnage will be taken as arrived at under rule 3.

For square-built boats the total maundage, as determined under rules for class I, shall be increased by half, and for steamers one-third of the total maundage shall be deducted for engine space.

5. Every vessel shall be furnished at the toll-station of entry with a ticket on which the name of the serang, manjhi or other person in charge of the vessel, the date of entry, the maundage of the vessel, the nature and weight of the cargo it contains and the amount of toll charged shall be entered.

6. This ticket may be demanded and checked by any navigation officer while the vessel is within the toll-limits of the Bhil channel, and must be kept on board and at hand for that purpose. The ticket must be given up at the exit toll-station. If the ticket is not produced on demand by a Canal officer, such officer shall assess the amount of toll payable and the vessel will be liable to seizure and detention under the provisions of section 9 of the Act until such sum is realized.

7. Vessels leaving the channel between two toll-stations shall obtain permission from the toll collector of the nearest toll-station and give up the ticket to that officer while leaving the channel.

8. A vessel. which has been detained under these rules or under section 9 of the Act, may not be removed from the channel without the order of the collector of tolls until the toll due has been paid. During such detention the manjhi, owner or agent must make arrangements for the safety of the vessel and cargo.

9. All tolls are payable on demand and shall be paid at the toll-station before a vessel is permitted to proceed. Provided that the collector of tolls appointed under section 8 of the Act may, at his discretion, permit vessels belonging to individuals or firms of recognised standing to proceed without prepayment on an undertaking that the bills for tollage due shall be liquidated monthly on presentation.

10. The term "NAVIGATION OFFICER," as used in rule 6, shall include the collector of tolls appointed under section 8 of the Act, and the officer, or the subordinate duly authorised by such officer, of the PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT, in charge of the subdivision or section within which the channel is situated.

11. Duplicates of lost tickets will be grante by the toll collector who originally issued the ticket on payment of a fee of one-fourth of the amount of toll payable, subject to a maximum of one rupee and a minimum of four annas. The duplicate will be issued only when the toll collector is satisfied about the identity of the boat.

12. No person shall wilfully or negligently allow a vessel to sink in the channel.

13. (1) In every case of a sunken vessel whether due to negligence or otherwise, the Supervisor and his subordinates shall offer every assistance in removing the same.

(2) If, three days after the occurrence of a wreck, it is seen that prompt measures are not being taken by the owner to remove the sunken vessel from the line of navigation, the Supervisor and his subordinates shall make their own arrangements for the removal of the same at the expense of the owner.

14. When a sunken vessel has been recovered, the Supervisor shall cause notices to be posted at the toll offices, or other prominent places, calling on those concerned to pay to the collector of tolls all toll or demurrage which may be due, as well as the expenses incurred in the recovery of the vessel and cargo. Should the sum due be not paid within fifteen days of the date of notice, the boat and its furniture, or so much of it as may be necessary for the recovery of the dues, will be sold under the procedure directed in section 9 of the Act.

15. The purchaser of a vessel sold under the provisions of section 9 of the Act shall have the right to take it out of the channel on the day of purchase, or within such time as may be allowed by the collector of tolls, without payment of tolls.

16. When any laden vessel, which has sunk, has been recovered. or when any laden vessel has been seized under the provisions of the Act or of these rules, the Supervisor shall give immediate notice of the recovery or seizure to the owner of the cargo or his agent, requiring the removal of the cargo without delay, and informing him that he will be required to pay all expenses necessary for the proper custody and storage of the cargo until removed.

17. If the Supervisor be unable to ascertain the name and place of business or the abode of the owner of the cargo of such vessel, the notice prescribed in rule 16 shall be effected by a notice exhibited in his office, and by advertisement in at least one English and one vernacular Calcutta newspaper.

18. Lights and Signals.—All vessels, whether travelling or moored in the channel, must, between sunset and sunrise, carry a white light in a lantern on the fore-part of the vessel where it can be distinctly seen from all sides. All steam-vessels in motion shall carry the lights prescribed by the Board of Trade regulations. Barges or boats attached to a steam-vessel, whether in motion or moored, shall carry the light prescribed in the first paragraph of this rule.

19. Every vessel proceeding in the channel must limit her speed to six miles an hour from the 15th October to the 10th July, and to eight miles an hour from the 11th July to the 14th October.

20. For any infringement of rule 6, 7, 8, 9, 12, 13, 14, 16, 17, 18 or 19, the person in charge of the vessel or other persons in fault shall, on conviction before a Magistrate, be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 50 or Rs. 5 a day for any continuing infringement.

I.—Schedule of Tolls.

10.	On rafts of bamboos, for every 100, or portion of 100, bamboos	0	4
11.	Minimum toll on any boat	0	1

12. Excess tolls.—If a vessel's tonnage is found to be greater than at entry due either to loading fresh cargo in the route, or from any other cause, the difference of toll at the highest rate will be leviable at the exit station.

13. Demurrage.—Vessels will be allowed three days for the passage through the route, with an additional day for each 50 maunds of tonnage. Demurrage at the rate of one-fourth of the original amount of toll per diem will be levied on vessels remaining in the channel in excess of the above period.

14. Monthly Tickets.—Monthly tickets at eight times the ordinary toll will be issued to boats of 100 maunds and under. Such boats should be branded with a number at the Toll Offices at a charge of eight annas each before a monthly ticket is issued to it.

II.—Tolls are to be levied at Tentulia in the 3rd mile from the Madhumati river and at Jolirpar in the 18th mile from the Madhumati river.

NOTE.—In the case of items 2, 4 and 6 of the above Schedule the maundage to be charged will be that shown by the manifests of cargo In the absence of any such manifest and in the case of item 7, the maundage will be that determined by measurement in accordance with the rules in force for this line of navigation

All vessels whether, of Government or private owners, are liable for toll except those exempted by the provisions of the Bengal Government Circular Order No. 11., dated the 11th July 1906

PART I A.

Orders and Notifications by the Government of India.

The following notification, issued by the Government of India in the Legislative Department, published in the Gazette of India, dated the 22nd August 1914, is republished for general information.

J. G. CUMMING,
Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

NOTIFICATION.

Simla, the 20th August, 1914.

An Ordinance to provide for the exercise of more effective control over foreigners in British India.

ORDINANCE No. III OF 1914.

WHEREAS an emergency has arisen which makes it necessary to provide for the exercise of more effective control over foreigners in British India;

Now, therefore, in exercise of the powers conferred by section 23 of the Indian Councils Act, 1861, the Governor General is pleased to make and promulgate the following Ordinance. 24 & 25 Vict., c 67

Short title and extent

1. (1) This Ordinance may be called "The Foreigners Ordinance, 1914."

(2) It extends to the whole of British India including British Baluchistan, the Sonthal Parganas, the district of Angul, the Shan States and the Pargana of Spiti.

Definitions.

2. In this Ordinance—

(a) "foreigner" has the same meaning as in the Foreigners Act, 1864. III of 1864

(b) "prescribed" means prescribed by rules made under this Ordinance.

Power to prohibit or regulate entry, departure and residence of foreigners

3. (1) The Governor General in Council may by order—

(a) prohibit, or regulate and restrict in such manner as he thinks fit, the entry of foreigners into British India and their departure from British India; and

(b) regulate or restrict in such manner as he thinks fit the liberty of foreigners residing or being in British India.

(2) In particular and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power orders under sub-section (1) may provide—

(a) that no foreigner shall enter into or depart from British India, save within such period and by such route, or by such port or place as may be specified in such order;

(b) that foreigners shall be prohibited from entering or remaining in any specified area in British India or shall only be permitted to enter or remain in British India or any specified area therein subject to such conditions and restrictions as the Governor General in Council may impose; and

(c) that foreigners residing or being in British India shall remove themselves to and remain in any specified area, or if such an order is necessary for the public safety, or in the interests of the State, that such foreigners shall be arrested and interned or confined in such manner as the Governor General in Council may think fit.

Penalties.

4. Any foreigner who contravenes or attempts to contravene the provisions of any order made under section 3, shall be punished with imprisonment of either description for a term which may extend to three years or with fine or with both.

Householder to report residence of any foreigner in his house to prescribed authority in specified areas.

5. (1) The Governor General in Council or any Local Government may, by notification in the Gazette of India or the local official Gazette, as the case may be, direct that within any area specified in such notification, every householder in whose house a foreigner is residing either temporarily or permanently shall forthwith report to the prescribed authority in the prescribed manner, the name of such foreigner, and such other particulars respecting him and the period of his residence in such house as may be prescribed.

(2) Any householder who fails to comply with the provisions of any notification issued under sub-section (1) shall be punished with imprisonment of either description for a term which may extend to six months or with fine which may extend to [illegible] hundred rupees or with both.

Orders under Ordinance may be general or special.

6. Where under the provisions of this Ordinance the Governor General in Council or any Local Government is authorised to make any order or issue any notification in respect of foreigners, such order may be made or such notification issued in respect of foreigners generally or in respect of any class or description of foreigners, or in respect of any individual foreigner, and different orders or notifications may be made or issued in respect of different classes of foreigners.

Power to make rules.

7. (1) The Governor General in Council may make rules for the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of this Ordinance:

In particular and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power such rules may provide for—

(a) the authority to whom, and the manner in which, reports under section 5 shall be made and the particulars to be stated therein; and

(b) the manner in which orders under this Ordinance shall be enforced.

(2) All rules made under this section shall have effect as if enacted in this Ordinance.

Power to rescind or modify rules or orders.

8. The Governor General in Council or the Local Government may at any time rescind or modify any order, rule or notification made or issued under this Ordinance, and the Governor General in Council may delegate, subject to such conditions and restrictions as he thinks fit, all or any of his powers under this Ordinance to any civil or military authority in British India either by name or in virtue of his office.

Saving of powers under existing law.

9. Nothing in this Ordinance shall be deemed to affect or derogate from any power which may be exercised under the Foreigners Act, 1864, or under any other law for the time being in force in respect of foreigners generally or in respect of foreigners who are subjects of a State which is at war with His Majesty. III of 1864.

Power of exemption.

10. The Governor General in Council may exempt, either absolutely or conditionally, any foreigner or any class or description of foreigners from all or any of the provisions of this Ordinance.

Bar of jurisdiction of Courts.

11. No order made under section 3 of this Ordinance shall be called in question in any Court.

HARDINGE OF PENSHURST,
Viceroy and Governor-General.

Simla, the 15th August, 1914.

No. 111-W.—The following Royal Proclamation is republished, for general information and guidance :—

"The London Gazette."

Wednesday, 12th August 1914.

By the King.

A PROCLAMATION.

GEORGE R. I.

WHEREAS on the fourth day of August one thousand nine hundred and fourteen a state of war came into existence between us on the one hand and the German Empire on the other.

AND WHEREAS we did on the same date and on the fifth day of August one thousand nine hundred and fourteen issue certain Proclamations and Orders in Council connected with such state of war.

AND WHEREAS a state of war now exists between us on the one hand and the Dual Monarchy of Austria-Hungary on the other.

AND WHEREAS it is therefore desirable to extend the scope of certain of the Proclamations and Orders in Council aforesaid.

Now therefore we have thought fit by and with the advice of our Privy Council to issue this Our Royal Proclamation declaring, and it is hereby declared as follows :—

1. The Proclamation warning all our subjects and all persons resident or being in our dominions from contributing to or participating in or assisting in the floating of any loan raised on behalf of the German Government or from advancing money to or entering into any contract of dealings whatsoever with the said Government or otherwise aiding, abetting or assisting the said Government shall be deemed as from this date to apply to all loans raised on behalf of or contracts or dealings entered into with or to aiding, abetting or assisting the Austro-Hungarian Government.

2. The Proclamation on trading with the enemy shall be deemed as from this date to prohibit with the Dual Monarchy of Austria-Hungary all commercial intercourse which under the said Proclamation is prohibited with the German Empire and for this purpose such Proclamation shall be read as if, throughout the operative portion thereof, the words "either the German Empire or the Dual Monarchy of Austria-Hungary" were substituted for the words "the German Empire."

3. (1) In the Order in Council issued with reference to the departure from our ports of enemy's vessels which at the outbreak of hostilities were in any such port or which subsequently entered the same the word "enemy" as applied to either ships or cargo shall be deemed as from this date to include Austro-Hungarian ships or cargo.

(2) In the application of this Article to Austro-Hungarian ships the date Saturday, the 15th day of August, shall be substituted for the date mentioned in Article 2 of the said Order in Council and the date Saturday, the 22nd day of August, shall be substituted for the date mentioned in Article 3 of the said Order in Council.

4. The Proclamation specifying the articles which it is our intention to treat as contraband of war during the war with Germany shall be deemed to specify the articles which it is our intention to treat as contraband of war during the war with Austria-Hungary.

5. In the Proclamation forbidding the carriage in British vessels from any foreign port to any other foreign port of any article comprised in the list of contraband of war issued by us, unless the ship-owner shall have first satisfied himself that the articles are not intended ultimately for use in the enemy country, the words "enemy country" shall be deemed as from this date to include the Dual Monarchy of Austria-Hungary.

Given at Our Court of Buckingham Palace this twelfth day of August in the year of Our Lord one thousand nine hundred and fourteen and in the fifth year of Our Reign.

GOD SAVE THE KING.

The 17th August 1914.

No. 129-W.—In pursuance of the Notifications by the Government of India in the Foreign and Political Department, Nos. 9-W. and 111-W., dated the 5th and 15th August, 1914, respectively, the Governor-General in Council hereby directs that Articles 3 to 8, inclusive, of the Order in Council, relative to the treatment of enemy shipping, shall come into force as regards Austro-Hungarian merchant ships only with effect from the 15th day of August, 1914.

The following note to Article 3 of the Order in Council is republished for information :—

Commercial Course Advisory and Examination Board.

CALCUTTA,
The 17th July 1914.

DACCA DIVISION.

Rules for the admission of Private Candidates to the University Matriculation Examination, 1915.

1. A student who has not attended any school, recognised or unrecognised, for at least one year previous to the examination will be treated as a private candidate. Teachers of schools are also considered as private candidates. A student who failed to pass the annual examination for promotion to class X at the end of the Session 1914 and then left the school should not be allowed to sit at the examination.

2. Private candidates desirous of sitting at the ensuing University Matriculation Examination must appear at the test examination of one of the undermentioned schools to be held on the 1st December 1914 and the following days:—

1. Dacca Collegiate School.	3. Faridpur Zilla School.
2. Mymensingh Zilla School.	4. Barisal Zilla School.

3. Every private candidate must submit his application for admission to the test examination on or before the 1st November 1914 to the Head Master of one of the schools named above where he intends to appear, producing a certificate from a respectable gentleman to the effect (1) that he has not attended any school, recognised or unrecognised, for at least one year previous to the examination, (2) that his conduct and character have been good, (3) that he has diligently and regularly prosecuted his studies and has been subject to proper discipline.

4. He should also forward with his application his transfer certificate from the school (if any) in which he last read, or the Registrar's receipt (if he appeared at any previous Entrance Examination) or a certificate from a respectable person with personal knowledge of the facts of the case that he has never been to any school.

5. No one will be admitted to the test examination unless he shall produce satisfactory evidence that he will have completed the age of sixteen years on the first day of the Matriculation Examination. For the purpose of this rule the age as recorded in a transfer certificate from a recognised school or in the Registrar's receipt (in case of those who appeared at any previous examination) will be accepted. Those who have never read in any school must produce either their horoscope or an affidavit sworn by their parents or guardians before a competent Magistrate declaring their age.

6. Every private candidate shall state in his application his name, father's name, date of birth, residence, postal address and the following particulars:—

1. Whether he appeared at the Entrance Examination in any previous year.
2. Language in which (besides English) he is to be examined.
3. Vernacular language for composition.
4. Vernacular language from which translation is to be made into English in the 1st English paper.
5. Which of the following subjects taken up—

(a) Additional Mathematics.	(c) History.
	(e) Elementary Mechanics.

7. Every private candidate must pay a fee of Rs. 2 to the Head Master of the school at which he appears for examiantion. After payment of the necessary expenses the balance of the fees will be paid to the examiners as remuneration.

8. On the date of examination, he must be accompanied, for the purpose of identification, by some person known to the officer conducting the examination, otherwise he will not be admitted to the test examination.

9. The Head Masters of the schools named above should send to this office for orders a statement in duplicate showing the marks gained by each private candidate in each subject at the test examination within a fortnight from the date of the said examination. The application forms of candidates who are declared eligible should be forwarded to this office for countersignature duly filled in and signed and accompanied by the documentary evidence referred to in paragraphs 3, 4 and 5.

10. Private candidates should arrange to remit their examination fees, together with the countersigned application forms, direct to the Registrar, so as to reach him on or before the 17th January 1915. The fee payable by each candidate for the examination is Rs. 12.

Notice.

THE Bengal and Madras Service Family Pension Fund which is provisionally managed and assisted by Government has for its object the provision of monthly pensions for the maintenance of the widows and children of subscribers and is open, with certain exceptions, to all active and pensioned members of the Uncovenanted Service of Government (except those serving under the Government of Bombay), and to Local Fund servants earning pensions from Government. Some of the special features of the Fund are—(1) that widowed daughters incapable of remarriage or children labouring under such mental or bodily infirmities as incapacitate them from earning their livelihood or preclude the possibility of marriage (in case of a daughter) are admitted to its benefits; and (2) that subscribers to the Widows' and Daughters' branches are entitled to a refund of 30 per cent. of the premia paid, should the nominees predecease them after five years of admission. The Fund is now of ten years' standing and has a balance of over three and-a-half lakhs with Government on four per cent. interest. For forms of applications and rules of the Fund apply to the Comptroller, India Treasuries, Imperial Secretariat Buildings, Calcutta.

THE INDIAN LAW REPORTS.

Published in FOUR SERIES, viz.

CALCUTTA, MADRAS, BOMBAY AND ALLAHABAD

THE Indian Law Reports, published under the authority of the Governor-General in Council, are printed in monthly Parts, which are issued, as soon as possible after the first of each month, at Calcutta, Madras, Bombay and Allahabad, respectively.

The Reports comprise four Series—one for the Calcutta High Court, a second for the Madras High Court, a third for the Bombay High Court, and a fourth for the Allahabad High Court.

The cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from each High Court are reported in the Series for that High Court. Cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from Provinces in India not subject to any High Court are reported in the Calcutta series.

The Calcutta Series is distributed by the Bengal Secretariat Book Depôt: and the Madras, Bombay and Allahabad Series are distributed direct from Madras, Bombay and Allahabad, respectively.

Persons desiring to subscribe for or purchase the Reports should apply to—the Officer in charge Bengal Secretariat Book Depôt, Calcutta, or

the Superintendent, Government Press, Madras, or the Superintendent, Government Central Press, Bombay, or the Curator of Government Books, United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, Allahabad.

Signals to be made by vessels approaching ports when inconvenienced by searchlights.

No. 410 (second publication).—The following particulars, etc., relative to the above, issued by the British Admiralty (No. 1053 of 1914), are republished :—

Former Notice.—No. 2 of 1914 (This office No. 75 of 1914) which is hereby cancelled.

Any vessel approaching a port in the British Empire when searchlights are being worked, and fearing that they will interfere with her safe navigation, may make use of the following signals, either singly or combined :

(a) By flashing lamp, four short flashes followed by one long flash.
(b) By whistle, siren, or fog-horn, four short blasts followed by one long blast.

Whenever possible, both flashing lamp signals and sound signals should be used.

On these signals being made, the searchlights will be worked as far as circumstances will permit, so as to cause the least inconvenience, being either extinguished, raised, or altered in direction.

The signals should not be used without real necessity, as unless the vessel is actually in the rays of a searchlight it is difficult to know which searchlight is affected. The signals should be repeated until the inconvenience is removed.

Note.

These signals are designed to assist mariners and do not render the Government liable in any way.

Approximate position.—
Lat. 41° 17′ S., long. 174° 46′ E
Elevation.—416 feet.

Time service :

(1) Accurate time Signals :—

On days when accurate time signals are given, the flag T of the international code will be hoisted on the Observatory flagstaff about mid-day.

(a) When the flag is flying, chronometers may be compared with a galvanometer in the public telegraph office, Featherston Street. This galvanometer is controlled by the Observatory clock, and is deflected every hour of New Zealand standard time.

(b) Time signals are given by three electric lights erected on the Observatory flagstaff. The lower light is green, and is 30 feet above the ground; the middle light is red, and is 36 feet above the ground; the upper light is white, and is 42 feet above the ground.

The green light is shown at 50 minutes, the red light at 10 minutes, and the white light at 5 minutes to the hour; all three lights are extinguished simultaneously at the hour. The switching on of the lights must be considered as only approximately correct; the correct time is given by the switching off of the three lights. The signal is given at 8, 9, 10 and 11 p.m. of New Zealand standard time.

The corresponding Greenwich mean time (counted from noon) and New Zealand standard time (counted from midnight) of these signals are as under :—

		G.M.T.			N.Z.S.T.
		H.	M.	S.	H.	M.	S.
Green light switched on	...	19	40	0	19	10	0*
Red light switched on	...	20	20	0	19	50	0*
White light switched on	...	20	25	0	19	55	0*
All lights switched out	...	20	30	0	20	0	0†

* Approximate. † Time signal.

And similarly at each succeeding hour until 23 h. 30 m. G.M.T.

(2) Approximate time Signals :—

When, owing to bad weather or other causes, accurate time signals cannot be given, approximate ones will be given; but in these cases the flag will not be hoisted and the green light will not be shown. On application to the Observatory the error of these signals can usually be obtained.

(3) Time signals by telephone and by telegraph :—

Arrangements can usually be made to give time signals by telephone or by telegraph to any part of the Dominion on application being made to the Observatory.

Note.—The following note has been inserted on the charts :—

"Time Signals are made from the Hector Obsy. by means of three coloured lights."

CONSTITUTION OF AN ADVISORY FOOD COMMITTEE.

POLITICAL DEPARTMENT.

POLICE.

CALCUTTA, THE 22ND AUGUST 1914.

RESOLUTION—No. 7043P.

THE attention of Government has been drawn to the changes in the normal prices of food-stuffs which have arisen with the outbreak of hostilities in Europe. The question of the measures that should be adopted to restore normal prices where possible has also been under consideration.

2. The Governor in Council has decided to constitute an advisory Food Committee in Calcutta, the duties of which will be to warn Government of any unusual movement in the Food Market, and also to take action itself in dealing direct with the Corporation, the owners of markets, and the purveyors and manufacturers of food-stuffs in Calcutta. His Excellency in Council believes that such a Committee will have a steadying influence in Calcutta, and ultimately throughout the districts of the Presidency.

3. The constitution of the Committee is as follows :—

President :

The Hon'ble Mr. F. J. Monahan, I.C.S.

DISTRICT REPORTS ON WEATHER AND CROPS

For the week ending on the 24th August 1914.

Summary.—During the week under review light to moderate showers fell throughout the province. More rain is wanted in a number of places for transplantation of winter rice and for steeping and washing of jute. Harvesting of jute, though late, is proceeding normally everywhere and that of aus paddy is nearing completion. The condition and prospects of the standing crops are fairly good. Damage to jute from insect pests continues to be reported from Burdwan and Murshidabad. Winter rice is also reported to have been damaged by insect pests in parts of Midnapore. Cattle-disease is reported from fourteen districts. The average price of common rice has fallen by about 1·3 per cent. as compared with that of the previous week.

Serial No.	Districts and subdivisions.	Rainfall.	Price of common rice, in seers, per rupee. This week.	Price of common rice, in seers, per rupee. Previous week.	Character of the weather, condition of crops, etc.

NOTIFICATION.

MERCHANT SHIPPING.

No. 7988.

Simla, the 24th August, 1914.

THE following Royal Proclamation prohibiting British vessels from carrying contraband from one foreign port to any other foreign port is published for general information.

By the subsequent Proclamation republished in Government of India Foreign and Political Department Notification No. 111-W., dated Simla, the 15th August 1914, it was declared that the words "enemy country" shall be deemed as from the twelfth day of August in the year of Our Lord one thousand nine hundred and fourteen to include the Dual Monarchy of Austria-Hungary.

By the King.

A PROCLAMATION.

GEORGE R.I.

WHEREAS a state of war exists between Us on the one hand and the German Empire on the other;

AND WHEREAS WE have by Proclamation warned all persons resident, carrying on business, or being in OUR Dominions, that it is contrary to law for them to have any commercial intercourse with any person resident, carrying on business, or being in the said Empire, or to trade in or carry any goods, wares, or merchandise destined for or coming from the said Empire, or for or from any person resident, carrying on business, or being therein;

Now WE do hereby further warn all OUR subjects that conformably with that prohibition it is forbidden to carry in British vessels, from any foreign port to any other foreign port, any article comprised in the list of contraband of war issued by US, unless the shipowner shall have first satisfied himself that the articles are not intended ultimately for use in the enemy country. Any British vessel acting in contravention of this Proclamation will be liable to capture by OUR naval forces and to be taken before OUR prize courts for adjudication, and any of OUR subjects acting in contravention of this Proclamation will be liable to such penalties as the law prescribes.

Given at OUR Court at Buckingham Palace this fifth day of August in the year of OUR Lord one thousand nine hundred and fourteen and in the fifth year of OUR Reign.

GOD SAVE THE KING.

R. E. ENTHOVEN,
Secretary to the Government of India.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 7233P.—The 28th August, 1914.—In exercise of the power delegated by the Government of India, Home Department Notification No. 907, dated 22nd August, 1914 (published in the Gazette of India Extraordinary of the same date), the Governor in Council is pleased, under clause (b) of sub-section (1) of section 3 of the Foreigners Ordinance, 1914 (III of 1914),—

(a) to direct that, until further notice, the orders set out below shall be applicable to all subjects of the German Empire other than male subjects of 20 years of age or over but not more than 39 years of age, and to all subjects of the Dual Monarchy of Austria-Hungary other than male subjects who are 21 years of age or over but not more than 33 years of age, residing or being in the Presidency of Bengal; and

(b) to empower—

(i) in Calcutta and its suburbs, the Commissioner of Police, and (ii) in any other place in Bengal, the Magistrate of the District in which such place is situated—

(hereinafter called the Supervising Officer) to give effect to the said orders within their respective jurisdictions.

ORDERS.*

1. Every foreigner to whom this Notification applies shall reside at such place and report his or her movements at such times and in such manner as the Supervising Officer may require.

2. Every foreigner to whom this Notification applies shall refrain from all intercourse and communication with any person or class of persons with whom such intercourse or communication may be prohibited by the Supervising Officer.

3. Save with the special permission of the Supervising Officer, not more than three foreigners to whom this Notification applies shall move about together at any time or congregate in any one place.

* Section 4 of the Foreigners Ordinance, 1914 (III of 1914), runs as follows :—

"Any foreigner who contravenes or attempts to contravene the provisions of any order made under section 3, shall be punished with imprisonment of either description for a term which may extend to three years or with fine or with both."

DECLARATION.

Burdwan.

No. 2983Com.—The 28th August 1914.—Whereas certain land was acquired by the Bengal Government, under the provisions of Act I of 1894 and Act XVIII of 1885, for a public purpose, viz., for such portion of the Salanpur Branch as lies between mile 144 furlongs 7 feet 282 and mile 145 furlongs 2 feet 243, and whereas coal mines are situate under the said land, and whereas Messrs. F. W. Heilgers and Brothers have given notice to the Government of Bengal, in accordance with the provisions of Act XVIII of 1885, that the said Company intend to work the seam known as the Pahargora Top Seam, and whereas the mines have been inspected by the officer appointed by the Bengal Government for the purpose under section 5 (1) of Act XVIII of 1885, and whereas it appears to the Bengal Government that the working out of the coal of the mines underlying the said land is likely to cause damage to the surface of the said land and to the works constructed thereon, and whereas the said Messrs. F. W. Heilgers and Brothers have agreed not to work and get minerals underlying the land acquired for their siding, or underlying the land acquired for the branch or other lines with which the siding is connected or underlying the land of the branch or branches connecting the said siding with the main line, in such a manner as to injure or to endanger the safety of the undertaking or any part thereof, nor to claim any compensation for any restricted working:

Now, therefore the Governor in Council is pleased to declare, under section 5, sub-section (2), clause (b) of the abovementioned Act XVIII of 1885, that the working shall be carried on by the said Messrs. F. W. Heilgers and Brothers in the manner and subject to the restrictions below specified, viz.:—

(a) No workings shall be made where the cover from the roof of the gallery to the natural surface of the ground is less than 50 feet, except that one road may be driven if required as a haulage road not exceeding 10 feet wide and 8 feet high. If the cover over any portion of such road is less than 30 feet the road shall be arched for such length, the arching to be built of sound brick or stone and mortar, the side walls and crown being not less than 2½ feet thick; the side walls shall be built on solid ground excavated not less than one foot below the floor of the gallery and the width between them shall be not more than 7 feet. Any space between the walling and the ground excavated shall be tightly rammed with earth or other incombustible material;

(b) Where the cover from the roof of the gallery to the natural surface of the ground is over 50 feet, galleries not exceeding 12 feet high and 12 feet wide may be driven leaving pillars not less than 38 feet square;

(c) Manholes not exceeding 6 feet in height and 3 feet in width and 4 feet in depth may be made when required by any rule under the Indian Mines Act, 1901;

(d) Any inrush of water, quicksand or soft material shall be reported to the Chief Inspector of Mines in India without delay;

(e) These restrictions apply only to the Pahargora Top Seam and to the area edged with pink upon the plan and Messrs. F. W. Heilgers and Brothers shall give notice under section 4 of the Land Acquisition (Mines) Act, 1885, of their intention to work any other seam under this area or to work coal under any other area of the acquired land; and that in all the above cases no further excavation shall be made in any of the galleries which already have been driven, the actual heights and widths of which have been carefully recorded on the plan marked L.A.M.A. No. 233 signed by the Chief Inspector of Mines.

The plan referred to may be seen in the office of the Chief Inspector of Mines in India by the parties concerned.

No. 1540M.—In exercise of the power conferred by section 139 of the Bengal Local Self-Government Act 1885 (Bengal Act III of 1885), as amended by Act I of 1914, I confirm the following bye-laws which have been framed by the District Board of Rangpur under clause (1) of the said section:—

BYE-LAWS OF THE DISTRICT BOARD OF RANGPUR.

Definitions.

Definitions

1. In these bye-laws, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(1) the word "cattle" has the same meaning as in the Cattle-trespass Act, 1871; (I of 1871)

(2) "reserved tank or well" means a tank or well which the District Board has set apart under section 90 of the Bengal Local Self-Government Act of 1885, by public notice, for the supply of water for drinking and for culinary purposes, and includes any reservoir, or part of any river, khal or other channel, so set apart; and a notice-board on the edge of a reserved tank or well, containing the words "reserved tank" or "reserved well" or words to that effect, shall be deemed to be sufficient notice for the purpose of this definition; and (Bengal Act III of 1885)

(3) the "slopes" of a reserved tank or well include all places from which water can flow directly into such tank or well; and

(4) "road" means a road vested in, or under the control and administration of, the District Board or a Local Board; and includes—

(a) a village road;

(b) the slope, berm, borrow-pits and side-drains of a road; and

(c) all land vested in, or under the control and administration of, the District Board or a Local Board, and attached to a road.

Roads, drains, bridges, canals and embankments.

Encroachment or obstruction on a road

2. (1) No person shall encroach on any part of a road by cultivating crops thereon.

(2) No person shall, on any road, by means of any building, fence, pit, embankment or ditch, or any other obstruction, or by means of any cut, drain or watercourse intended for the purpose of drainage or irrigation, or by exposing thereon any goods for sale or by placing thereon any substance or material,—

(a) without the permission of the Chairman or Vice-Chairman of the District Board or a Local Board, or the District Engineer, make or cause any encroachment, or

(b) obstruct traffic, or

(c) cause any inconvenience to passengers, or

Sale, collecting or gathering of articles in vicinity of road

3. No person shall expose or place any article for sale in any bazar or market in the vicinity of any road, or collect or gather any articles in the vicinity of a road, so as to interfere with the traffic of the road.

Cutting of plants, trees or hedges obstructing road or drain

4. Any person in possession of, or having control over, any plants, trees or hedges which obstruct, overhang or overshadow any road, or any public drain or sluice, or any drain which is connected with a public drain, shall, if so required by notice in writing, signed by the Chairman or Vice-Chairman of the District Board or a Local Board, or by the District Engineer, cut down, prune or trim such plants, trees or hedges so as to remove the obstruction or the injury within the period prescribed in such notice

Damage to bridges, culverts or causeways on road.

5. (1) No person shall destroy or damage, or cause to be destroyed or damaged, any bridge, culvert or causeway built on or across any road.

(2) No person shall erect any fence or other object on, or before or close to the opening of, any such bridge, culvert or causeway, for the purpose of fishing or for any other purpose, so as to impede the free flow of water thereunder, or so as to cause damage thereto.

(3) No person shall cast nets for fishing purposes from any parapet of any such bridge or culvert.

Damage to fences, posts, soil, turf or grass on road.

6. No person shall—

(a) destroy or damage, or cause to be destroyed or damaged, any fence or post erected on any road; or

(b) dig, scrape, uproot or remove any soil, turf or grass from any part of a road.

Channel across road.

7. (1) No person shall cut a channel, or convey water by a channel, across a road, except with the permission of the Chairman or Vice-Chairman of the District Board or a Local Board, or the District Engineer, and in such manner as he may prescribe.

(2) Any person who has been permitted by the Chairman or Vice-Chairman of the District Board or a Local Board, or by the District Engineer, to cut a channel across a road, shall, at the time prescribed by him, cover or refill the channel so as to restore the road to its former condition.

(3) Any person who has a prescriptive right to keep a channel open for carrying water across a road shall keep the channel in proper order, so as to prevent danger or inconvenience to the public.

Obstruction of waterway adjoining road

8. No person shall obstruct any waterway adjoining a road, so as to injure or tend to injure the road or otherwise to render the road impassable.

Excavations on or near road.

9. (1) No person shall make any excavation on any road, or any hole, pit or tank within fifteen feet of any road, without the permission of the Chairman or Vice-Chairman of the District Board or a Local Board or the District Engineer.

(2) Every person by whom, or by whose direction, any hole, pit or tank has been excavated within fifteen feet of a road shall be bound to take such order therewith as will prevent damage to, or erosion of, the road.

Protection of excavations on or near road.

10. The owner or occupier of any tank, well, or other excavation on or near the side of any road shall be bound to fence in or duly protect such excavation in such manner as may be directed by notice signed by the Chairman or Vice-Chairman of the District Board or a Local Board.

Use of roads, bridges, culverts or canals while closed to traffic.

11. No person shall pass over, or drive any animal or vehicle over, any road, bridge, culvert or canal, so as to injure the same, while it is under construction or repair or is affected by flood or is otherwise rendered unfit for traffic and is closed to traffic under the orders of the Chairman of the District Board or a Local Board, or (in emergent cases, pending application to such Chairman) of the District Engineer.

Discharge of rainfall from roof to road.

12. No person shall, without the permission of the Chairman or Vice-Chairman of the District Board or a Local Board, or the District Engineer, allow the rainfall from the roof of any building owned or occupied by him to be discharged upon any road by means of a spout or other thing intended for the conveyance of water.

Flow of filth on to road.

13. No person shall allow the water of any privy, or any matter offensive or deleterious to health, to flow on any road.

Removal of trees or erections falling on to road.

14. Any person owning or possessing a tree or a house, wall or other erection which has fallen, or part of which has fallen, on to a road, shall, if so required by notice in writing signed by the Chairman or Vice-Chairman of the District Board or a Local Board or by the District Engineer, remove such tree, house, wall, erection or part, within the period prescribed in such notice.

Curing hides on or near road and reserved tank

15. No person shall cure hides on or within 50 yards of any road or reserved tank.

Slaughter of animals, cleaning of carcasses, etc, on or near road and reserved tank.

16. No person shall slaughter any animal, or clean any carcasses, or collect bones, on or within 50 yards of any road or reserved tank.

Placing or burning of bodies on road and reserved tank

17. No person shall place or burn any corpse or the dead body of any animal on or within 50 yards of any road or reserved tank.

Steeping offensive matter in road-side drain, pit or excavation.

18. No person shall steep any jute, hemp, bamboos, hides or other offensive matter in any drain, borrow-pit or excavation at the side of any road.

Rule of the road

19. (1) Any person driving a vehicle along a road, and meeting another vehicle, shall keep on the left or near side of the road, so as to allow sufficient room for the other vehicle to pass.

(2) No person driving a vehicle along a road, and overtaking another vehicle shall attempt to pass the latter vehicle otherwise than on the right or off side of the road.

Freedom of roads

20. No person shall prevent any other person from passing along a road, or shall otherwise interrupt the free use of a road.

Care of animals on road

21. (1) No person in charge of, or having control over, any animal used for riding or draught shall allow such animal to stand or wander on any road without a rider or driver.

(2) No person in charge of, or having control over, any cattle shall allow such cattle to stray or lie on any road so as to cause inconvenience or danger to any person travelling on the road.

(3) No person shall tether or cause to be tethered any cattle on, or within reach of, a road, or stall cattle or allow cattle to graze on a road.

Elephants and camels on road to have bell

22. Every person owning, riding, driving or in charge of any elephant or camel proceeding on a road, must see that such elephant or camel is provided with a bell, and with a light also if such animal is proceeding on a road after nightfall.

Taking elephants over road, embankment, bridge or culvert

23. No person driving or in charge of an elephant shall—

(a) cause material injury to a road, or to an embankment vested in the District Board or a Local Board, by taking the elephant over the same; or

(b) take the elephant over a bridge or culvert vested in the District Board or a Local Board, unless the same be constructed of arched masonry.

Removal of elephants or camels from road, to admit passage of horses

24. Every driver of an elephant or camel shall, on being so required by the rider or driver of a horse, remove such elephant or camel with reasonable promptitude to a sufficient distance from the road, to allow such horse to pass safely along the road.

Care of vehicles on road

25. (1) No person shall drive or have in his charge on any road more than one vehicle at a time.

(2) No person in charge of, or having control over, any vehicle shall allow it to stand unattended on any road.

(3) No person shall leave a vehicle standing on a road for any longer time than is necessary for loading or unloading it.

(4) No person shall drive upon a road any vehicle laden with bamboos, planks or other materials of a similar character which exceed twelve feet in length and project beyond the vehicle, unless the vehicle be accompanied also by another person.

(5) All owners and drivers of vehicles loaded with bricks or other materials shall be responsible for their being so secured that the contents thereof may not fall down on any road.

(6) If any vehicle breaks down on a road, the driver shall remove it to the edge of the road without delay, and shall, within a reasonable time, remove from the road all materials (if any) which have fallen from the vehicle, and shall place the vehicle in such a position that it will not obstruct traffic.

(7) No person shall lead or drive any vehicle up or down the slopes of any road, except at crossings fixed by the District Board.

Carrying bamboos or bullahs on cart on road.

26. No person shall carry bamboos or bullahs on a cart on any road in such a manner as to scrape the road, or to cause injury or annoyance, or risk of injury, to travellers thereon.

Separate tracks for cart traffic and carriage traffic

27. Where separate tracks on roads have been set apart for carts and carriages, respectively, no cart shall be permitted to pass over the portion reserved for carriages.

CHAPTER III.

Of Adhesive Stamps.

Use of adhesive stamps on certain instruments

13. The following instruments may be stamped with adhesive stamps, namely:—

(a) Bills-of-exchange payable otherwise than on demand and drawn in sets, when the amount of duty does not exceed one anna for each part of the set.
(b) Transfers of debentures of public companies and associations.
(c) Copies of maps and plans and printed copies when chargeable with duty under Article 24 of Schedule I.
(d) Instruments chargeable with duty under Articles 5 (a) and (b) and 43 of Schedule I.

Supply of deficient duty on transfer of share

14. When any instrument of transfer of shares in a Company or Association is written on a sheet of paper on which a stamp of the proper value is engraved or embossed, and the value of the stamp so engraved or embossed is subsequently, in consequence of a rise in the value of such shares, found to fall short of the amount of duty chargeable under Article No. 62 (a) of Schedule I, one or more adhesive stamps bearing the words "Share Transfer" may be used to make up the amount required.

Enrolment of Advocates, Vakils or Attorneys

15. Stamps indicating the duty chargeable on entry as an Advocate, Vakil or Attorney on the roll of any High Court shall be affixed under the superintendence of a gazetted officer of the High Court, who shall obtain the stamp from the Superintendent of Stamps or other officer appointed in this behalf by the Local Government and account to him for it. Such gazetted officer shall, after affixing the stamp, write on the face of it his usual signature with the date thereof.

Adhesive stamp or stamps denoting duty of one anna or half an anna

16. Except as otherwise provided by these rules, the adhesive stamp or stamps used to denote the duty of one anna shall bear the words "One anna" or "Half anna," as the case may be, and the adhesive stamp used to denote the duty of half an anna shall bear the words "Half anna"; and such stamp or stamps may be inscribed for use either for postage or for revenue, or for both postage and revenue,

Special adhesive stamps to be used in certain cases

17. The following instruments when stamped with adhesive stamps shall be stamped with the following descriptions of such stamps, namely:—

(a) Bills-of-exchange, cheques and promissory notes drawn or made out of British India and chargeable with a duty of more than one anna: with stamps bearing the words "Foreign Bill."
(b) Separate instruments of transfer of shares and transfers of debentures of Public Companies and Associations: with stamps bearing the words "Share Transfer."
(c) Entry as an Advocate, Vakil or Attorney on the roll of any High Court: with stamps bearing the word "Advocate," "Vakil" or "Attorney," as the case may be.
(d) Notarial acts: with foreign bill stamps bearing the word "Notarial."
(e) Copies of maps or plans and printed copies certified to be true copies: with court-fee stamps.
(f) Instruments chargeable with stamp-duty under Articles 5(a) and (b) or 43 of Schedule I: with stamps bearing the words "Agreement" or "Brokers' Note," respectively.

CHAPTER IV.

Miscellaneous.

Provision for cases in which improper description of stamp is used.

18. When an instrument bears a stamp of proper amount, but of improper description, the Collector may, on payment of the duty with which the instrument is chargeable, certify by endorsement that it is duly stamped:

Provided that, if application is made within three months of the execution of the instrument, and the Collector is satisfied that the improper description of stamp was used solely on account of the difficulty or inconvenience of procuring one of the proper description, he may remit the further payment of duty prescribed in this rule.

Evidence as to circumstances of claim to refund or renewal.

19. The Collector may require any person claiming a refund or renewal under Chapter V of the Act, or his duly authorised agent, to make an oral deposition on oath or affirmation, or to file an affidavit, setting forth the circumstances under which the claim has arisen, and may also, if he thinks fit, call for the evidence of witnesses in support of the statement set forth in any such deposition or affidavit.

Payment of allowances in respect of spoiled or misused stamps or on the renewal of debentures.

20. When an application is made for the payment under Chapter V of the Act, of an allowance in respect of a spoiled or misused stamp, or on the renewal of a debenture, and an order is passed by the Collector sanctioning the allowance or calling for further evidence in support of the application, then, if the amount of the allowance or the stamp given in lieu thereof is not taken, or if the further evidence required is not furnished, as the case may be, by the applicant within one year of the date of such order, the application shall be struck off, and the spoiled or misused stamp (if any) sent to the Superintendent of Stamps or other officer appointed in this behalf by the Local Government for destruction.

Mode of cancelling original debenture on refund under section 55.

21. When the Collector makes a refund under section 55, he shall cancel the original debenture by writing on or across it the word "Cancelled" and his usual signature with the date thereof.

Rewards.

22. On the conviction of any offender under the Act, the Collector may grant to any person who appears to him to have contributed thereto a reward not exceeding such sum as the Local Government may fix in this behalf.

NOTIFICATION.

Simla, the 22nd August, 1914.

An Ordinance to render members of the Indian Volunteer force on actual military service subject to military law, as officers or soldiers.

ORDINANCE NO. IV OF 1914.

WHEREAS an emergency has arisen which renders it necessary that the officers, non-commissioned officers and men of volunteer corps, called out for actual military service, shall be subject to military law in all respects as officers or soldiers, as the case may be.

Now, therefore, in exercise of the powers conferred by section 23 of the Indian Councils Act, 1861, the Governor General is pleased to make and promulgate the following Ordinance:— (24 & 25 Vict., c 67)

Short title and extent

1. (1) This Ordinance may be called the Indian Volunteers Ordinance, 1914.

(2) It extends to the whole of British India, including British Baluchistan and the Sonthal Parganas, and applies also to British subjects within the territories of any Native Prince or Chief in India.

Law applicable to volunteers on actual military service

2. The members of any corps or portion of a corps of volunteers called out for actual military service under section 27 of the Indian Volunteers Act, 1869, (hereinafter referred to as the said Act) shall, whether enrolled before or after the promulgation of this Ordinance, and notwithstanding anything contained in the said Act, be subject in all respects to military law, the officers as officers, and the non-commissioned officers and men as soldiers, and the Army Act shall apply to them accordingly. (XX of 1869; 44 & 45 Vict., c. 58)

Resignation of volunteers enrolled prior to promulgation of this Ordinance

3. Any non-commissioned officer or man of any corps of volunteers who has been enrolled before the promulgation of this Ordinance shall, whether on actual military service or not, and notwithstanding anything contained in section 13 of the said Act, be entitled to quit such corps within one month from the date of promulgation of this Ordinance; and seven days previous notice in writing shall not be required in the case of non-commissioned officers and men quitting a corps in accordance with this section.

Rules for the admission of Private Candidates to the University Matriculation Examination, 1915.

1. A student who has not attended any school, recognised or unrecognised, for at least one year previous to the examination will be treated as a private candidate. Teachers of schools are also considered as private candidates. A student who failed to pass the annual examination for promotion to class X at the end of the Session 1914 and then left the school should not be allowed to sit at the examination.

2. Private candidates desirous of sitting at the ensuing University Matriculation Examination must appear at the test examination of one of the undermentioned schools to be held on the 1st December 1914 and the following days:—

1. Dacca Collegiate School.	3. Faridpur Zilla School.
2. Mymensingh Zilla School.	4. Barisal Zilla School.

3. Every private candidate must submit his application for admission to the test examination on or before the 1st November 1914 to the Head Master of one of the schools named above where he intends to appear, producing a certificate from a respectable gentleman to the effect (1) that he has not attended any school, recognised or unrecognised, for at least one year previous to the examination, (2) that his conduct and character have been good, (3) that he has diligently and regularly prosecuted his studies and has been subject to proper discipline

4. He should also forward with his application his transfer certificate from the school (if any) in which he last read, or the Registrar's receipt (if he appeared at any previous Entrance Examination) or a certificate from a respectable person with personal knowledge of the facts of the case that he has never been to any school.

5. No one will be admitted to the test examination unless he shall produce satisfactory evidence that he will have completed the age of sixteen years on the first day of the Matriculation Examination. For the purpose of this rule the age as recorded in a transfer certificate from a recognised school or in the Registrar's receipt (in case of those who appeared at any previous examination) will be accepted. Those who have never read in any school must produce either their horoscope or an affidavit sworn by their parents or guardians before a competent Magistrate declaring their age.

6. Every private candidate shall state in his application his name, father's name, date of birth, residence, postal address and the following particulars:—

1. Whether he appeared at the Entrance Examination in any previous year.
2. Language in which (besides English) he is to be examined.
3. Vernacular language for composition.

5. Which of the following subjects taken up—

(a) Additional Mathematics.	(c) History.
	(e) Elementary Mechanics.

7. Every private candidate must pay a fee of Rs. 2 to the Head Master of the school at which he appears for examiantion. After payment of the necessary expenses the balance of the fees will be paid to the examiners as remuneration.

8. On the date of examination, he must be accompanied, for the purpose of identification, by some person known to the officer conducting the examination, otherwise he will not be admitted to the test examination.

9. The Head Masters of the schools named above should send to this office for orders a statement in duplicate showing the marks gained by each private candidate in each subject at the test examination within a fortnight from the date of the said examination. The application forms of candidates who are declared eligible should be forwarded to this office for countersignature duly filled in and signed and accompanied by the documentary evidence referred to in paragraphs 3, 4 and 5.

10. Private candidates should arrange to remit their examination fees, together with the countersigned application forms, direct to the Registrar, so as to reach him on or before the 17th January 1915. The fee payable by each candidate for the examination is Rs. 12.

11. The Matriculation Examination for 1914 will be held in March 1915.

THE Bengal and Madras Service Family Pension Fund which is provisionally managed and assisted by Government has for its object the provision of monthly pensions for the maintenance of the widows and children of subscribers and is open, with certain exceptions, to all active and pensioned members of the Uncovenanted Service of Government (except those serving under the Government of Bombay), and to Local Fund servants earning pensions from Government. Some of the special features of the Fund are—(1) that widowed daughters incapable of remarriage or children labouring under such mental or bodily infirmities as incapacitate them from earning their livelihood or preclude the possibility of marriage (in case of a daughter) are admitted to its benefits ; and (2) that subscribers to the Widows' and Daughters' branches are entitled to a refund of 30 per cent. of the premia paid, should the nominees predecease them after five years of admission. The Fund is now of ten years' standing and has a balance of over three-and-a-half lakhs with Government on four per cent. interest. For forms of applications and rules of the Fund apply to the Comptroller, India Treasuries, Imperial Secretariat Buildings, Calcutta.

THE INDIAN LAW REPORTS.

Published in FOUR SERIES, viz.

CALCUTTA, MADRAS, BOMBAY AND ALLAHABAD

THE Indian Law Reports, published under the authority of the Governor-General in Council, are printed in monthly Parts, which are issued, as soon as possible after the first of each month, at Calcutta, Madras, Bombay and Allahabad, respectively.

The Reports comprise four Series—one for the Calcutta High Court, a second for the Madras High Court, a third for the Bombay High Court, and a fourth for the Allahabad High Court.

The cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from each High Court are reported in the Series for that High Court. Cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from Provinces in India not subject to any High Court are reported in the Calcutta series.

The Calcutta Series is distributed by the Bengal Secretariat Book Depôt: and the Madras, Bombay and Allahabad Series are distributed direct from Madras, Bombay and Allahabad, respectively.

Persons desiring to subscribe for or purchase the Reports should apply to—the Officer in charge Bengal Secretariat Book Depôt, Calcutta, or the Superintendent, Government Press, Madras, or the Superintendent, Government Central Press, Bombay, or the Curator of Government Books, United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, Allahabad.

Signals to be made by vessels approaching ports when inconvenienced by searchlights.

No. 410 (third publication).—The following particulars, etc., relative to the above, issued by the British Admiralty (No. 1053 of 1914), are republished :—

Former Notice.—No. 2 of 1914 (This office No. 75 of 1914) which is hereby cancelled.

Any vessel approaching a port in the British Empire when searchlights are being worked, and fearing that they will interfere with her safe navigation, may make use of the following signals, either singly or combined :

(a) By flashing lamp, four short flashes followed by one long flash.
(b) By whistle, siren, or fog-horn, four short blasts followed by one long blast.

Whenever possible, both flashing lamp signals and sound signals should be used.

On these signals being made, the searchlights will be worked as far as circumstances will permit, so as to cause the least inconvenience, being either extinguished, raised, or altered in direction.

The signals should not be used without real necessity, as unless the vessel is actually in the rays of a searchlight it is difficult to know which searchlight is affected. The signals should be repeated until the inconvenience is removed.

Note.

These signals are designed to assist mariners and do not render the Government liable in any way.

Approximate position.—
Lat. 41° 17′ S., long. 174° 46′ E.

Elevation.—416 feet.

Time service:

(1) Accurate time Signals:—

On days when accurate time signals are given, the flag T of the international code will be hoisted on the Observatory flagstaff about mid-day.

(a) When the flag is flying, chronometers may be compared with a galvanometer in the public telegraph office, Featherston Street. This galvanometer is controlled by the Observatory clock, and is deflected every hour of New Zealand standard time.

(b) Time signals are given by three electric lights erected on the Observatory flagstaff. The lower light is green, and is 30 feet above the ground; the middle light is red, and is 36 feet above the ground; the upper light is white, and is 42 feet above the ground.

The green light is shown at 50 minutes, the red light at 10 minutes, and the white light at 5 minutes to the hour; all three lights are extinguished simultaneously at the hour. The switching on of the lights must be considered as only approximately correct; the correct time is given by the switching off of the three lights. The signal is given at 8, 9, 10 and 11 p.m. of New Zealand standard time.

The corresponding Greenwich mean time (counted from noon) and New Zealand standard time (counted from midnight) of these signals are as under:—

		G.M.T.			N.Z.S.T.
		H.	M.	S.	H.	M.	S.
Green light switched on	...	19	40	0	19	10	0*
Red light switched on	...	20	20	0	19	50	0*
White light switched on	...	20	25	0	19	55	0*
All lights switched out	...	20	30	0	20	0	0†

* Approximate. † Time signal.

And similarly at each succeeding hour until 23 h. 30 m. G.M.T.

(2) Approximate time Signals—

When, owing to bad weather or other causes, accurate time signals cannot be given, approximate ones will be given; but in these cases the flag will not be hoisted and the green light will not be shown. On application to the Observatory the error of these signals can usually be obtained.

(3) Time signals by telephone and by telegraph:—

Arrangements can usually be made to give time signals by telephone or by telegraph to any part of the Dominion on application being made to the Observatory.

Note.—The following note has been inserted on the charts:—

"Time Signals are made from the Hector Obsy. by means of three coloured lights."

The names "New" and "Wellington" against the observatory on charts Nos. 1423 and 695 respectively have been altered to "Hector."

10. The Hon'ble Mr. Khan Bahadur Haji Ismail Sait.
11. M. Chengiah Chetty, Esq., B.A., Retired Deputy Commissioner.
12. N. S. Subba Rao, Esq., M.A. (Cantab.), Professor, Maharaja's College, Mysore.
13. Rao Bahadur M. Shama Rao, Esq., Inspector-General of Education.
14. M. Anantarajiah, Esq., Sowcar, Mysore.
15. C. Srinivasa Rao, Esq., Coffee Planter, Chikmagalur.
16. R. T. Mahadeva Rao, Esq., Retired Assistant Commissioner, Harihar.
17. M. Venkatakrishnayya, Esq., Head Master. Marimallappa's High School, Mysore.
18. C. Ranganatha Rao Sahib, Esq., B.A., B.L., Secretary.

Introductory.—With the sanction of the Government of His Highness the Maharaia of Mysore the Committee issue the following Prospectus in connection with the Exhibition of 1914.

2. Opening of the Exhibition.—This year the Exhibition opens on or about the 21st of September 1914 and will continue till the 5th October 1914, both days inclusive. The Cattle (local) and Poultry Shows and Weaving Competition will begin on Thursday, the 1st of October 1914 and close on Saturday, the 3rd.

The Wood Carving and Metal Work Competitions will begin on the 21st of September 1914 and continue till the 1st of October 1914. The Potters' and Ploughing Competitions commence on the 2nd and 3rd October 1914, respectively.

3. Object of the Exhibition.—The primary aim of the Committee is to impart to the Exhibition an educative character and to bring together articles, machinery and processes, the use of which it is desirable to bring to the notice of the raiyat, artizan and the manufacturer by actual demonstration. But as the Exhibition of a single specimen may not afford full information and may not be sufficiently attractive to the visiting public, articles intended for sale will also be admitted.

4. Sale-rooms and Sale of Exhibits.—Articles on a larger scale sent merely for sale, will have to be kept in separate stalls and in charge of the exhibitors or their agents. There is no objection to the sale of actual exhibits; but they will not be allowed to be removed from the Exhibition grounds till the termination of the Show. Articles admitted for purposes of sale alone may be removed after purchase. No article will be allowed to leave the Exhibition grounds without a gate pass, which will be issued by the Cash Accountant on production of a cash bill or sale memo. as the case may be.

Those who desire special facilities for the sale of articles or demonstration of processes, are requested to place themselves in communication with the Secretary to the Exhibition Committee at least two weeks before the opening of the Exhibition.

5. Lectures.—Written notes on subjects connected with Agriculture, Industry and Commerce will be thankfully received and printed in book forms for distribution at the Exhibition.

Demonstrations.—Arrangements will be made for holding a competition on the Exhibition grounds in Ploughing, Weaving and Pottery work, Carving and Metal work. The exact time of demonstrations will be announced later on by hand-bills and notices, unless there be at least three competitors for each event, the Committee have full power to withhold such competitions.

6. Donations.—The Committee will thankfully accept donations for awarding prizes or medals from individuals or associations desiring to give an impetus to any special branch of agriculture or industry.

7. Classification of Exhibits.—The classification of exhibits will be according to the prize-list subjoined to the Prospectus and entries in several sections should be made in the application forms prescribed.

8. Open to all India.—The Committee invite exhibits from all the districts of the State as well as from outside. They also appeal to the various Agricultural Departments and Associations in other parts of India, Burma and Ceylon to help them with exhibits and suggestions.

9. Judges.—Leading raiyats and non-official gentlemen will be invited to assist the Committee in judging the exhibits.

10. Admission fees for Visitors.—An admission fee of 2 annas per head will be levied each time a person enters the Exhibition Buildings. Season tickets will be issued at Re. 1 per head. These are not transferable, but books of eight single tickets may be had also at Re. 1 per book. Return railway season tickets between Bangalore and Mysore at a reduced rate, which will also admit the holder to the Exhibition for the whole period, will be arranged for.

11. Classification of exhibits in the Womens Section formerly published under class II of the Industrial Section has now been compactly arranged in a syllabus under the Ladies' Committee and published. A classified list of exhibits in the Educational Section has also been appended hereto.

RULES AND REGULATIONS.

Noxious articles.—Explosives or any substance noxious or dangerous will not be admitted by the Committee.

2. Particulars regarding the exhibits.—Intending exhibitors are requested to send to the Secretary to the Exhibition Committee, particulars of exhibits they intend to forward and the amount of space which their exhibits may take up, in the necessary entry form appended to this Prospectus. Forms may also be obtained from the district, divisional and taluk offices or from the Secretary to the Committee; plain paper of foolscap size may also be used, provided all the headings in the form are properly copied and filled up and separate sheets should be used for each section.

3. Application from Exhibitors.—Applications should reach the Secretary not later than 25th of August 1914. Each individual application, either from outside or inside the State, should contain a post-card with the full address of the exhibitor and the receipt of the application will be communicated by returning the card duly signed.

4. Lists from taluks.—Deputy Commissioners of districts with the District Committee, subdivisional officers and amildars of taluks are requested to convene, as early as possible, a meeting of the leading artizans, raiyats and merchants residing within their respective charges to explain to them fully the object and the scope of the Exhibition, to carefully acquaint them with the rules and regulations, drawing particular attention to such paragraphs as 2, 3, 10, etc., to send to this office for information, copies of proceedings of district and taluk Committee meetings, to distribute to them forms of applications, to have them filled up by intending exhibitors and to compile and forward them to the Secretary.

5. Articles not enumerated.—The Prospectus will show the nature of articles which can compete at the Exhibition. Articles not specially enumerated in this Prospectus may, however, be admitted by the Committee at their discretion.

6. No fees to be charged for exhibits.—No fees will be charged for the admission or for space given to display exhibits.

7. Acceptance of exhibits.—The Committee reserve to themselves absolute discretion as regards the acceptance or rejection of exhibits and the allotment of space covered or uncovered.

8. Delivery of exhibits.—Articles intended for the Exhibition may be brought by the exhibitor or his agent or servant and delivered at the Exhibition grounds or sent by post or railway and all taluk and district exhibits should be sent through t e Deputy Commissioners of Districts so as to reach the Exhibition by the 5th of September 1914. A consolidated list of District Exhibits and Exhibitors in duplicate should accompany the consignment one of which will be checked, receipted and returned by the Secretary.

9. Payment of freight and transport charges.—No exhibits in respect of which the necessary freight or transport charges have not been paid by the exhibitor will be accepted by the Committee, nor can the money be received from the exhibitors, for payment towards clearance of goods booked "To Pay."

10. List of particulars.—All packages received or delivered and all implements and machinery intended for the Exhibition must bear a label specifying name and number of exhibits and the registered number of the exhibitor and must be addressed to the Secretary. They must contain a list in duplicate showing the name or description of the article, its price, the place of production or manufacture, name of the manufacturer or exhibitor; in the case of exhibits in the agricultural section, essential particulars should be given, such as—

1. The season of sowing.
2. The soil on which they are grown.
3. The quantity of seed per acre.
4. The manure used.
5. Whether any irrigation is required.
6. The time required for the maturing of the crop.
7. The average yield per acre.
8. Any other interesting details regarding cultivation.

11. Exhibits which have already won prizes.—Exhibits which have won prizes in the previous Mysore Exhibitions shall be precluded from competing for prizes, though there is no objection to their being accepted for purposes of show or sale.

12. Date of delivery of the exhibits.—Intending exhibitors are requested to send the exhibits so as to reach Mysore on the 30th of August 1914, from which date the Committee will arrange to take charge of exhibits, and no exhibits should arrive later than the 5th of September 1914.

13. Belated exhibits.—Articles that are not delivered at the Exhibition Hall in the time fixed, may be admitted at the discretion of the Committee subsequent to the date in paragraph 12; but they shall not find an entry in the official Hand-book if the exhibitors fail to furnish at least the accurate lists of exhibits within the prescribed time.

14. Valuable exhibits.—All valuable exhibits must invariably be forwarded and kept under the charge of an attender.

15. Exhibits unaccompanied by men in charge.—Exhibitors who are unable to attend personally or send their agents in charge of exhibits other than those mentioned in the above rule, may make special arrangements with the Committee for the exhibition of their goods on payment of the estimated expense, but in the meanwhile a minimum sum of Rs. 5 be sent in advance for meeting the expenses connected therewith.

16. Responsibility of exhibitors.—The reception, fitting and removal of spacious and heavy exhibits must be personally supervised in the Exhibition either by the exhibitors or their agents. In default the exhibitor will be bound by the action the Committee may take in respect of such articles.

17. Committee accept no responsibility.—No responsibility for damages or loss howsoever occurring will be accepted by the Committee in respect of any exhibits.

18. Social facilities.—Exhibitors are requested to mention in their applications whether they wish to illustrate practically any process of manufacture or the working of any implement or machinery and, if so, to state briefly the nature of the demonstration and any special facilities they require for mounting their machinery.

The Committee will be glad to give such aid as may be possible in the shape of getting skilled or unskilled manual labour at the exhibitors' expense. The expenses for any special facilities sought for demonstrating machinery and implements should be borne by the exhibitor, except where special arrangements have been made by the Committee.

19. Weighing of exhibits.—The Committee entrust the work of receiving the exhibits to responsible officials. But as the goods are landed near the Exhibition grounds by special arrangements, it is not possible to weigh every consignment before taking delivery of it. So the exhibitors are requested to take every precaution in packing their exhibits and to send to the Committee in time, an accurate list of exhibits sent by them. Exhibitors who wish that their consignment should be weighed at the railway station before delivery should intimate their wish to the Secretary in time and remit in advance a special fee of Re. 1 on each consignment to be thus weighed.

20. Acknowledgment of exhibits.—Receipt of exhibits will be acknowledged by return of the duplicate list mentioned in paragraph 10 to the exhibitors, duly signed by the Secretary. No other kind of receipt or acknowledgment shall be sent.

21. Free pass to exhibitors.—In cases in which the owners themselves are in charge of exhibits, the necessary free pass will be given. Exhibitors and such assistants, servants, or other attendants as they may require for service in their stalls, shall enter the Exhibition grounds through such entrance or entrances as the Committee may direct; they must wear badges, discs or hold passes issued to them before the opening of the Exhibition. All such assistants, servants or other attendants must obey the orders of the Committee and of supervising staff appointed by them.

22. Free admission to bonâ-fide raiyats and artizans.—Raiyats and artizans unable to pay fees, belonging to the Mysore State or from outside, who produce certificates of identification signed by their respective taluk officers in form B appended to this Prospectus, will be admitted free.

23. Space for articles on sale.—Accommodation for articles to be sold by owners will be provided in the sale-rooms erected within the Exhibition grounds, as far as possible, and the following rent will be charged for special accommodation. Sellers may have temporary booths put up at their own cost in the Exhibition grounds by previous arrangements with the Committee :—

		Rs.
1.	Full stall 21′ by 10½′ ...	15
2.	Half stall	8
3.	Quarter stall	5

No refund will be given to an exhibitor who occupies less space than that allotted and paid for and the unoccupied space will be disposed of by the Committee in the way it deems best.

No exhibitor shall assign, transfer, sublet or part with the possession of any site or building or portion thereof allotted to him or dispose of any part or interest therein or place therein any other than his own duly approved exhibits. Any breach of this rule renders the exhibitor liable to have his exhibits removed summarily from the Exhibition and he shall not be entitled to any compensation.

24. Commission.—A commission of six pies in the rupee will be charged on the sales conducted in the sale-rooms by the exhibitors themselves or by their agents.

25. Exhibits for sale.—Exhibits labelled "for sale" will be sold during the time the Exhibition lasts; but no article will be removed till the close of the Exhibition.

26. Commission sales.—A commission of half an anna in the rupee will be levied on all articles sold in the Exhibition stalls and grounds through the salesmen appointed by the Exhibition authorities. In this case the money will be received and remitted to the exhibitor by the Exhibition office.

27. Opening of stalls.—All buildings erected by exhibitors and all sites, stalls, etc occupied by them shall be properly cleaned and opened for the public before the hour of opening each day and shall remain so during the hours of Exhibition and if this is not done to the satisfaction of the Committee, it shall arrange to have everything done at the sole risk and expense of the exhibitor.

28. Removal of exhibits.—All exhibits must be removed within a fortnight after the close of the Exhibition. Exhibits remaining after that time will be disposed of as the Committee deem fit. Perishable articles will be allowed to be removed at the option of the owners or purchasers within 24 hours after the opening of the Exhibition.

29. Exhibits on loan.—Works of art and articles of special merit including those of antiquarian interest will be thankfully received. Gentlemen willing to lend them are requested to place themselves in communication with the Secretary who will inform them of the acceptance of the offer and will make necessary arrangements in connection with the exhibition of articles.

30. Exhibits belonging to Departments of Mysore Government.—Articles or cattle exhibited by any Department of Government will not be eligible for money prizes or medals; but may be awarded certificates of merit. Certificates of merit will also be given to such of the exhibits from private gentlemen as have not been provided for in the prospectus, if they are considered by the judges worthy of the same. (This rule does not preclude Government servants or pupils of industrial schools and institutions, aided by Government from competing for prizes, if the exhibits are manufactured by themselves.)

31. Admission of live-stock.—The time of the year when the owners of cattle are fully engaged in the fields, having been found very unsuitable for a regular cattle show, it has been decided to restrict the show to the fine specimens of local (Mysore district) cattle irrespective of breeds and classes.

32. Accommodation for cattle.—Accommodation will be provided free of cost.

33. Pr ctical test.—Working cattle may, at the owners' option, be subjected to a practical test as to their powers of draught. They must be the bonâ-fide property of the exhibitor.

34. Caretaker.—Each animal or lot competing separately must be in charge of a caretaker who will remain in charge of the exhibit and must be ready to lead it out at any time as required by the Committee.

35. Poultry show.—The poultry must be in charge of the owners or an attendant who will be admitted on the Show days with a free pass. Every endeavour will be made for safe accommodation. The number of each breed that a competitor may bring must be intimated to the Secretary at least four days before the opening day.

36. Poultry appliances.—Prizes will also be awarded for incubators and other poultry appliances.

37. Distribution of awards.—Prizes and medals will be distributed at the close of the Exhibition. This year it is proposed to hold a distribution of prizes in the Exhibition grounds on or about the 5th of October 1914.

38. Number of judges.—The judges in each class or group will not be less than three, but no prizes will be awarded unless, in the opinion of the judges, the exhibits merit the reward. Judges cannot compete for prizes in classes or sections in which they are judges, and the decision of the judges is final.

39. Photograph of articles exhibited.—No articles exhibited may be copied, photographed, drawn or reproduced in any manner without the special permission of the Committee. General photographs of stalls may, however, be taken with the permission of the Committee.

40. Committee's decision final.—The Committee have full power to make rules for the conduct of the Exhibition under these regulations, and their decision is final in all cases.

41. Acceptance of rules.—All persons who become exhibitors shall be held to signify their assent to and acceptance of the foregoing rules and regulations and also such other rules as the Committee may hereafter issue not inconsistent with these regulations.

42. Official hand-book.—An official hand-book of all exhibits with the names and the addresses of the exhibitors and their agent or agents, if any, will be published about the opening day of the Exhibition without any further cost to the exhibitors. It is expected that a large number of people will visit the Exhibition and that many of them will probably purchase the official hand-book which will be sold at two annas a copy. It will be a capital opportunity for advertisers to advertise through the medium of this hand-book. Advertisements will be received for publication in the official hand-book at the following rates:—

	Ordinary paper	Coloured paper
	Rs.	Rs.
Full page	20	25
Half page	12	15
Quarter page	7-8	10

(Special rates of Rs. 30, Rs. 16 and Rs. 12 will be charged for advertisements on the page of the cover for full, half and quarter page, respectively.)

Applications for these advertisements will be received not later than 31st August 1914 and must be accompanied by a remittance in full payment of the amount due for space applied for.

43. Refreshments.—No articles of refreshment, food, drink or tobacco shall be sold on any site, or in any buildings or part thereof in the Exhibition grounds without the written permission of the Committee.

44. Committee's right.—The Committee or any person or persons that they may appoint shall at all times have free access and right of entry to all or any part of the space, site or buildings allotted to exhibitors.

45. Accommodation.—Accommodation for visitors will be arranged in the sheds put up outside the Exhibition building, provided intending visitors apply to the Secretary at least a fortnight before the opening of the Exhibition. A rent of annas six per day, subject to a minimum charge of Rs. 3 for stays less than eight days, will be charged.

46. Entertainments.—The Committee will receive applications for entertainments in the Exhibition grounds. No charges will be levied for space allotted therefor.

47. Post and Telegraph office.—The "Mysore Exhibition Camp" post and telegraph office will be open at the Exhibition from 1st September to 30th November, and all letters, etc., addressed to the Exhibition Camp Office will be delivered earlier than those addressed to Mysore City.

48. Railway concession.—Concession for the carriage of exhibits over the following Railways to the Mysore Dasara Industrial and Agricultural Exhibition, on production of necessary certificates which may be had by applying to the Secretary to the Exhibition, has been granted by the respective Railway authorities:—

1. The South Indian Railway.
2. The Bhavanagar State Railway.
3. The East Indian Railway.
4. The Bombay, Baroda and Central India Railway.
5. The Bengal-Nagpur Railway.
6. The Great Indian Peninsula Railway.
7. The Madras and Southern Mahratta Railway.
8. The Barsi Light Railway.

Besides, the following have also extended the concession to the exhibitors. The period will commence in case of exhibits from 15th August and end on 31st October 1914 and in case of exhibitors from 1st September to 15th October 1914:—

1. The South Indian Railway.
2. The Bhavanagar State Railway.
3. The Bengal-Nagpur Railway.
4. The Great Indian Peninsula Railway.
5. The Madras and Southern Mahratta Railway.

49. Steamer concession.—The Manager of the Irrawadi Flotilla Co., Ltd., Rangoon, has allowed the following concession for exhibits over his steamer:—

All exhibits (goods, parcels, cattle, etc.) will be carried on the outward journey at full traffic rates. On the return journey free, provided that (1) they have not been sold, (2) they are consigned to the station of original despatch, (3) they will be carried at owner's risk, and (4) the usual form of certificate is obtained at the time of original despatch and is tendered duly filled up and signed, on application being made for concession on return journey.

50. Communication regarding the Exhibition.—All communications regarding the Exhibition should be addressed to the Secretary to the Mysore Dasara Industrial and Agricultural Exhibition Committee, Mysore.

C. RANGANATHA RAO SAHIB,
Secretary.

SECTION F.—Miscellaneous.

1. THE WEAVING COMPETITION.

In connection with the Exhibition of 1914 a competition in weaving and its preparatory process will be held in the Exhibition premises, Mysore. The following rules regulating the competition are published for the information of the intending competitors :—

SECTION I.

The competition will commence on Thursday, the 1st of October 1914, and will be continued for three days.

2. Weavers will be required to work for 7 hours a day, from 8 to 11-30 A.M. and from 2 to 5-30 P.M.

3. Any kind of hand-loom may be entered for the competition; but competition among weavers in each class will be among weavers working on the same kind of loom.

This rule does not effect giving loom prizes to any kind of loom that enters into any kind of competition.

4. No prizes or medals will be given to competitors in a certain class, when the number is less than 3. But all bonâ-fide weavers with a piron driver for helping each competitor will be given their third class fare to and fro at concession rates or reasonable cart-hire and an allowance of five annas per day for five days only, if they come and demonstrate any of the operations that are mentioned in the items for competition. Those that desire to utilize this opportunity for weaving extraordinary patterns will have to intimate to the Secretary at least 15 days before the Exhibition commences when the necessary arrangements will be made for the same. Weavers in Mysore City will get only their daily allowance.

5. A man that has once competed in weaving one kind of cloth and won a prize will not be allowed to compete in the same kind of cloth for three years to come, but such competitors may be allowed and given a special prize by the judges if they think that the competitor serves as a model to local weavers. This rule equally holds good in the case of awarding medals and prizes to the looms.

6. Competitors will be allowed to fix the warps on the looms beforehand and to weave a length not exceeding two yards before the competition commences.

7. Under Sub-Committees with the Chief Revenue Officer of the locality as President, competitions in any of the undermentioned tests will be held in the month of August in all the most important weaving centres of the province. There must be at least three competitors in each of the tests. Two prizes of Rs. 10 and Rs. 7 will be awarded in each centre. The first of the competitor in each of the tests will be required to compete in Mysore at the time of Dasara.

8. A competitor can compete in any one of the following tests (a to d):—

The Manager of a factory or a school may send one or more weavers to compete for one or more tests.

The following are the tests for the competition of this year:—

(a) To weave a cloth, 54 inches wide (having half-an-inch silk-border), with 30's warp, 52 ends per inch and 30's weft, of 48 picks per inch. Prize—Rs. 10 and Rs. 8 for each set of competitors.

(b) To weave a cloth, 54 inches wide (having one-fourth of an inch silk-border), with 40's warp, 60 ends per inch and 40's weft, of 52 picks per inch. Prize—Rs. 12 and Rs. 9 for each set of competitors.

(c) To weave a cloth, 54 inches wide (having one-fourth of an inch silk-border), with 60's warp, 72 ends per inch and 60's weft, 72 picks per inch. Prize—Rs. 14 and Rs. 10.

(d) To weave a cloth, 45 inches wide, with 100's warp, 80 ends per inch and 120's weft, 80 picks per inch. The border is to be of lace and silk of any pattern (specially rudrakshi, peacock, weaving, etc.) left to the option of the competitor. Prize—Rs. 15 and Rs. 12.

(e) To weave a magutam, 54 inches wide, with red, yellow or bleached country twisted silk of about 80 counts. The border must be of lace of about one-fourth of an inch. It is sufficient if the competitors use reeds of about 40 dents and weave about 80 picks to an inch. Prize—Rs. 15 and Rs. 12.

In (a), (b) and (c) the cross borders must be of silk and in (d) and (e) they must be of lace.

The authorities may allow any other tests, provided there are sufficient number of competitors.

9. The competitors will purchase warps except silk from the Exhibition authorities and use them alone for competition and the competitors must bring in their own wefts.

Intending competitors should inform the Secretary at least 15 days before the competition commences. The local weavers will get their daily allowances only. All competitors must bring their own pirons.

10. In awarding prizes to the weavers the judges will note the following points:—

The work done—

(1) The length of the cloth woven during the whole period.

(2) Uniformity of picking and adhesion to specification.

(3) Freedom from broken ends.

(4) Clean edges, etc.

11. A gold and silver medal will be awarded to the best looms as first and second prizes.

In judging the looms the judges will consider in addition—

(a) Adaptability of the loom:—

(1) Whether the loom is suited for weaving different kinds of cloth using different kinds of yarn.

(2) Whether the loom can be worked profitably by weavers in their houses or is only useful for factory work.

(b) Mechanism of the loom:—

(1) Soundness and proper proportion of its parts.

(2) Simplicity in mechanism so as to be capable of being easily repaired when out of order.

(3) The position in which the weaver has to hold his body while working and the ease with which he can work the loom.

A loom that was once awarded a medal will not get it a second time.

WEAVING AND PREPARATORY PROCESS.

Tests in the following four classes are open to boys under 18 years and women of any age. Of the two prizes one will be among boys and the other among women:—

1. Simple processes of making long warps and sizing them economically and usefully.

2. Simple adaptation of English Dobby for hand-loom work.

3. Of any new mechanism likely to improve or increase the quality of the outturn such as new patterns of automatic take-up motion, etc.

4. Spinning.—Any kind of spinning appliance may be used. Wool to be spun will be supplied at the time of the competition at the cost of the competitors. The thickness of the yarn and the quantity to be spun and the time to be taken will be decided by the judges. Prize—Rs. 10 and Rs. 7.

5. Warping and sizing—

(a) Open only for females.

To make 40's warp, 10 yards long and to size it. Prize—Rs. 10 and Rs. 7.

(b) Open for males and females.

To make 60's warp, 40 yards long and to size them. Prize—Rs. 15 and Rs. 10.

The prizes will be awarded for the best-sized warp. The time to be allowed for work, the quantity of yarn to be warped and the test to be adopted for judging the work will be decided by the judges. Yarn for warping and sizing will be supplied at the cost of the competitors at the time of the competition.

6. Competitors will fit up their own looms in the ground allotted and get everything ready for competition.

7. Intending competitors must send their application in the prescribed form, so as to reach the Secretary at Mysore on or before the 25th of September 1914 at the latest.

C. RANGANATHA RAO SAHIB,
Secretary.

2. PLOUGHING COMPETITION.

In the prize-list published with the Prospectus, a sum of Rs. 50 has been allotted for the ploughing competition. The following particulars regarding the award of prizes are published for information:—

Indigenous and imported implements of all kinds will be admitted, the different classes of implements being allowed to compete separately—

1. Ploughing.—Each competitor will be required to plough completely one plot of red loamy soil measuring four gunthas in an hour and-a-half.
2. Ridging.—To ridge up completely a three-guntha plot in an hour and-a-half.
3. Harrowing.—A four-guntha plot will have to be harrowed in twenty minutes.
4. Sowing.—A four-guntha plot to be sown in twenty minutes with a seed-drill.
5. (a) Thrashing.—A given quantity of a given kind of crop to be thrashed by cattle, stone-mills, or power machines.
   (b) Winnowing.—By machines of different kinds.

The number and value of prizes to be awarded will be fixed after applications for the entries are received and the various kinds of implements and machinery competing are known, and the present provision of Rs. 50 will be increased, if necessary. The competition will be held on the 3rd of October 1914.

Those who wish to enter for these competitions are requested to submit their applications in the accompanying form through the Amildar/Tahsildar of their taluk so as to reach the undersigned not later than the 25th of September 1914, at Mysore.

C. RANGANATHA RAO SAHIB,
Secretary.

WOMEN'S SECTION.

SYLLABUS, 1914.

The first aim of this section is to bring into touch with each other women who having themselves learnt the value of new occupations and interests are anxious to hand on this knowledge to others. Plain or fancy needle-work, lace-making, basket-making, knitting, all these are occupations enjoyed by a large number of women and girls in India, but there remain a still large number who have neither seen nor heard about them. To interest these it is important to collect for exhibition the best that is done in all branches of women's work, and it is only the best in each section of the work that can be encouraged by the award of medals and prizes.

This is one of the most difficult things to impress upon intending exhibitors. It is not any kind of work that can be accepted. Certain groups are selected in the syllabus and only the really good work sent in under each group is likely to be admitted. To understand the importance of sending in only the best work, the following rules should be carefully studied and conscientiously carried out:—

1. In needle-work the best materials that can be procured should alone be used: it is waste of time to put good work on to poor material which will neither wear nor wash.

2. One neatly stitched, well finished off exhibit is more likely to win a prize than a large bundle of carelessly done work; no amount of trimming will improve a badly-made article.

3. Moth-eaten, faded, torn or dirty work cannot be accepted.

4. Exhibits which have already won prizes in previous Exhibitions cannot compete. They will be accepted as "Loan Exhibits" or exhibited for sale, if space permits.

5. No work will be accepted that does not come under one or other groups in the syllabus. Space in the Exhibition being limited, there can be no exception to this rule.

6. None but genuine women's or children's work will be allowed to compete for prizes in this section.

With regard to this year's syllabus, it was at first suggested that to appeal more strongly to Indian ladies we should restrict the work to that of Indian use and design; but since European needle-work is yearly becoming an important source of income to Indian women, we felt the same object might better be served by making the classes more distinct and by increasing the prizes. Only lace machine work and crochet have been omitted from the syllabus and these not in the children's group.

It is hoped that the improved standard of last year's work will be maintained and that Indian ladies will contribute in far greater numbers than heretofore. We should also urge any ladies interested in children's work to make this Exhibition known as widely as possible, as the number of exhibits sent in by children last year was most disappointing.

DISTRICT REPORTS ON WEATHER AND CROPS

For the week ending on the 31st August 1914.

Summary.—During the week under report general rain fell throughout the province facilitating agricultural operations and doing immense good to the standing crops. Harvesting of jute is going on, but its progress is somewhat slow on account of the dull market. The condition and prospects of the standing crops are fairly good. Damage to jute from insect pests continues to be reported from Murshidabad. Cattle-disease is reported from thirteen districts. The average price of common rice has fallen by about 0·8 per cent. as compared with that of the previous week.

POLITICAL DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 7814P.—The 8th September 1914.—In exercise of the powers conferred by section 12, sub-section (1), of the Indian Press Act, 1910 (I of 1910), the Governor in Council hereby declares all copies, wherever found, of the printed leaflet in the Bengali language headed "Om Bande Mataram. Yugantar! Yugantar!! Yugantar!!! Tora sabai manush ha." (All ye become men), and commencing with the words "Yada Yada hi dharmasya glani bhavati Bharata abhyutthanam adharmasya, &c.," (Oh Bharata! When the Dharma is on the decline and unrighteousness is in the ascendant, &c.), and ending with the words "Ai shona adesh—uttisthata, Jagrata. Prapya Baran nibodhata. Bhadra—1321" (Hark the order :—Awake, arise, receiving boon be enlightened. Bhadra 1321), to be forfeited to His Majesty on the grounds that the said leaflet contains exhortations to rebel against the British Government and to commit murder, and it appears to the Governor in Council that the said leaflet contains words which are likely to incite to acts of violence and to excite disaffection towards the Government established by law in British India.
